

MRS. M. M. NORMAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

A resident of Santa Ana for the past 17 years, Mrs. Minnie M. Norman, 52 of 945 West Highland avenue, died yesterday at Santa Ana Valley hospital after a brief illness. Mrs. Norman was a native of Bennington, Kan. She is survived by the husband, Clarence M. Norman, two daughters, Mrs. Neva Weekly, Long Beach and Mrs. Wanda Watson, Alhambra; one son, Max Norman, Santa Ana; the mother, Mrs. Alice Morse, Santa Ana; a sister, Mrs. Ethel Boster, Bennington, Kan.; three brothers, John and Vernon Morse, both of Santa Ana and Elmer Morse, Garden Grove.

Funeral announcement will be made later by Brown and Wagner mortuary.

Relatives Are Entertained

OCEANVIEW, Feb. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bose have entertained two groups of relatives this week. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bose and their son, Wesley Bose, who are visitors from Nebraska, were taken on a trip to Catalina for a day, the glass bottomed boat trip at the island also being a feature of unusual interest to the visitors who are in the state for the first time.

A dinner party entertained another day for a great aunt of Mrs. Bose, Mrs. Floy Saladen of Los Angeles, who was accompanied here by her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Roy Whitacker and Donna Whitacker. Included in the reunion party were Mrs. Bose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carpenter, who are but recent arrivals here from Nebraska, and Mr. and Mrs. Bose and their daughters.

Boy Scouts To Attend Church

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 10.—Observing National Boy Scout week, members of the harbor area troops are to attend morning services in a body Sunday at Christ Church by the Sea. The uniformed group will march to the church services at which the Rev. William R. Hessel will preach on "The Master Scout."

A special peace program has been scheduled for the evening services and special music will be included with the service.

J. W. Wilbur of Anaheim, Y. M. C. A. field secretary, will be the speaker at the father and son banquet scheduled for the evening of February 17 at the church. A 6:30 o'clock dinner will be served by members of the Woman's Aid of the church.

Methodist Church Office Looted

The First Methodist church office was burglarized Wednesday or yesterday, according to report of church officials to police, but the burglar obtained only 25 cents in cash. Nothing else appeared to be gone. Entrance was gained by use of a pass key and a desk drawer was forced open by a chisel, investigation showed.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

Harold Loeffler, Palo Alto, and Glenn Wiley, Irvine, were fined $10 each for speeding when their cases came to the attention of City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday. Alberta B. Dexter, Santa Ana, was fined $5 for boulevard stop violation and a Santa Ana boy juvenile was certified to juvenile court for speeding.

CHANNEL SELECTED AS RACING COURSE

LIDO ISLE, Feb. 10.—The county channel of Lido Isle has been selected as the course for the high speed "460" racing craft scheduled to compete here February 19. Seventy-two miles per hour is the world's record for the class. Hours of racing will be from 1 to 5 p. m. Permit for the races granted by the city council specified that the craft must keep to the marked course and designated racing hours.

Two heats of three laps will be included for racing craft of the 225 cubic inch inboard speedboat class. Fifteen entries have been received for the 135 cubic inch class. The event, originally planned to feature the Gold Cup racers which performed here the past November, was changed to include the other type boats. In conjunction with the Los Angeles speed boat association, harbor merchants are sponsoring the event.

Bridge Club Is Entertained

TUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Using a pink and white color theme in various appointments, Miss Marjorie Rawlings entertained her bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Lemon Heights.

A one o'clock dessert course, carrying out the Valentine motif, was served at a table centered with red ranunculus with white candles in red crystal holders on either end of the table. Place cards were valentines. Mrs. Fred Cox and Mrs. J. Worth Alexander were admitted into membership of the club. Prizes for first and second high scores in the afternoon's contest were awarded to Mrs. Vincent Humeston and Mrs. J. Arthur Smith.

J. A. Parsons, Race Horse Owner, Succumbs To Injuries In Mishap

Victim of an automobile collision near La Habra January 8, James A. Parsons, 62, widely known owner of race horses, passed away in a Pasadena hospital yesterday.

An inquest in Parsons' death was scheduled for the Cabot mortuary in Pasadena this afternoon, with Highway Patrol Officers John H. Turton and E. G. Sawyer, who investigated the accident, called as witnesses.

Others Injured
The driver of the other car, Alfonso L. Valles, 26, of 679 South Eighth street, Colton, who was arrested on a charge of felony drunk driving, was scheduled to appear in superior court last Wednesday, but the trial was postponed until March 13.

Others injured in the crash, which occurred on a curve on Whittier boulevard a quarter of a mile north of Central avenue, La Habra, were Mrs. Nellie P. Parsons, 57, wife of the noted sportsman; Estella Valles, 25, wife of the accused driver; Alfonso L. Valles, 26, also of Colton, and Alice Herrera, 26, of Los Angeles.

Father of Daisy Parsons
Parsons suffered head and other injuries. With other victims of the collision he was treated in La Habra and later taken to a Pasadena hospital.

Parsons was the father of Daisy Parsons, prominent horsewoman and father-in-law of Jockey Harry Richards. Among horses he had owned was Seth's Hope, which won 74 races before being retired to his San Ysidro breeding farm.

ACCUSATION MAY BE MORE SERIOUS

Alfonso L. Valles, former Santa Ana, who had his trial on a drunk driving charge postponed last Wednesday in superior court, may not now have the chance to face so lenient a charge, it was learned today following the death of James A. Parsons, prominent horseman from Nester, who was a victim of the traffic accident which resulted in prosecution of Valles.

Because Mrs. Valles is in a hospital and unable to attend court, Valles' counsel obtained postponement of the drunk driving trial last Wednesday to March 13. The death of Parsons yesterday may change the charge against Valles from drunk driving to manslaughter, Deputy District Attorney Martell Thompson stated today. No definite decision on this point has been made, however, Thompson said.

SHERIFF RAPS PATROL INFLUX

The influx of merchant patrolmen from Los Angeles county to the western areas of Orange county to urge ranchers to spend their money "for our outstanding protection" does not have the approval of Sheriff Jesse L. Elliott, he said today emphatically.

"In some instances, it has been reported to my office, these special officers from Long Beach Los Angeles have used 'high pressure' methods in seeking to offer their patrol service to ranchers," the sheriff said.

Tells of Charges

"Some have agreed to patrol the ranches three or four times each night for $3 to $5 per month and after the money has been paid, the protection has not been given properly, according to reports. My office will give every protection possible to all ranchers in the county and I feel that the ranchers might possibly be imposed upon by these merchant patrolmen from outside of the county."

The sheriff was informed the merchant patrolmen have been seeking business in the Bolsa, Midway City, Buena Park and Los Alamitos districts recently.

WILLIAM HOLDITCH CALLED BY DEATH

William J. F. Holditch, 57, resident of Villa Park since 1903, died last night at his ranch home of a heart attack. He had gone to the annual meeting of the Villa Park Orchards' association in the afternoon and seemed in his usual health.

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Gillogly funeral home, Orange, and are to be conducted by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay of the Orange Presbyterian church.

Survivors are three brothers and three sisters, Bronson, of Villa Park; George, of Placentia; John, of Palm Springs; Miss Margaret Holditch, of the home; Mrs. W. A. Knuth, Villa Park, and Mrs. George Carriker.

SEEK TO BALK INTRODUCTION OF BILLS WITH "NO MERITS"

Criticism of the present system of legislation which permits the introduction of all kinds of bills regardless of their merit or necessity was offered at the Garden Grove Farm center meeting at the Woman's clubhouse last night following a talk by Senator Harry Westover of Santa Ana.

Westover spoke on the procedure of introducing measures and the origin of some of the measures introduced. The "Santa Claus" bill which he introduced and for which he was criticized was requested by a number of members of such leading organizations as the W. C. T. U. and P. T. A., Westover said.

Many Voice Protest

Speakers who criticized the system of introducing any and all kinds of bills included C. W. Musser, Jack Crill and H. C. Kellogg. Westover polled the members present on their attitude on a number of measures now before the state legislature.

According to a communication read by C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, from O. A. Smith, president of the Pacific Electric railway, "The Pacific Electric is not going to abandon service to Garden Grove industries." The state railroad commission is now making a study of the line between Santa Ana and Los Angeles and will make a recommendation soon, it was indicated.

The matter came up in connection with a discussion of agitation for the removal of the P. E. tracks between the two cities. A. L. Wolfert, of Hansen Station, told of flood conditions.

which he said are caused by the use of introducing measures and the origin of some of the measures introduced. The "Santa Claus" bill which he introduced and for which he was criticized was requested by a number of members of such leading organizations as the W. C. T. U. and P. T. A., Westover said.

Henry D. Green, representative of the American Fruit and Produce Auction association, showed films of auctions in the east. A play was presented by Garden Grove High school students under the direction of Don Jordan.

ECHOLS LEAVES FOR TRAINING

Announcement was made today that First Lieutenant Leonard E. Echols, California National Guard, will leave tomorrow for training at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia. Echols will start his training Feb. 27 and will finish May 27.

Echols' appointment to the training school was authorized by Secretary of War Woodring on recommendation of Major Donald L. Winans, battalion commander and State Senator Col. Ray W. Hayes of Fresno.

Rink in Command
Lieutenant Emmet A. Rink will take over Echols' command of Company L, 185th Infantry, Santa Ana's rifle company.

Fort Benning, in addition to being the post of two regiments of Regular Army Infantry, is the home of the United States Infantry School and the trial ground for all new weapons, equipment and experiments before they are adopted by the Infantry arm of the service. The officer's course is an intensive study of modern weapons and tactics.

350 LEGIONNAIRES, GUESTS PRESENT FOR SPECIAL FETE

One of the most unusual and highly entertaining meetings of the Santa Ana American Legion post held in recent years was afforded more than 350 members and guests last night at the legion hall when an "old time" army mess was served.

All of the traditional aspects of a war-time meal were preserved, with members getting their food in a "chow" line on tin plates and the traditional navy beans, corned "willy," boiled potatoes and canned peaches making up the menu.

Honor Guests
Following the dinner Ray Smith reported on national defense activity and William Dunn, commander of the Imperial Valley district, was presented. Captain Henry Meehan and Police Chief Floyd Howard were honored guests for the occasion. Ten acts of professional vaudeville were presented as entertainment. George Kellogg was general chairman of the affair, assisted by H. R. Brinkerhoff, Elmer Sullivan, Jack Miller and Clay Minnix.

MARSHMALLOWS come to the aid of the party

By Julia Lee Wright

Director, Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

Marshmallows are grand eating--yes. But did you know they make clever table favors too? Here's how.

Valentine Cupid—Stick a marshmallow on each end of a 2-1/2 inch pipe cleaner inside cellophane sipper. Draw face with ink, glue on tufts of cotton for hair. Glue 2 tiny hearts to short lengths of pipe cleaner for wings. Glue 2 bigger hearts to front and back of stem with silver arrow cut in two and glued to front.

George Washington—Stick a marshmallow on each end of a 2-1/2 inch pipe cleaner inside cellophane sipper. Cut tricorne hat and uniform of blue paper, use red hearts for buttons. Glue cotton on head for hair, draw face with ink.

And the party dishes you can concoct with these toothsome morsels! Icebox desserts, rich sauces, frostings for cakes, meringues for pies.

The marshmallows I prefer are the kind my Safeway grocer carries -- Fluff-i-est. They're always fresh and tender, the real melt-in-your-mouth kind. Because Fluff-i-est are made a special way! They're fresh when you buy them. They stay fresh longer in your pantry.

"Party Magic" tells you how to make marshmallow favors for all February parties. Send name, address and 10¢ to Julia Lee Wright, Box 660-M, Oakland, Calif.

JUDGE LEONARD OF NEWPORT PASSES

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 10.—Following an illness of several weeks, City Judge W. A. Leonard died late yesterday afternoon at the family home, 301 Alvarado place, Balboa. A resident of Newport Beach since 1922 when he came here from Silver City, New Mexico, the deceased was past 82 years of age. He was on the bench since 1926 when he succeeded Judge Byron Hall.

His many activities included the newspaper business at Ely, Nev. He was active in the settlement of that mining region and in the country around Silver City.

Funeral services will be arranged with the arrival of a son, Curtis Leonard, now at Berkeley. Also surviving are the widow, Mrs. Nannie Leonard, and a son, Morgan Leonard.

FRESNO VISITORS

TUSTIN, Feb. 10.—John Rockefeller and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Baker, of Fresno, who are spending several days visiting with Mrs. Rockefeller's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crawford, were feted at a delightful dinner party given recently by Mrs. Maude Wiley at her home, 810 French street, Santa Ana.

SILVERADO

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Folwell and Mrs. Cora Mulhern were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Mulhern's niece, Mrs. William Smith, in Shady Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Mitchell of Shady Brook recently were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kelson, Miss Lucille Tysseling and Miss Iris Crawford of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holtz, and children, Misses Margaret and Agnes Holtz, and Andrew, of Silverado, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Holtz's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alban Holtz, in Huntington Beach. Mrs. Alban Holtz will be remembered as Bernadine Bastian of Anaheim, until her marriage a few months ago. Mrs. Gertrude Young and son, Lee Young of Orange, called at the Holtz home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hasenjaeger of Shady Brook entertained out of state friends at their home Sunday. J. S. "Mac" McLean of Seal Beach and Shady Brook is reported seriously ill, at a Long Beach hospital. He is said to be suffering from a ruptured appendix.

On Oct. 1, 1938, the baggage allowance on all of the domestic airlines was increased from 35 to 40 pounds which will be carried without additional charge.

Pioneer Club Is Organized

FULLERTON, Feb. 10.—Organization of a new Pioneer club under auspices of the North Orange county Y. M. C. A. was completed Monday night by Arch Raitt, district secretary, when the "Trail Blazers" elected officers at the First Methodist church. Bill Jones was named as chief ranger; Lloyd Hodge, deputy ranger; Bob Bryan, recorder, and Kenneth King, treasurer. Other charter members of the club are Billy Spencer, Maurice Schumaker and Voryle Hodge. Club leaders are Raymond Stone and Boyd Ainsworth.

New Hope Held Out For Citrus Growers In Use Of By-Products

Envisioning a lucrative and revolutionary field for products made from citrus fruits, Milton Chapman, manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange By-Products factory, addressed more than 400 members and guests of the Villa Parks Orchards association yesterday afternoon at the association plant. The occasion was the annual meeting of the association.

Chapman held out a new hope for increased profits from by-products of oranges. He said that even now everything from baby food to material used in tempering steel in huge steel plants is being made from citrus fruits.

Tells of Research
He foresaw that before long some materials would be developed from citrus by-products that would revolutionize the citrus industry as much as cellophane has the sugar industry.

Calling attention to the extensive and intensive research being carried on at the Exchange by-products plant, Chapman said that peetin injected in the veins has been used successfully to stop bleeding that would have been fatal. This is a new medicinal use for a citrus by-product, he said. It has been proven, he said, that 10 drops of oil of lemon or oil of orange would cure the most stubborn case of arthritis.

Hits At M.O.D.
Another speaker on the program was LeRoy Lyons, director on the Exchange board. Lyons charged that the Mutual Orange Distributors, second largest growers' cooperative marketing organization, has joined with independent marketing groups in an effort to break down the shipping of citrus fruits by prorate. He said the central sales organization of the M.O.D. is working definitely against the prorate, which is held by the Sunkist group to be the only sensible way of marketing fruit.

Records show, Lyons said, that while the California Fruit Growers Exchange made every effort to maintain an orderly marketing program by prorating oranges to the nation's markets, the pressure exerted by the M.O.D. and the independents forced shipment of from 400 to 500 more cars of oranges a week than the market would stand without damage to the price structure.

Increased Production
C. E. Skiles, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, outlined the greatly increased production in oranges in recent years. Joe Adams, field man for the Exchange, who has spent six months in the New York auction markets inspecting cars of oranges, said it would take one unfamiliar with the auction markets a year of concentrated study to understand the system. He praised the auction market method of selling citrus fruits.

Harry L. Tritt, Villa Park orange grower, read a humorous poem regarding the tribulations of a citrus rancher, received with great hilarity by those present.

Manager H. D. Nichols, of the Villa Park association, gave his annual report and acted as host at the dinner.

Five directors were re-elected at the annual election, held in conjunction with the meeting. They were A. N. Sexton, W. A. Knuth, H. T. Brewer, Willard Smith and C. A. Watson. The tellers' report was given by L. A. Stevenson.

S. A. Man Sells Magazine Cartoon
Friends of Burr Shafer well-known Santa Ana, today revealed that Shafer had sold his first cartoon to the Saturday Evening Post and yesterday received payment for the cartoon.

At the same time it was pointed out that publications of the type of the Saturday Evening Post purchase cartoons several months in advance of the publication date and in some instances may not even publish them at any time.

"I don't expect to have the cartoon printed before early summer," Shafer said. Shafer has been active in the photographic field and in the work of the Santa Ana Community Players as well as his cartoon work.

Police News

Nolan Mathias, Yorba Linda, lost his 1939 license plates, number 9-X-3368, to thieves who used a screw-driver in removing them from his car, parked near a La Habra cafe, last night, while P. W. Van Doran, Anaheim, reported he lost four hub caps at the same time and place. Sheriff's officers are investigating.

Police throughout Southern California are seeking an alleged check forger who wrote his name "L. G. Clark" when he passed the check, on the Southern Counties bank, Buena Park branch, to George Reimer, liquor store clerk, Buena Park. Reimer reported his loss to the sheriff's men. The check passer is described as 35 years old, weighing 160 pounds, being five feet, eight inches tall, having grey-blue eyes, sandy hair and being of slender build.

A 17-year-old Huntington Beach boy was booked at county jail yesterday afternoon on a burglary count. He will be prosecuted by juvenile authorities.

Two men still on probation from previous offenses and prohibited from driving, were arrested by sheriff's officers last night on drunk driving and drunk charges, records show. They are Clyde H. Redford, 34, Long Beach and Howard R. Moore, 28, Los Angeles. Both face prosecution on charges of probation violation, drunk driving and being drunk.

Burglars who smashed a window at the Union service station, Olive, last night, and entered the office found the tires they wanted were chained fast to the building. Nothing apparently was stolen, according to reports to sheriff's officers.

It is reported that the first horseless carriage race was held in 1895. The course was 54 miles long and the winner traveled about 7 1/2 miles an hour.

ACCIDENTS LEAD TO COUNTY SUITS

Three December traffic accidents had legal repercussions in superior court here today with the filing of as many damage complaints by injured participants.
Nellie Malkos asked $10,322.50 in a suit filed against Albert E. Marks, as the result of a collision at Seal Beach December 12.
Mrs. Jennie Penn sued for $3028, and F. B. Thomas asked $60 for damages to his car, in connection with a crash on Telegraph road, at Chadsey drive, Los Angeles county. Gertrude Mattinson and Robert Duvall were named defendants.
Ethel Baker Callis sued for $10,000, and Dr. Virgin Leroy Cameron, driver of the car in which she was riding, asked $6805.56, in a suit against R. A. Rasmussen, Hans Madsen, Everett E. Nuttall and Ruby Nuttall. The Rasmussen and Nuttall cars collided on the Ridge road, near Grapevine, December 26, this causing the Nuttall car to strike the car of Dr. Cameron, according to the complaint filed.

Judge Finds Another Judge "Guilty" In Case

One judge found another judge "guilty" today in Santa Ana justice court when the case of "James L. Allen vs. E. D. Holton" was heard by Justice Howard C. Cameron.
Superior Court Judge Allen was found "guilty" of failing to use due caution at 17th street and Broadway recently when his car and that of Holton collided. But Holton, too, was found "guilty" of the same offense, for Judge Allen's car damage claim for $18 against Holton and Holton's counter-claim against Judge Allen for $10 both were denied by Justice Cameron.
Judge Allen, who appeared in person, said he made a boulevard stop at the intersection, then proceeded into the intersection where the accident occurred. Testimony, however, showed that Judge Allen's car "leaped forward" too suddenly after the stop was made and Holton, Santa Ana resident, was driving too fast through the intersection.
Tommy Henrich, Yankee outfielder and an accomplished pianist, never misses a Carnegie Hall concert when the club is in New York.

TELLS OF STATEMENTS

They were told, they allege, that the paper received from 35 to 42 cents per inch for its advertising, that there were no trade accounts, that the circulation was 600, that no shopping news from nearby towns invaded the field, and that the paper had no outstanding debts.
All of this was untrue, they now claim. Not more than a fourth of the advertising commanded the rates represented, circulation was only 391, shopping news from Long Beach and Anaheim were circulated there, as well as once-a-week free distribution of the Santa Ana Journal; 40 per cent of the business was in trade, and there were numerous debts outstanding, the complaint asserts.

Rejuvenated GOP Makes Ready To Celebrate November Victories

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(UP)—The politically rejuvenated Republican party was ready today for a week-end of Lincoln Day celebration of November election successes and the prospect of another Democratic purge.
Republican leaders believe their political future was better today than at any time since the 1928 election which put Herbert C. Hoover in the White House.
The critical and unfriendly Republican estimate of today's political situation was that President Roosevelt and conservative Democratic politicians are likely to damage their party materially in a contest for control of the 1940 national convention. G. O. P. leaders judged the first month of the new Congress to have demonstrated that the New Deal has lost control of both House and Senate.

Point to Purge
Most of all Republicans were intrigued by the possibilities of the charge made this week by Sen. Carter Glass, D., Va., that Mr. Roosevelt was party to a plan to defeat Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D., Va., in next year's Democratic primary in Virginia.
The administration's 1938 attempt to defeat conservative senators was a notable failure. That experience divided the party and left many Senators gun-shy.
Results of the November election are variously interpreted. Mr. Roosevelt has told callers that he believed Democratic reverses largely should be attributed to local issues. Some of his fellow Democrats do not agree with him and Postmaster General James A. Farley has circulated local leaders with inquiry for their interpretation of what hit the Democratic party in November, 1938.

Lincoln Day dinners will begin in a scattering of communities tomorrow night. But the big broadcast will be from New York Monday evening. Mr. Hoover will preside and there will be an exhibition of new Republican brigade commanders, some of whom certainly are in the running for 1940. They include District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, Gov. Raymond Baldwin, Conn.; Gov. Leverett Saltonstall, Mass.; Gov. Julius P. Heil, Wis.; Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, Mich.; and Gov. Ralph Carr, Colo.

Cardinals To Elect New Pope

his 82nd birthday this spring, suffered an attack of cardiac asthma in his library Monday afternoon while reading telegrams from all over the world congratulating him on the anniversary of the historic Lateran treaty and of his own enthronement.
A cold developed. It was made known next morning that his condition was causing some anxiety. None knew, though, that this time the Pope's amazing vitality would fail him. Not only he, but his physicians, believed that he would be able to attend the celebrations this week end.

Yesterday it became apparent that his condition was urgently grave.
Dr. Giovanni Rocchi called in Dr. Bianchi Cesa. Three days of prayer were ordered for the Pope's recovery. It was announced late in the afternoon that there was a general weakening of his condition. The influenza had become worse and fever was noted.

Then came a severe attack of cardiac asthma which lasted 40 minutes. The Pope fainted several times. Two physicians remained at his bedside and two male nurses were called. To the astonishment of everyone, the Pope began to rally, as he had done so often before.

Prof. Achille Bonanome, a kidney specialist, was called at 9 p. m. The Pope was resting easily. The two regular physicians made arrangements to spend the night at his bedside, confident that he had fought off another threat to his life.

During the evening, churches in Rome and all parts of the world were well filled with people praying for the Pope's recovery. There was an atmosphere of tension inside the Vatican and many of the attendants were reluctant to go to bed. More than 200 Italian bishops, summoned for the week-end celebrations, and more than 40 cardinals, were among those who worried and prayed.

End Near
The Pope's condition became suddenly desperate about 4 a. m. He had been resting satisfactorily, with Dr. Rocchi beside him. The Pope began to mutter unintelligibly. Dr. Rocchi started from his chair. He saw that the end was near. He at once injected camphor in an effort to strengthen the fluttering heart.

Then he called the Pope's private secretaries.
A few minutes later a United Press correspondent standing in the windswept courtyard of the Vatican saw a member of the papal household emerge from the Pope's private apartments and run toward the governors building, where Prof. Amintore Milani, for years the Pope's private physician, was ill with influenza.

Prof. Milani dressed hastily. Then he and Count Franco Ratti, the Pope's favorite nephew, who had been summoned, could be seen crossing the yard to the private apartments.

Officials Arrive
High church officials began arriving, including Cardinal Pacelli, the secretary of state, archbishop of the Vatican basilica and camerlengo of the church.
The Pope entered his death agony at 5 a. m.

A few minutes before the Pope had been able to enunciate his last protest against death, that he had so much work to do.
Monsignor Alfonso Camillo De Romanis, Sacrist of Vatican City, arrived at 5:10 a. m. and administered extreme unction.

Cardinal Lauri, the Pope's private confessor, had been called. But the minutes passed and it was evident the end was near. With the amazing fortitude which was the inheritance of years as a mountain climber in his youth, the Pope rallied again, and murmured "peace."

The Pope kept murmuring in Latin, praying in his last agony. Cardinals, physicians, nurses, prelates and members of the household, along with the Pope's nephew, were now in the bedroom, all watching the venerable man to whom no mortal now could give aid.

Last Benediction
As they watched, his right hand, lying just on the edge of the coverlet, moved feebly. Those in the bedroom gazed fascinated as his hand rose, trembling, an inch, then two inches from the covers and made, slowly and weakly, the sign of the cross, imparting the last apostolic benediction of his nearly 17 year reign as the 261st head of the Roman Catholic church. Thirty seconds later his head inclined gently toward the right side of his pillow. His face relaxed and he died.

One by one, those in the bedroom dropped to their knees and made the sign of the cross. Prof. Milani, the physician who had attended him so long and was kept from the bedside until the last moment by his own illness, burst into tears.

The Pope's hands were crossed on his breast, folded over a crucifix. From the one painting in the room, St. Theresa of the Child Jesus look down upon the Pope's face. The Pope had specially venerated St. Theresa, and prayed to her for health. A white veil was laid over his face.

Cardinal Pacelli left the room and returned in his vestments of deep violet red, the color of mourning. He approached the bed and tenderly removed the veil. An attendant handed him a silver mallet. He leaned over and tapped the Pope's forehead with the mallet.

Pronounced Dead
"Achille!" he called softly—the Pope's baptismal name. Twice he repeated it. Each time tapping the Pope's forehead, then he stepped back and said: "Verily, the Pope is dead."

Thus passed Achille Ratti, born at Desio, Italy, May 31, 1857, made Archbishop of Milan and Cardinal June 16, 1921; elected Pope Feb. 6, 1922, as successor to Benedict XV, crowned Feb. 12, 1922, who became His Holiness, the Pope, Bishop of Rome and Vicar of Jesus Christ, Successor of St. Peter, Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Roman Province, Sovereign of Vatican City.

As Cardinal Pacelli, not acting head of the church, pronounced his faithful words, those in the inner bedroom: and the outer chamber knelt and joined in reciting the De Profundis.

Ring Removed
The Papal Chamberlain removed the ring of Peter the Fisherman from the Pope's hands and gave it to Cardinal Pacelli, who put it in a red bag for safe-keeping until the first session of the College of Cardinals, when it will be broken up to signify the cessation of the temporal power of the dead Pope.

The cardinal chief of the chancery took the matrix with which the Pope's official pronouncements, or bulls, are sealed and destroyed it as a sign of his death.

The apostolic protonotary advanced to the center of the room and read the official act attesting the Pope's death and the identification of the body.

The Holy Name Society of St. Joseph and St. Ann's parishes will receive Holy Communion at the 7 and 8 o'clock masses respectively on Sunday. According to Ogdene Markel, secretary of the society in Southern Orange county, all of the men, members or not, are urged to join in the reception of Holy Communion and to offer the same for the repose of the soul of Pope Pius 11th.

fore electing Pope Pius XI caused that pontiff to promise that upon his death, the election of a successor would be delayed 15 or 18 days, instead of the former 10 days.

Plan Services
Cardinal O'Connell, dean of the United States hierarchy, is 79. Cardinal Dougherty is 73 and Cardinal Mundelein 66. There were four American cardinals prior to the death of Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Archbishop of New York, last Sept. 4. Although the three survivors all rank among the first 10 of the 49 cardinals priests in the Sacred College, the ranking being based on priority of their creation as cardinals, Cardinal O'Connell has been especially influential in church affairs.

Special services will be held Sunday in all churches in the United States. In larger churches and cathedrals, solemn requiem masses requiring the services of several priests, will be celebrated. In small churches there will be requiems and special prayers.

It is reported by traffic experts that less than 3 per cent of the roads in 10 representative states serve 1000 or more vehicles daily, and less than 1 per cent serve 2000 vehicles or more.

AFL SEEKS TO OUST DIRECTOR OF NLRB

WESTWOOD, Cal., Feb. 10.—(UP)—The resignation of Mrs. Alice Rosseter, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, and John T. McTernan, board attorney, were demanded today by American Federation of Labor sawmill workers seeking an immediate election to determine their collective bargaining agency.

Petitions demanding the resignations on the basis of "mismanagement in the Westwood case" were being circulated by A.F.L. employees on strike since Monday when picket lines kept 140 C.I.O. men out of the Red River Lumber company plant.

Representing a great majority of the mill's 2000 employees, the A.F.L. union kept the plant closed but allowed maintenance crews and operators of the power plant to continue work.

T. S. Walker, general manager, said no effort would be made to open the plant but that a meeting of the company's board of directors would be held later to determine future action.

Demands for an immediate election were the basis for picket lines Monday and a subsequent 48-hour truce, which was extended indefinitely following a hearing between Lassen county officials and labor board representatives.

The board, following a "purge" of C.I.O. men and their families last summer and hearings in Westwood in October, had refused to set a date for an election until convinced the company has complied with non-interference provisions of an out-of-court settlement.

The N.L.R.B. offered to hold an election in 60 days if assured of violence.

At Puigcerda, on the French frontier, the Nationalists completed their advance to the border by running up their flag at the Spanish end of the international bridge at 2:45 p. m.

A survey ship recently purchased for a company to survey air-lanes for trans-oceanic flying will have a maximum speed of 200 miles an hour at 8000 feet and a cruising range of about 4000 miles.

it can be conducted in a "fair, impartial atmosphere" and that asserted intimidation of workers has ceased.

This proposal was approved by the C.I.O. in Westwood but met opposition from A.F.L. leaders and Lassen county authorities who said an immediate election was necessary to avert outbreaks of violence.

the Catalan mop-up campaign and ordered they be given a period of rest in preparation for an advance on the south—indicating an attack on Valencia probably would precede any attempt to capture Madrid.

At Marseilles, the British cruiser Devonshire arrived with 450 Republican refugees from the strategic island of Minorca, which the Nationalists captured yesterday after British officials charged they had broken a promise by twice bombarding the island and endangering the Devonshire which was struck by bomb splinters.

At Port Bou, Nationalist troops planted their red and gold banner on the French Mediterranean coast frontier after Loyalist forces retreating into France had blown up huge ammunition supplies and destroyed many buildings and tunnels.

VOTE BEFORE MIDNIGHT, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1939

SOLONS TO PUBLICIZE FUTURE PRIVATE SESSIONS WITH FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(UP)—The Senate military affairs committee today decided to make public all details, except military secrets, of future private sessions.

The committee, after heated discussion, failed to act on all the proposals before it for revelation of secret testimony concerning President Roosevelt's defense program.

Action upon a motion by Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D., Mo., to make public past testimony, especially that concerning U. S. aid to a French mission in the purchase of American fighting planes, was postponed until Monday.

Compromise
The motion which was approved was a compromise, decided upon after a test vote showed the committee equally divided upon a motion by Sen. Warren R. Austin, R., Vermont, to open all future committee hearings to the public.

The Austin motion lost by an 8 to 8 tie vote.
Committee members then agreed to continue secret executive sessions on the defense program but authorized the chairman, Sen. Morris Sheppard, D., Tex., and members of the committee to give oral statements of the testimony after each session.

The meeting took place last February, Bent said, when he cashed a check for Megladdery and learned he was one of Merriam's private secretaries.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS TO JOIN CONCLAVE

A number of Orange county Republicans are expected to attend the state convention of the California Republican assembly over the week end, it was announced today by Gordon X. Richmond, president of the newly formed Orange County Republican assembly.

The convention will be held in Santa Cruz and will open Saturday and close Monday morning following election of officers. Justus Craemer, of Orange, and several other Republican leaders are expected to represent Orange county.

As of Oct. 1, 1938, there were 21,526 pilots and 10,091 aircraft holding active federal licenses. This is an increase of 4147 pilots and 1661 planes over Oct. 1, 1937.

During 1937, 475,914 motor vehicles were exported from the United States to foreign countries.

"The magician called and says he can't be here after all. But we have Mrs. Frisbee, who is going to deliver a talk on flower culture."

GIVES RULE ON 'REAR' DRIVING

While not specific as to distance, the California vehicle code requires all motorists who are driving behind another vehicle to remain at "a reasonable and prudent" distance from the car ahead. Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the highway patrol office for Orange county, declared today.

The statement was made in answer to a woman motorist. "I am still nervous because last night a truck or bus kept so closely behind me and crowded me so much I finally had to drive off of the road and let it pass," she said. "Are motorists permitted to drive so close?"

"Be Reasonable"
"The law says no driver shall follow a motor vehicle in his or her own vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent having due regard for speed of the vehicles, traffic on the highway and the highway's condition," the officer stated.

Another place where the law is rather elastic was pointed out by the captain in answering a second question. "No specific number of persons are permitted to ride in the front seat of an automobile," he said. "That is because of varying circumstances."

Law On Passengers
"The law states no person shall drive a vehicle when it is so loaded with passengers as to obstruct the driver's view to the front and sides of the vehicle or to interfere with the driver's control of the car."

The law also is the same with reference to other possible obstructions or interference such as baggage or lumber."

11 Artists On School Program

Eleven artists appeared on the program of the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher Association musical tea given at the school Monday afternoon. Approximately 75 persons attended the affair held as a benefit for the Student Loan fund.

Among those who took part in the program were: Mesdames Louis Vorhis, Byron Stebbins, M. E. Geeting, and Perry Smith Bogart; Misses Mildred Marchant, Mildred Gage, Mary Toyoda, Beula Parker, Ila Mae Brown and Johanna Overman; and Perry Smith Bogart.

Mrs. James K. Given gave a short talk on the student loan plan. Arrangements for the event were made by Mrs. Howard Shugart, Mrs. O. V. Barton and Miss Verna Wells. Miss Wells and Mrs. H. P. Klotzly were in charge of refreshments.

400 Expected At Kiwanis Conclave

Plans are being completed today for serving approximately 400 members and guests at the annual meeting of Kiwanis District Four to be held at the Elks' clubrooms in Anaheim, February 20, it was announced today by C. Jack Zinn, of La Habra, district governor.

Chief speaker of the evening will be Harry A. Lane, of San Gabriel, governor of the California-Nevada district of Kiwanis.

A special program of musical selections and dancing to the Serano Country Club orchestra are being offered as an inducement for Kiwanis members and their wives to attend the affair. District Four is composed of clubs from Santa Ana, Whittier, Fullerton, Anaheim, La Habra and Buena Park.

865 ON ROSTER AT S. A. JAYSEE

Current official tabulation of enrollment at Santa Ana Junior college today revealed that 865 have registered for the second semester. Although the present figure is 43 below that of the same time last term, new students continue to sign up, officials stated.

An increase of 85 students is noted, however, over the corresponding period last year when 780 students were enrolled. Last semester at the same time, 908 were registered. Approximately 100 new students matriculated for the first time this term.

All classes have been filled to capacity, Director D. K. Hammond said today. In spite of this, however, provision is being made to care for the classes without undue strain on students and faculty, he said.

Especially hard hit in point of overflowing registration are the mechanics courses, along with drawing, scientific, and a few academic subjects. Practically all of these have had to be limited because of the intense demand, the director revealed.

Speaking Course
An extra section had to be added to a practical speaking course because of the large demand. Although cramped quarters have limited many classes, prospect of enlarging the curriculum seems dark inasmuch as it would entail adding extra instructors, it was pointed out.

COLLEGE BACHELORS PREPARE FOR BALL

Preparations for the Bachelors ball to be held February 17 was being completed today by members of the Bachelors, men's club at Santa Ana junior college, which is sponsoring the affair. Cyril Nichols, general chairman, indicated that the dance will be a semi-formal affair. It is slated to be held in the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach, he said.

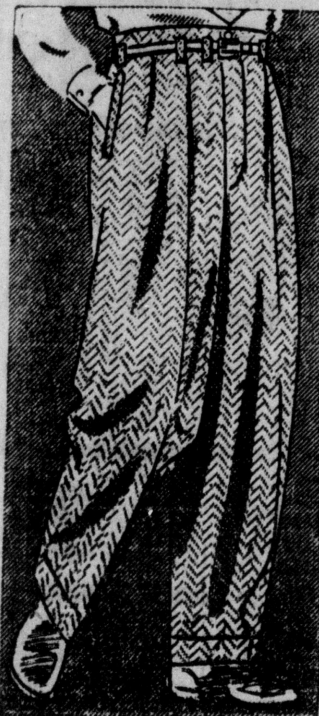

Name Committee
Committee members working on plans include Nichols, Frank Was, and Louis Markel, general arrangements; Roy Potter, orchestra and flowers; Was, favors, and Jack Murphy, tickets. Was, Nichols and Markel are also handling arrangements for the annual Bachelors club dinner which will precede the prom. Many alumni of the jaysce club are expected to attend, and today were urged to secure tickets as there will be limited reservations, Nichols revealed.

Dr. Kyle A. Lyon and Harold A. Moomaw, advisors of the club, Director and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, and Dean of Men and Mrs. Calvin C. Flint, will be among the guests at the dinner.

There was a grand total of 1974 planes produced in the United States in the period from January to June, 1938. Of this number 694 were for military use, and 427 were for export.

NEWS OF THE WORLD PORTRAYED IN PICTURES

After Hearing Roosevelt's Plan to Aid World Democracies

When Swollen Ohio Flooded Huntington, West Virginia

Huntington, W. V.—Here's how the southern end of this city appeared as the Ohio river flood waters crept higher and higher. The photo is an aerial view.—(Acme Photo.)

Starving Dogs Bring Arrests

8,000,000 Words on Weirton

To forty thousand-page, eight million-word transcript of Weirton Steel Wagner Act hearing (August 16, '37-Jan. 30, '39), NLRB Attorney Robert Greene, aided by Anne Monaghan, adds weighty record of company's celebrated NRA challenge at Pittsburgh, Pa. The transcript, to be studied by the NLRB, fills 220 volumes, one for each day's session, and contains testimony of more than 900 witnesses.

Rescued From River

Typical of flood scenes in the Ohio valley as the Ohio river left its banks, is this picture of a boat rescue of a Huntington, W. Va., family, one of thousands who fled their homes.

After London Subway Blasts

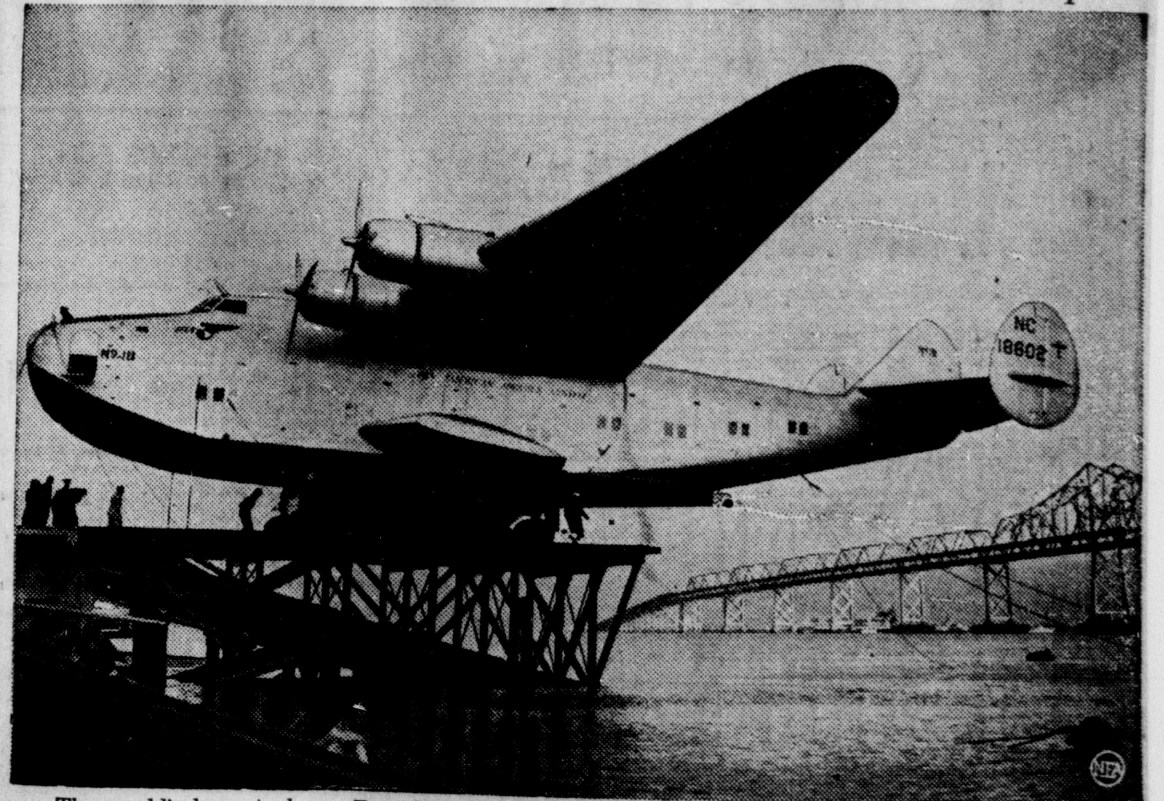

Bomb blast in the Leicester Square station of the London subway wrecked the station as shown in the radiophoto, injured several, and shattered nearby shop-windows. An almost simultaneous blast occurred at the Tottenham Court Road station. Scotland Yard operatives suspected the bombings to be the prelude to new outbreaks by the Irish Republican Army, which opposes England.

Aids Refugees

From European capital to European capital flits America's George Rublee, director of Inter-governmental Committee on Political Refugees, shown here in his latest picture from Paris taken during brief pause in his efforts to solve problem of resettling thousands of persecuted German Jews.

Giant Clipper Leaves The water For Checkup

The world's largest plane—Pan America's 42-ton Clipper 18—is lifted from San Francisco Bay to its base on Treasure Island. A combination railroad and elevator brings it ashore for a checkup during its test flights prior to entering trans-Pacific service.

Goat Goes for Cigaret

Barkeeper Gives Her Song Debut

Louisa Corchia, 17, who learned to sing from phonograph records because her unemployed father couldn't afford a teacher, will have a gala debut as a coloratura soprano at New York's swank Carnegie Hall. Her cousin Sereno Corchia, operator of a bar and grill, contributed most of his life's savings for her $1200 expenses.

Water, Water Everywhere—Every Drop for War

If war strikes, and bombs smash water lines, here's where London will quench its thirst. Cans are stored at Warley barracks as part of the British war precautions program.

Horses And Men On Mars' Bridle Path

Despite the many modern implements of war furnished him by Hitler and Mussolini, rebel General Franco still found important use for old-fashioned cavalry in his drive toward Barcelona. This photo shows insurgent cavalymen riding through rough country on a "mopping up" expedition against opponents after the battle of Tarragona.

Stamp News

The first definite plate variety reported to date on any of the new Presidential series was found by C. Rost Hunter, of Norwalk, Conn., on the half-cent Franklin stamp. The position is stamp No. 46 on the lower right pane, plate 21889, where there is a small circular mark as if made by a hollow punch at the corner of Franklin's mouth. In addition the entire pane shows relief breaks on the left side of the figure "1" and on the lower left corner of the figure "2" of the left "4." These breaks are particularly noticeable on stamps 58 and 98.

The Post Office Department is preparing a pamphlet history of the United States stamps issued in commemoration of important national events. Copies of the booklet are to be sold at cost from the philatelic exhibition truck when at last, it takes the road.

A stamp has been requested in homage to Francis Scott Key author of "The Star Spangled Banner." The 125th anniversary of his birth occurs next year.

Linn's Weekly Stamp News, Columbus, Ohio, calls attention to the fact that five Presidents of the United States never saw a postage stamp.

If a stamp is authorized to commemorate Stephen Collins Foster, the composer of the Nation's best-loved folk songs, it should be placed on sale on the Fourth of July. By curious coincidence, he was born on July 4, 1826, the 50th anniversary of American independence and the day on which Thomas Jefferson and John Adams finished their earthly career.

Nicaragua will issue a Will Rogers stamp in memory of the famous cowboy philosopher who contributed $5,000 to the earthquake relief fund of that country in 1931. Proceeds from the sale of the commemorative will be used to furnish the new post office building at Managua.

A. P. Bantam has reported in "McKee's Weekly Stamp News" the finding of the dates "1935" on the 6c airmail, 20c special delivery and the postage dues of that year. On the 6c the date appears in the lower right corner of the vignette above "cents" and on the 20c it is in the lower left corner of the vignette as part of the foreground. On the postage dues the four figures of the date appear in separate locations as shown in the illustration.

Postmaster General Farley has called for bids for operation of an experimental air mail route with rotary-wing aircraft between the roof of the postoffice building at Philadelphia and the Camden, N. J., airport serving Philadelphia. This will be the world's first regular autogiro roof-top mail service.

The Information Service of the Postoffice Department has issued an excellent booklet of a dozen pages entitled "A Brief History of the United States Post Service." This is an authentic record of the postal service in the growth of the postal service.

A broad and comprehensive program unprecedented in world

postage history is being planned by the Postoffice Department to make America philately-conscious. (1) A varied and interesting production of commemorative and other special postal paper in 1939 and the subsequent years. (2) Publication of a children's edition of the Postoffice Department's highly popular "Official description" booklet which tells the story of the country's stamps. (3) Establishment of a postoffice and postal exhibition building at the New York World's Fair of 1939.

(4) Cooperation by postmasters, particularly in rural communities, in organizing local stamp societies. (5) Assignment of one or more "philatelic trucks" to travel in all parts of the country to "spread the philatelic gospel" with exhibits and lectures for and to school pupils.

The coming year's stamp production plans definitely call for New York World's Fair and San Francisco Golden Gate Exposition commemoratives, one each; a "famous persons" series to begin in 1939 and probably to extend a few years ahead; and three more Constitution sequentaries, commemoratives, honoring the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government. Probabilities are a stamp to mark the arrival of Hernando de Soto in Florida four centuries ago, this stamp to be issued in conjunction with a Pan-American exposition at Tampa; and a stamp to commemorate the opening of the Panama Canal twenty-five years ago.

"Famous Persons" Series The "famous persons" issue is particularly receiving the attention of President Roosevelt. If Postoffice Department ideas are adopted, this series will not be confined to ten stamps with portraits of such notables as Emerson, Whitman, T. W. Higginson, Emerson, Whitman, Stephen Foster, Whittier, Saint-Gaudens, Edison, Horace Mann, Walter Reed and Jane Addams but would be extended to include stamps with likenesses of numerous other Americans who won prominence in the various arts and sciences, such as philosophy, literature, music, painting, sculpture, education, medicine, sociology, etc. This proposed series may result in as many as forty or fifty separate stamps across the next few years, divided into sets of five, one set for each topic and including one grouping with portraits of Jane Addams, Frances E. Willard and three other women. Likenesses of Washington Irving, James Fenimore Cooper and Will Rogers are among those being considered. The White House has been deluged with suggestions.

Nov. 11, 1939, will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of Washington State to the Union and a commemorative stamp is in prospect. Baseball will celebrate its centenary in 1939 and a World Poultry Congress will be held at Cleveland, but at this time the Postoffice Department is not inclined to grant requests for special stamps, nor is the department sympathetic to a proposal for a "special" to recall the introduction of printing into America three centuries ago. However, these ideas are being held in abeyance for future consideration.

The first "philatelic truck" will not begin its journey until late in November or early in December. The special body has not yet been delivered at Washington by the manufacturer in Chicago. After its arrival in Washington it will have to be equipped with its "million-dollar exhibit" of all United States stamps from 1847 to date. Then official ceremonies will be held and the truck will start on its tour, probably from New York. It will carry as crew a driver and two philatelic experts for school children. During inclement weather the lectures will be given in schools and public auditoriums, and the frames of stamps will be mounted on tripods. The truck will carry a special press on which stamp-printing will be demonstrated, the product to be in the form of a sheet of "stamps" illustrating the vehicle.

Requests for itineraries stops have been received from postmasters, stamp club officials, school teachers and Congressmen in all parts of the country. Were all these to be granted it would require years for one truck to make a journey, but if the Department executives anticipate other vehicles of this character may be placed in operation. At the start it is planned to cover New York State and Pennsylvania, and this traveling alone will require months.

AIR MAIL STAMPS FOR TRANSATLANTIC ACTION On the part of the Civil Aeronautics authority in issuing a certificate of approval to the Boeing Aircraft concern for the first of six new 73-passenger air planes to be used in trans-oceanic flying is another step nearer the establishment of regular passenger and air mail service between the United States and Europe. Such a service, it is reliably reported, will start sometime next May.

The announcement by the State department last week that France had given permission to one of more airplane concerns to land in that country, has had its effect on the British government. It is now stated that Imperial Airways is fully willing to co-operate with the American Airways in the operation of this transatlantic air mail route and will (1) store its content to play a large part in the operation of this route; it is expected will be launched at an early date. Action is being taken by the Civil Aeronautics authority which body will issue the necessary certificate of approval to the Boeing Aircraft concern to operate trans-oceanic flying and in addition will fix subsidy to be paid the company.

It is expected that the Post Office will issue a special air mail stamp when this transatlantic route is inaugurated. This done by the department when trans-oceanic flying was established on November 22, 1935. It issued in the 25 cent denomination.

Has been suggested that the return issue either a 20 cent stamp, which would be used to let the flying machine more than one-half ounce and attached by air mail across the Atlantic. The rate of postage to be fixed by the department will depend on what rate the British government fixes for this transatlantic air mail service on letters destined for the United States.

Endwise Coils There were 196,328 cancellations on endwise coils and booklets on Jan. 27. Of these, 30,988 were hand-stamped, mostly on booklets, and 105,340 machine cancelled.

JULIA LATHROP Flower Committee Miss Mary Henderson, chairman of the Spring Flower Festival called a meeting of her committee this week to discuss plans for the ensuing event which will probably take place just before spring vacation. Many students developed a lively interest in gardening and flower arrangements after the first event of its kind held last spring, and are anticipating the coming event with added interest due to the fact they have planted their own gardens this winter.

Members of the committee are Miss Henderson, chairman; Miss Hazel Thrasher, Mrs. Louise Sanborn, Mrs. Grace Wolff, Miss Mildred Tummond, Mrs. Marjorie Crumrine, Mrs. Ethel Sinko, Mrs. Rowley and Aubrey Glines.

Picture Exhibit Next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be an exhibit of reproductions of famous paintings at the Lathrop auditorium. About 150 paintings will be included among which are the most famous paintings in the world. This offers a splendid opportunity to students as well as interested public to take advantage of this display of the world's finest work in art. Mrs. Marjorie Crumrine, ninth grade classes in craft have just finished painting pictures of flowers with splatter paints consisting of a toothbrush and paints. Those on display were made by Virginia Washburn, Inez Umphrey, Ruth Huss, Seferina Lujan, Yone Sasaki, Luva Dilly, Claudia Hundley, Lillian Palmer, Anna Jane Parker, Maxine Burnett, Helen Rupert, Lorraine Brummond.

Fleet Officers

Mrs. Ethel Sinko's seventh grade home room section is the first to hand in their list of new officers for the second semester. These "Survivors" as they are called, have elected the following: President, Darlene Plavan, vice president, Jim Murphy; secretary, Betty Ann Mortenson, and reporter, Helen Ricker. Helen Ricker wrote the class constitution and it was printed by Harold Richards. Interesting plans have been made for their home room meetings.

Invited To Tournament

Coach Archer has been invited to enter his basketball team in the San Juan Capistrano High school tournament to be held next week. Although no decision has been made final regarding this invitation, the coach and his team are anticipating the event with considerable interest. Members of the team include the following: Jerry McGinn, Alan Aguilar, Robert Ashby, George Roussos, Charles Clary, Wayne Burnett.

Outlook Good For Tennis

Coach Archer feels that the Lathrop tennis fans will make an outstanding record this season, which will soon be under way. During the past few rainy days he has been giving the boys special instructions in tennis and they have profited by seeing the Helen Williams, tennis champion, film. The technique of champions has been studied carefully and the boys are anticipating the season with unusual interest. Those who are expected to make a real showing are Kenneth Crumley, Franklin Childs, John Wood, Billy Powell, Dean Martin, James Bayless, George Roussos, Stanley Veiser and Bill Dart.

Graduates Making Plans

Already the Lathrop third year students are thinking seriously of their work in senior high next year and the first necessary letter for students and parents to return to Principal Lynn Crawford, Santa Ana High school.

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 10.—Dinner guests on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers of Corvallis, Ariz., and Mrs. and Mr. Arthur Rogers of Corvallis, Ariz., and Mrs. and Mr. Arthur Rogers of Corvallis, Ariz.

CHAMBER TO MEET

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 10.—Westminster chamber of commerce meets Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the local library for the regular monthly meeting. At this time the report of the committee for the rural route from Westminster Post Office will give in a report of their findings.

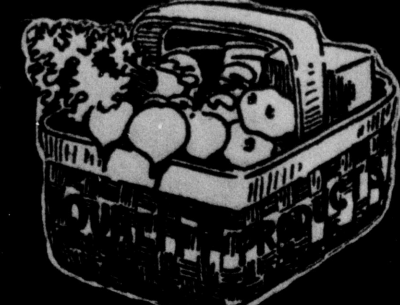

Shop Arranges Formal Opening

With the completion of a remodeling project and installation of new enlarged store equipment, the new Mode O' Day shop, at 213 West Fourth street today was ready for its formal opening all day Saturday, according to an announcement this morning by Madeline Lawson, proprietor and manager.

The establishment, formerly located at 411 North Main street, has operated as an individual emporium in Santa Ana since 1932, it was pointed out.

"There are about 220 Mode O' Day shops, mostly in California, in operation, and they operate as separate units, specializing in dresses, lingerie and hosiery," the manager said. "There will be four girls employed, all expert saleswomen. As a special feature for the opening a consignment will be presented to each woman visitor during Saturday."

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Hoover was preparing to go into the White House; Tex Rickard died at the height of promotional prosperity; District Attorney Keyes of Los Angeles was on trial for bribery; Orange county's supervisors approved the construction of a $250,000 annex to the courthouse; W. Kee Maxwell was buying the Fullerton News-Tribune; Ed Yost and Charley Walker were showing "one hundred percent talking pictures" at their theaters in Santa Ana, and it was just 10 years ago this month that...

Promoter Henry T. Foust and Major Anderson offered legalized professional boxing for the first time at the Orange County Athletic club. They turned out with a match between Jimmie Rivers and Zenaydo Chavez, bitter rivals of rival "amateur" clubs formerly operated by Foust and Boyd Ellis. Kid Mexico was the O. C. A. C. matchmaker and was sentenced to a five-day jail term by Justice of Peace Morrison for speeding 58 miles an hour. When apprehended, Mexico was rushing a carload of Negro boxers to the arena.

"Pop" Warner, Stanford football coach, was visiting his brother, Justice Fred Warner, at San Clemente and predicted that new rules would open up the game more than ever.

Santa Ana Country club began its schedule of matches in the Southern California Inter-club Golf league, using a team composed of Ed Holmes, Mark Lacy, L. W. Bemis, L. D. Coffing, F. E. Farnsworth, Lew Wallace, E. T. Mather, J. K. McDonald, E. V. Curry, G. C. Ross, Hugh Shields, Jack Meiss, C. A. Way and Ralph Graves.

The Portland Beavers were getting ready to train at the Orange Fair Grounds, under Manager Bill Rodgers, and Seattle's Indians were reporting at San Clemente to Manager Ernie Johnson. Portland's schedule called for exhibition contests with Detroit and Pittsburgh.

Tex Oliver was riding herd on a promising track squad at Santa Ana high school, the outstanding athletes being Al Reboin, Tommy Cone, Tom Donahue, Carl Schoenberg and a trio of sophomores, Norman Paul, Jim Daneri and Paul Jacques. Bill Foote's junior college basketball team was battling for a conference championship, leading players being Merrill Youel, Bill Kolkhorst, Larry Hogue, Blanchard Beatty, Reg Rust, Willard White and Valentine.

Don Williams, great Trojan half back from Santa Ana, was awarded a gold souvenir football and a life pass to U. S. C. athletic events, having just completed his eligibility. Clyde Patton was handling the Saint basketball forces with Curt Youel, Leo Gaspar, Wayne Vance, Warren DuBois and Jack Bender as regulars.

Headed by Captain "Red" Guyer, a brilliant sprinter, jaycee trackmen were turning out despite bad weather conditions. Candidates included Blanchard Beatty, Russ Hind, Bob Hafer, George Tobias, Joe Warner, Willie Carlyle and George Warner. Bill Cole had an undefeated basketball team coming up at Tustin, sparked by Henry Thierry and Emmett Seacord.

Yeah, man, a lot of bridges have been washed out since the February dog-days of 1929.

Santa Ana at Pomona; Redlands at Chaffey; San Bernardino at Riverside.
Tonight's Games
Making its last jump of the season, Santa Ana hit its unpredictable basketball squad travels to Pomona tonight for a Citrus Belt league contest. Home contests with San Bernardino and Chaffey wind up the Saint schedule Feb. 24.

This will be Santa Ana's second start against Pomona. The Saints won the first of a two-game series here (41-21) by going on a scoring spree in the second half. A single point divided the quintets at the intermission but Santa Ana outpointed the Red Devils 25-6 in the second half.

Since then Pomona has reorganized its lineup and on its own floor promises to give the Saints a spirited match. Pomona tuxed up for Santa Ana by waxing C. J. Emont, 31-24, Tuesday night. Coach Joe Koegler will use his new lineup of Bob Frias and Dick O'Neil, forwards; Dick Brown, Brown, center, and Maurice Young and Bill Hull, guards. Frias, replacing the graduated Gene O'Camp last week, sank 14 points in his first starting assignment.

Citrus Belt league attention will be riveted more closely on tonight's Chaffey-Redlands struggle at Ontario. Chaffey can clinch the championship by winning.

CUNNINGHAM RUNS ON NEW PENN OVAL

PHILADELPHIA. — (UP) — The flame-scarred legs of Glenn Cunningham will get another chance to respond to the record breaking urge on a springy, new board track tonight in the second annual Penn A. C. Games.

Some experts have pronounced the new oval the fastest ever built and talk of a four-minute "Dream Mile" has been revived, but track critics have no hopes for this measure of response from the ageing limbs of the tireless Kansan.

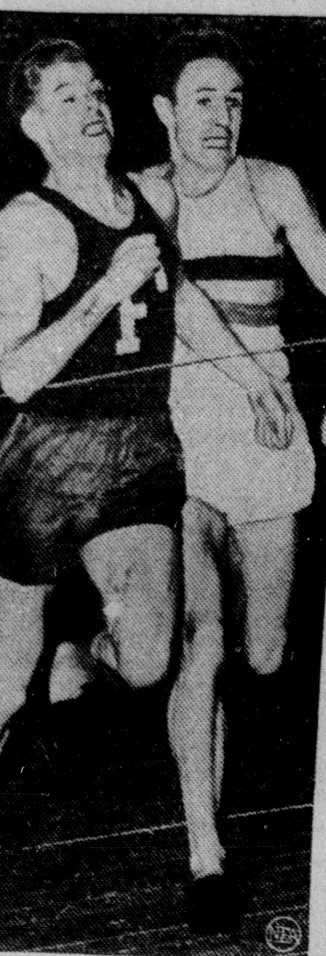

Although it has 12 laps, some of the coaches believe the track is faster than the 11-lap boards at Dartmouth, where Cunningham registered a 4:04.4 last year in the fastest mile ever stepped by man. These mentors believe the wider turns of the local oval will more than offset the extra lap.

Cunningham, who turned in a mediocre 4:13.0, his slowest time in Madison Square Garden in recent years, to win the Wanamaker Mile of the Millrose Games last week, will face a familiar field tonight, his foremost rivals being Don Lash and "Chuck" Fenske. Lash, the ex-University of Indiana distance ace now performing under the banner of Indiana state police, is the defending champion.

Budge Noses Out Vines Again

DALLAS, Tex. — (UP) — Donald Budge defeated Ellsworth Vines, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5 last night in the 26th tennis match which they have played on their transcontinental tour.

Matter of Inches

Uncorking a last desperate surge to the tape, Wesley Wallace, left, Fordham middle distance star, beats William Fritz of Queens College by inches in the 600-yard event at the Millrose Games in New York. Time was 1:12.3.

Riderless Horse Wins Race At Santa Anita

SANTA ANITA PARK. — (UP) — A plucky victory by a riderless horse stimulated debate to-day on the question: who wins races, the jockey, or the horse?

Repas collided with another horse in the first race yesterday and tossed jockey "Skinny" Fallon overboard 10 yards from the gate. Repas galloped right on, swung wide on the bend, and finished ahead.

The victory didn't count, because Repas hadn't carried his weight. The win went to Wedding Call. But turfmen agreed it did show that Repas was a pretty good race general, all by himself.

On the same program, a horse named Do It did it in the fourth race. Overlooked in the betting, Do It did win the mile to pay $125.60, $38.60, $16.00 across the boards.

CALIFORNIA RISKS LEAD AGAINST REDS

SAN FRANCISCO. — (UP) — University of California and Stanford basketball teams met at Berkeley tonight in a crucial Pacific Coast conference game, and St. Mary's and Santa Clara tangle at Kezar stadium in San Francisco in an important Northern California league game.

California risks its leadership of the Southern division against Stanford. A win for the Baers would bolster their lead, but a defeat would throw the division into a three-way tie between California, Stanford and S. C., providing the Trojans defeat U. C. L. A.

St. Mary's defeated Santa Clara 37 to 33 in their first meeting two weeks ago at San Jose. This time the Broncos were to even the series and mathematically clinch first place in the northern California league.

S. C. TRACKMEN AGAIN TOPS IN COLLEGE FIELD

BY HENRY McEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES.—Death and taxes have always been regarded as the only sure things, but when you start mentioning certainties you can't overlook the University of Southern California's track and field team.

When these young men, smelling strongly of horse liniment and wearing pants that might well have been designed by the Mahatma himself, enter a competition they are as near a cinch to win as anything in sport. You can thumb the record books until both your thumbs and the books are worn out without finding a more solid list of triumphs than that scored by the Trojans under the direction of Dean Cromwell.

High Goal for Foes
Track coaches will be shooting at 59-year-old Cromwell's mark for years. The Trojans have won 8 of the 12 I-C-A-A meets in which they have competed, and finished first in 7 of the 11 N.C.A.A. championships they entered. They swept the Coast championship in 1936, 1937 and 1938, and have had one or more Olympic champions in all the games since 1908. Since Cromwell started coaching them in 1909, the Trojans, individually, have won 30 National, 21 N.C.A.A., and 31 I-C-A-A championships. In the Berlin Olympics no fewer than eight Trojans got free passage.

This year, his rival coaches will be pleased to learn, Coach Cromwell figures he will have an even better team than the 1938 one which cleaned up everything in sight. This despite the fact that by graduation and one thing or another he lost a sprinter capable of turning the hundred in 9.5 and the 220 in 21.2; a broad jumper with a mark of 24 feet 7 1/2 inches; a 48 quarter-mile; a 1:53.5 half-mile; a 4:22 mile man, and a 23.5 low hurdler.

Al Wesson, publicity man at U.S.C., who gave me these facts and figures, says such a loss would wreck any other coach but Cromwell, but that the Dean, looking ahead to the day when they would depart, has a stadium full of replacements.

Anderson in Sprints
Anderson, a football ace, and Jordan and Willis will take care of the sprints. Miller and Up-ton are ready for the quarter-mile, and Baker for the half. Louie Zamperini, who is under 4:10, will handle the mile. There are hurdlers to spare, and in the pole vault the Trojans will have Day, Dills and Howe, any one of whom is likely to raise the record to 15 feet. Two of Cromwell's jumpers have done 6 feet 4 inches, and all he has in the javelin is footballer Bob Peoples who threw the spear 221.5 as a freshman.

Cromwell, unlike most track coaches who are sticklers for form, doesn't care what his charges look like performing their tasks, just so the results are satisfactory. His formula calls for taking what an athlete has and making the most of it. Back in the old days, when Cromwell first took Charley Paddock to Eastern meets, the critics took one look at Charley's form in a workout and said he never would be able to run. "He runs sitting down," they said, referring to his high knee action and short back kick, "and he is low-legged."

"Okay, boys," Cromwell said, "if you think Charley can't run, just wait until the gun goes off. He's liable to show you something."

JACK ROPER FIGHTS MUNSELL TONIGHT

HOLLYWOOD. — (UP) — Jack Roper, a resurrected heavyweight 36 years old, meets Junior Munsell, a Chicaw Indian 13 years his junior, tonight in a fight he must win to avoid an embarrassing tangle in his program of meeting Joe Louis.

Tonight's 10 rounder at Hollywood Legion stadium was already scheduled before Roper was signed last week to be fed to Louis here April 24 in a title bout.

ZURICH, Switzerland. — (UP) — Final playoff for the world amateur hockey championship began today with the United States, Canada, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia fighting for the title.

EIGHT TEAMS IN O. C. LOOP?

Possibility of an eight-team race existed in the Orange County Night Ball league today following last night's organization session at the Tustin residence of George Dearborn, retiring president.

Brea, last year a member of the National league, was represented and indicated an interest in returning to the "minor" wheel this summer. Other clubs likely to toe the line are Laguna Beach, San Juan Capistrano, Tustin, Costa Mesa, Placentia, Yorba Linda, and Westminster. Fullerton may come in too.

Pete Funk of Anaheim was elected president and George (Buddy) Forster of San Juan Capistrano was named treasurer, succeeding Walt Collins.

LEADERS CLASH IN S. CAL. CONFERENCE

With the Southern California conference basketball race still pretty much of a wide open affair, leaders of the circuit meet this week end to determine which teams stay at the top of the standings and which teams go down.

Perched atop the current percentage column with a record of five games won and one lost, the surprising Occidental Bengals take on their old rivals, Pomona, in a brace of games Friday and Saturday night. The Friday tilt is to be played at Claremont with the teams coming into Occidental Saturday.

The usually sedate metropolis of Whittier will be the scene of two of the wildest games local residents will have a chance to witness in many a moon, when the Poets entertain the highly touted San Diego State five Friday and Saturday night. The Quakers and the Aztecs have long been bitter rivals on the basketball court and the States have vowed to avenge the double defeat they suffered last year. San Diego was considered well nigh invincible as far as the conference teams were concerned, but the 36-35 nose-out by Pomona last Friday has given other conference members the idea that it can be done.

Tonight's Games
San Bernardino at Riverside; Chaffey at Pomona; Fullerton, byes.

Santa Ana junior college's basketball team was on the march today. The Dons had moved with in striking distance of Fullerton, Chaffey and San Bernardino, the Eastern conference's leaders.

Hotter than a coke-burning smudge pot Santa Ana's regulars and reserves poured an endless stream of baskets through the hoop to defeat Citrus, 69 to 40, at Glendora last night. The regulars played little more than half, giving way to the reserves with the start of second period after compiling a 39-20 lead in the first 20-minute session. They didn't return to the floor until the final three minutes.

Favorable Comparison
The easy Don triumph almost equaled the early season 66-32 victory by the undefeated Fullerton Hornets over the Owls. It also emphasized that Coach Bill Cook's men will be dangerous in their next two conference starts with Riverside and Fullerton, both to be played here.

Cook uncovered a new star in Marvin Flitten, recent transfer from Idaho Falls, Ida. Flitten personally accounted for 19 points almost operating little more than a half. His brilliant ball-handling and shooting so impressed Cook that the coach announced immediately after the game that Flitten probably would start against Riverside next week. Cook plans to have his five best shots on the floor at the same time, which probably means that Charley Hall and Russ Dearborn will pair at forwards with Bob Schildmeyer at center and Art Heinisch and Flitten as guards. Hall and Dearborn accounted for 12 points last night to tie for second scoring honors.

Dons Play Twice Tonight
The Dons go to the post again tonight, meeting Patterson's Dairy and the Santa Ana All-Stars in a double header at Andrews gym. It will mark the fourth time this week the Dons have seen action.

S. C. Ruggers Play Cards At Coliseum

LOS ANGELES.—With several of Howard Jones' Trojan football star: holding down key positions, the University of Southern California rugby team will open defense of its California intercollegiate championship Saturday when it will meet the Stanford fifteen in the Coliseum.

Harry Smith, All-American guard on the Trojan eleven last fall and star of the S. C. ruggers a year ago when they won their first championship in the English sport, again leads the Southern California attack from his stand-off halfback position.

Other Trojan gridders now playing on Coach Bill Haney's rugby team are Floyd Phillips, Ed Dempsey and Chuck Morrill from the varsity squad and Larry Knowlton, Dennis Noor, Don Doyle, "Rusty" Roquet, Ed Stevenson, Bob Robertson, Willis Wood and Bob Beeson from the Spartan squad.

Rides The Books

Because he is under 18, Jockey Jackie Boyle, along with others in the same boat at Santa Anita, has been ordered by California school authorities to resume his education, so Boyle digs into a book at the barn while the filly Sun Egret peers out of her stall and wonders what's going on.

HAGGERTY TO WRESTLE HERE

"Hard-boiled" Haggerty, the boilermaker who has shown the world that he can take the best of wrestlers into camp, has been signed by Promoter Harry Lewis for Monday's main event at the Orange County Athletic club.

Haggerty, at whose hands such stars as Lutz, Szabo, El Pulpo, and who gave Jim Londos the best run for his money the Greek has had in many a day, winning the only fall Londos has lost in these parts has been matched with Paul Boesch.

This may turn out to be a tougher match than Haggerty expects, as Boesch has a previous record here that is one of the best. He happens to be the same Paul Boesch who in Long Beach recently went into the ring with Haggerty and came out winner. He is one of the few wrestlers ever to gain a nod over Haggerty, and the Bell Badman has been after a chance to reverse the decision.

In the semi-windup, Nick Lutze, veteran of many fine matches in Santa Ana, returns to swap holds with Terry McGinnis. Each is a master of practically every hold known to the science, and their meeting should give the fans an outstanding match.

Also on the card are La Verne Baxter, Joe Benencasa, "Rusty" Westcott and Mike Strelch.

PORTER'S MITE GIVES WEIGHT TO FAST FIELD

BY TOM GWYNNE

(Register Track Correspondent)
Porter's Mite, the big bay hope for America's "triple crown," goes postward tomorrow at Santa Anita in the $10,000-added San Vicente Handicap, a 3-year-old fixture at seven furlongs. The W. E. Boeing star, winner of the Belmont Futurity and holder of the world's record for six-and-a-half furlongs, will haul to weight of 126 pounds, meeting his most formidable rivals for the Santa Anita Derby at a decided weight disadvantage.

Trainer Ted Horning, whose unerring eye picked the unknown "Mite" out of the J. H. Whitney barn for $7500 here last winter, thinks he has the best colt in the country. He has nominated him with considerable confidence for the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes—the nation's blue ribbon races.

Confidence Unshaken
Not even a set-back last summer at the hands of the unbeaten El Chico, has shaken Horning's confidence in his brilliant charge. "He just failed to take the turn that day," Horning says.

Porter's Mite has amassed $76,440 in his short career, winning six out of ten starts, and finishing out of the money only once.

once. His season's debut here in the Santa Maria Stakes marked an impressive beginning for his 1939 campaign. He scored a breezing victory at six furlongs under 123 pounds. Xalapa Clown, who redeemed himself recently by a slashing victory in the slop, is a doubtful starter tomorrow and the stable may rely on Black Bun, a flashy stablemate. The Clown was second in the weight lineup with 122 pounds, while Black Bun slides in with 112. The Clown seemed a bit "choppy" and a trifle sore (at least to your correspondent) in some of his trials, and he may be a better mudder than he is a fast track colt. His slop victory was a full second faster than his three-quarter win over the dry last summer.

The colt who may test Porter's Mite's metal is Our Mat, strangely enough, not a Santa Anita

TUSTIN SEEKS THIRD PERFECT COURT SEASON

Tonight's Games

Brea-Olinda at Tustin; Capistrano at Garden Grove; Laguna Beach at Valencia.

Undeclared in Orange league basketball competition since January of 1936, Tustin goes after its third successive "perfect season" on its own court tonight. The Tillers meet Brea-Olinda, a hot and cold outfit that might give Coach Russ Wilson's crew a fairly close game if "high." The contest closes the regular league schedule.

The last team to beat Tustin in its own conference was Anaheim three years ago. The Farmers were unbeaten in '37, the season they swept to the Southern California high school championship, and again last winter when they reached the semi-finals.

Taking no chances of an upset, Wilson proposes to start his regulars but switch his reserves in the second half if everything is under control. Tustin's next start will be at Huntington Beach next Friday in the C. I. F. playoffs so the Tillers coach wants his first string to get in a good workout.

Garden Grove hopes to clinch second place at Capistrano, no easy assignment for there the Cougars are dangerous. Laguna Beach is given a slight edge over Valencia although the Placentians are the home side.

LOS ANGELES—It may be a bit difficult for the U.S.C. basketball team to keep their minds on their game when they play U.C.L.A. tonight in Olympic auditorium.

The reason: California and Stanford will be playing at the same time at Berkeley and an upset win for the Indians could bring about a three-way tie involving these teams and the Trojans and throw the Southern division of the conference into a wide-open race.

Wing up their two-game series with Loyola, the Trojans will meet the Lions on Saturday night at the Olympic. S.C. won the first start of this season from Coach Jim Needles' quintet by a 47-32 count.

Saving set a record of 36 points for this individual score in Troy's 69-36 win over U.C.L.A. three weeks ago, Forward Ralph Vaughn of S.C. may increase his lead over conference rivals this weekend. Vaughn has hit the hoop for 81 points in five games to lead Center Bill Ogilvie of California, who is in second place with 65 points.

AUBURN, Cal. (UP)—International and American ski championships made trial spins today over the Auburn Ski club's two new courses for the international championships here tomorrow and Sunday.

Competition will be held in the downhill racing events and the slalom. Jumping events will follow a week later at Treasure Island, San Francisco. The tournament is held annually by the F.I.S., international ruling ski group.

Topping the entry list were Friedl Pfeifer, 27-year-old Austrian who is No. 1 man of Germany's ski ways, and a former Austrian, Hannes Schroll, who has been living in America for several years.

ORANGE CLOSING LEAGUE SEASON

With Huntington Beach already "in" as champion, other basketball teams of the Sunset league go through the motion of completing their conference schedules tonight.

The runner-up Orangemen play their final game against Anaheim which has a chance to tie for second place by topping its old athletic rival. Orange winds up its non-league season Tuesday at Fullerton so this will be the last chance for Panther fans to see Coach "Hod" Chambers' men.

Excelsior and Jordan, the conference's only teams in out-of-county territory, collide at North Long Beach.

Huntington Beach played its final game with Newport Harbor more than a week ago. The Oilers are now preparing for a C. I. F. playoff series with Tustin, champion team of the Orange league.

CHICAGO (UP)—Club officials of the National Professional Football league indicated today that they don't want a governing commissioner at any price.

In the first session of their four-day conference, they shelved talk of player trades and re-elected President Joe F. Carr of Columbus, Ohio, for a 10-year period. The long appointment was said to be their answer to talk of a high commissioner.

Carr and Carl Storck of Dayton, Ohio, the vice president and treasurer of the league, both were re-elected in the only piece of official business ground out on the first of four days the professional officials are scheduled to meet.

Both the resolutions and schedule committees were expected to meet for the first time today, as well as representatives of the various all-star games in New York, Chicago and Dallas.

Apparently recovering nicely from a recent automobile accident, Parsons suffered a heart attack as he was engaged in a card game.

His most noted horse was the veteran Seth's Hope, who won almost $100,000 over a long campaign, marked by many "comebacks." He maintained a breeding farm near the Mexican border and had bred many California winners, most of them sired by his stud, Quick Return.

He is survived by a widow, a son, Chester, and a daughter, Mrs. Harry Richards, wife of the noted jockey.

'FRISCO FRED FAVORED OVER 'NEW TUNNEY'

(Radio KECA, 1430 kilocycles, will broadcast tonight's Apostoli-Conn fight, beginning at 7 o'clock, Orange county time.)

NEW YORK—Billy Conn, a growing young fellow who is trying to eat his way into Joe Louis' shoes, goes into the ring tonight to fight two men—Middle-weight Champion Fred Apostoli and a haggard, ugly old citizen who goes by the name of Jinx.

This is Billy's farewell to the middleweights, for he is growing so fast that henceforth he will campaign against light heavyweights and probably turn out to be champion of them some day. In the meanwhile he has his hands full against Apostoli and the jinx that will be walking the blood-smeared canvas against him.

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Conn held a six-pound edge over Fred Apostoli when they weighed in today for their 15-round fight in Madison Square Garden. Conn scaled 167 pounds; Apostoli 161.

Conn and Apostoli met once before and New Yorkers, getting their first glimpse of Billy, saw one of the smoothest articles that has come along since Gene Tunney—a tall, handsome boy with a picture book left and ring sense to waste. Conn won the decision after 10 fast rounds, and the moment his arm was lifted in victory the jinx went back in return matches and to work against him.

For Apostoli always beats a man the second time he fights him. It has happened four times. The two most noteworthy instances were when 'Frisco Fred lost decisions to Freddie Steele and Young Corbett and came knocked them out.

The jinx was strong enough around Madison Square Garden today to make Apostoli a 7 to 5 favorite despite the boxing lesson he took from Conn the first time they crossed gloves. This time they go 15 rounds instead of 10, and everybody who saw the first bout recalls that Billy was tiring in the 10th and Apostoli seemed to be getting his second wind for a fast finish.

News behind the news

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright, 1939.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Mr. Roosevelt can usually make things sound clearer than any man in public life, but even he is saving increasing trouble making the always misunderstanding press understand.

At his last press conference, for example, he gave out his letter to Judge Roberts which sounded as clear as a four-alarm fire gong. In it he said, among other things: "I told him (Senator Glass) I was not in the habit of confirming or denying any newspaper article or editorial. Obviously if I were to begin that sort of thing, I would have no spare time to attend to my executive duties." Again he hit the gong in the same letter with: "I told him (same Glass) categorically that I never answer any questions relating to the credibility or otherwise of newspaper articles or editorials."

This seemed understandable enough—for five minutes. Then Mr. Roosevelt, in the same press conference, made an even louder denial and lamentation, a five-alarm gong this time, about newspaper articles asserting this government had let Britain have its anti-aircraft secrets. He said the articles were wrong, unpatriotic and several other things.

But the President showed great patience in explaining why one of the stories concerning anti-aircraft secrets was wrong. The two newsmen he was talking about, or their confidential senatorial informant, had become confused as between anti-aircraft "directors" and "detectors."

It was really quite simple. The detector is a small calculating box, not more than a foot and a half long with various small knobs and dials. The director is a large mechanical ear, like an old phonograph horn. The directors, old ones, had been sold to Britain. The new detectors which were very, very secret had not even been mentioned to anyone. It was unpatriotic to mention them. Of course there were new detectors which were secret too. . . . old directors, new detectors. . . . new directors, old detectors.

The press, by and large, got it published next day the way the President told it. The matter seemed to be all straightened out. Then some newsmen consulted an official of the war department who is an expert. He said:

"Well the President was right in substance. He got the detectors mixed up with the detectors. The detector is the large mechanical ear. The director is the small box."

Or if you like figure puzzles instead of anagrams, you can spend a delightful two or three weeks listening to Mr. Roosevelt's antagonists and friends respectively explain why the other one is wrong on the amount of the relief appropriation. They both do it very well.

A White House friend in the senate can prove with figures that congress is wrong. He says their fault is that they are figuring on 1½ million unemployed men getting private employment in the next few months. It can't be done. Not that much employment was ever furnished at any period of our history—since 1934. So half of the 3 million on relief rolls will have to be thrown off because congress cut Mr. Roosevelt's request about one-fifth. He can do only half as much with one-fifth less money.

The Roosevelt opposition says this is screwballish and the trouble is the WPA has been playing mathematical tricks with its figures. . . . WPA is hiding two weeks expenditures by its carry-over bookkeeping system. It has two weeks more money than it admits of having, because that much time leeway exists between its authorizations and actual payments. . . . Furthermore, it is not computing an additional $60 millions set aside under which 90,000 people will be taken care of in departmental federal projects outside WPA. . . . and furthermore. . . .

Or if you want something really complicated, just try to find out where the old age security fund stands, from reading the testimony of Social Security Board Chairman Altmeyer before the house appropriations committee. He, too, complains of trouble in getting the public (he does not mention the press specifically)

Citrus On N. Y. Auction Markets Traced Here In Picture, Speech

All the hustle and bustle of the auction markets in metropolitan New York and the method of operating the markets was shown in a picture presented by Henry D. Greene, special representative of the American Fruit and Produce Auction association of New York, at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday at the Masonic Temple.

Greene gave a brief talk on the operation of the auction markets, particularly as it affects Southern California citrus growers, before presenting the picture.

Supply and Demand
"The question 'why must we take our fruit 3000 miles away to find the value of it?' is one that is often asked by California growers," Greene said. "To answer the question let me use the favorite example of the 'anti-auctionists,' the motor car industry.

"Citrus fruits, like automobiles, are priced according to supply and demand but here the comparison stops. The life length of a car is approximately five years; the life length of an orange about three weeks. The cost of manufacturing automobiles is so high that it necessarily limits the number of producers to only a few whereas the citrus industry has thousands of producers. With only a few producers it is possible to more accurately judge the amount of production and let production follow sales.

Tree "Keeps Going"
"Once an orange tree starts producing it keeps right on whether there is a market for production or not. To get the product to the consumer, who demands that the fruit be fresh, it is necessary to have a fast moving, mobile type of marketing agent. This is the service the auction market affords.

"The buyers in the auction markets are not interested in buying merchandise at a low price but are concerned in buying the products at an equally low price with their competitors. The charge that the buyers 'get together' to keep the price low is ridiculous. It is to their interest to have a constantly increasing price and the price the retailer will pay for the product.

Consumer Fixes Price
"To vacate the auction market and attempt to sell California fruit on an F.O.B. basis would only leave the buying power of the auction markets to your competitors. The men who do the buying in the auction markets are experts at judging the value of a certain commodity and will pay any price for the commodity provided they can sell it at a profit to the retailer. Thus the ultimate price-fixing agent in the sale of Orange county citrus fruits is the consumer and he pays as his desire and pocketbook permit," Greene concluded.

Dixon W. Tubbs, county agricultural commissioner, was program chairman for the day and introduced the speaker.

Man Has 180 Days Added to Term

Paul Garcia, Santa Ana, might just as well take it easy for a while, he learned today. Charged with being drunk and committing battery, Garcia was ordered by City Judge J. G. Mitchell recently to serve a term of 10 days in county jail.

Because his offense also was in violation of probation, granted after he was arrested for a previous offense, he was taken before Justice Howard C. Cameron in Santa Ana justice court yesterday. Now Garcia has 180 days more in which he may take it easy—in county jail.

Understand how the fund is just like an insurance fund, but isn't, because much of the money collected in taxes has been spent for general running expenses of the government, and the fund is full of treasury I.O.U.'s which must be cashed by the treasury before benefit payments can be made, and the only way for the treasury to get cash is to collect the taxes all over again or float bonds, increasing the debt.

"If the budget were balanced then it would appear crystal clear," said Mr. Altmeyer, "that these general funds are being used to reduce the outstanding government debt in the hands of private holders." He might have added but didn't—it is also crystal clear the budget is unbalanced indefinitely, and the funds cannot be used to retire debt until the budget is balanced, so meanwhile the reverse is true.

500 BOY SCOUTS TO TAKE PART IN PLACENTIA EVENTS

With most of the troops throughout Orange county entering the annual pow wow and field day to be held at Placentia tomorrow starting at 9 o'clock, the total registration number is nearing the 500 mark.

The events which have been scheduled for the day are as follows: 9-9:15, registration; 9:15-9:30, water boiling; 9:30-9:50, semaphore signaling; 9:50-10, fire by flint and steel; 10-10:30, flapjack cooking; 10:30-10:50, Morse code; 10:50-11:05, fire by friction; 11:05-11:25, knot tying; 11:25-12, first aid; 12-12:30, archery exhibit and camp inspection. The public has been invited to attend to witness any of these exhibitions.

Committee In Charge
Earl Denney, chairman of the American Legion troop 100 of Placentia and his committee, composed of Charles B. Reed, Gordon Walker, Warren Bradford, O. D. Beck, Dr. S. Cortez, chairman of district 5, and R. M. Seamans, district 5 commissioner, arranged the program.

The pow wow will be a celebration of Boy Scout week, which started last Wednesday and which will be terminated February 14.

The committee taking charge of the track and field events which will take place in the afternoon is composed of Stewart N. White, of Orange and Coach Ryan, of Anaheim. Unlike previous pow wows this one will be run on the individual basis, with awards being made to the individual Scouts rather than their troop.

Plan Grand Prize
There will be one grand prize which will go to the troop amassing the greatest number of points throughout the day but emphasis remains on the ability of the individual boy, it was stated by Merle J. Krulish, field scout executive, Boy Scouts of America.

Copies of Bills Available Now At S. A. Library

For the benefit of Santa Ana citizens who are interested in activities of the state senate and assembly, bills and resolutions to be handled by the senate and assembly soon, are being received at the public library, Miss Ethel Walker, librarian, announced today.

During the session of the senate and assembly copies will be provided of the weekly and monthly journals of senate and assembly activities for the local library, Miss Walker said. Senate and assembly are now in recess.

DESSERT BRIDGE

BALBOA ISLAND, Feb. 10.—Card club members were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. William Langjahr who entertained the group with a dessert bridge at the family home, 203 Opal avenue. February 21 will be the date of the next meeting. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Shook and Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Diltz, Balboa Island; and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamblot of Costa Mesa.

Citrus Growers To Visit Station At Riverside Feb. 24

February 24 has been set for the next Orange county citrus growers' tour to the Citrus Experiment station at Riverside. Arrangements have been completed between Director L. D. Batchelor of the experiment station and Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg to conduct the local growers through the various experimental plots and explain the current investigational projects underway at the institution.

Staff members will give progress reports on granulation of Valencia oranges, citrus fertilization, irrigation investigations, orchard heater tests, bud selection and scaly bark, pest control investigations and others.

All growers are invited to join the caravans, which will leave Olive and Placentia simultaneously at 8 a. m.

Traffic accidents have increased, but the use of motor vehicles has increased more, so as a consequence since 1925, the death rate based on mileage has decreased 17 per cent.

$400 COLLECTED IN S. A. POLIO DRIVE

With several organizations still to make reports, funds collected here in the infantile paralysis campaign stand at slightly over $400, it was announced today by Curtis S. Burrow, Santa Ana chairman of the drive.

Half of the funds collected will remain in Southern California, with the remainder sent to national headquarters. The Southland funds will be dispensed by a committee made up of representatives of the southern counties. Orange county will have one representative on the committee.

Burrow today expressed his thanks for the work done by groups and individuals in the campaign here. Organizations which aided in selling the buttons included the Job's Daughters, Junior Ebell club, Legion auxiliary and Junior auxiliary.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Reception to Honor
New Ministerial Family

Meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors, members of St. Peter Lutheran Ladies' Aid society devoted much of the time to plans for a reception with which they will honor their new pastor, the Rev. George Busdieck, and his family.

Mrs. Lydia Yetmar conducted the afternoon session, which opened with devotions led by Mrs. Minnie Jones. Mrs. Hannah Faccou had charge of the missionary lesson interval. Mrs. Amanda Almquist was welcomed to membership in the society.

Sunday evening at 6 o'clock was set as time for the reception for the new ministerial family, and all members and friends of the church will be cordially greeted, and be given opportunity to greet the guests of honor. Mrs. Yetmar will have charge of the special program, and chairmen to plan other details with the aid of their individual groups, will be Mrs. Harold Faccou, Mrs. William Fields and Mrs. George Braun.

Martha Washingtons

Spending the afternoon sewing and chatting, nine members of Martha Washington club were guests Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Millie West, 2000 South Ross street. A colorful bouquet of ranunculus blossoms was used in decorating for the affair, which began with the serving of luncheon.

The next meeting will be held February 22 in the home of Mrs. Mamie Zimmerman.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Neer and little daughter, Carol Ann returned recently from a two weeks' vacation spent at Palm Springs and Lake Elsinore.

Mrs. A. B. DeHaan and young daughter Jacquelyn have arrived from Sioux City, Iowa, for a visit with Mrs. Janet DeHaan, 611 1/2 West Eighth street. This is their first California visit, and their hostess has interesting plans for showing them as much of the Southland as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Penn, 2023 North Main street left Tuesday for Twenty-Nine Palms where they will spend a month in one of the Rev. W. S. Buchanan's cottages at Indian Village.

Mrs. A. W. Gerrard has returned to Glendale after a few days' visit with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop O. Gordon of this city. Mr. Gerrard, who is in a Glendale sanitarium, is reported improved in health.

George Gaylord, Pacific avenue, Tustin has received his bachelor of education degree from San Diego State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holliday, Sycamore street, Tustin, have as houseguests, their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Decker of Nebraska. Mrs. Holliday just recently returned from Long Beach, where she had been with her mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Wilson during the latter's illness. Mrs. Wilson is reported improved in health.

Spending the week-end with relatives in Hanford, Miss Paula Purvis and her fellow student at junior college, Preston Piper, enjoyed among other events, the snow sports at Sequia National park. They were accompanied back to Santa Ana by Mrs. Beulah Davis of Hanford, aunt of Miss Purvis.

Mrs. E. D. White, 2115 North Broadway has returned from a several days' visit in San Francisco, where she attended the exposition, and in Oakland, where she was a guest of friends. She went north for California Federation of Women's club board meeting at which plans were made for a convention to be held in Oakland in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wakefield, Miss Carolyn Borchard, Miss Nellie Colombini and Denon Mosier formed a skating party Sunday at the Polar Palace. Sixteen members of one of the First Presbyterian Sunday school classes enjoyed a snow party Saturday at Big Pines for tobogganing, skating and other winter sports. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland and R. C. Holles accompanied the young people.

Formation Of New P. E. O.
Chapter Is Accomplished

Plans which have been under consideration for several months, for the formation of a new chapter of the P.E.O. Sisterhood, have reached a successful conclusion, and to the community has been presented the new Chapter JJ, P.E.O., as result of institution ceremonies held yesterday in Ebells clubhouse.

Santa Ana's three established chapters took warm interest in the plan, and their members were joined in yesterday's formal proceedings by state officers of prominence, including the president, Mrs. Frances Smith of Piedmont, and the organizer, Mrs. Ethel Desparois of Los Angeles.

Acacia's spray of golden blossoms were combined with white flowers in effective garlanding of the clubhouse, and the table where Ebells Current Events section served the tempting luncheon. On the decorating committee were Mesdames Velda Gustlin of DI, Janet Crookshank, AB, Helen Honer, Violet Stauffer and Zella Thompson, GJ.

Presidents of the three chapters formed a receiving line, with Mrs. Anne Allen, later accorded the presidency of the new chapter. The others were Mesdames Agnes Sprague, AB, Stella Mae Nau, DI, and Eunice Caldwell, GJ.

With the formal acceptance of the chapter came initiation rites for the new members, in charge of Mrs. Desparois. Assisting her at this time were Mesdames Vera Nisson, Betty Henderson and Mary Newcom, AB; Ray Phillips and Florence Fuller, DI, and Marie Carter, GJ. Guards for the candidates were Hazel Bond, GJ, Frances Plumb, DI, and Florence Newman, AB.

New Officers.

New officers for Chapter JJ were chosen from the list of those who entered membership by ballot from other chapters. The official list, headed by Mrs. Anne Allen, president, is Mrs. Ione Valier, vice president; Mrs. Mary Parker, recording secretary; Mrs. Jennie Crawford, corresponding secretary; Miss Marian Parker, treasurer; Mrs. Coralynn Thompson, chaplain; Mrs. Emma Berry, guard.

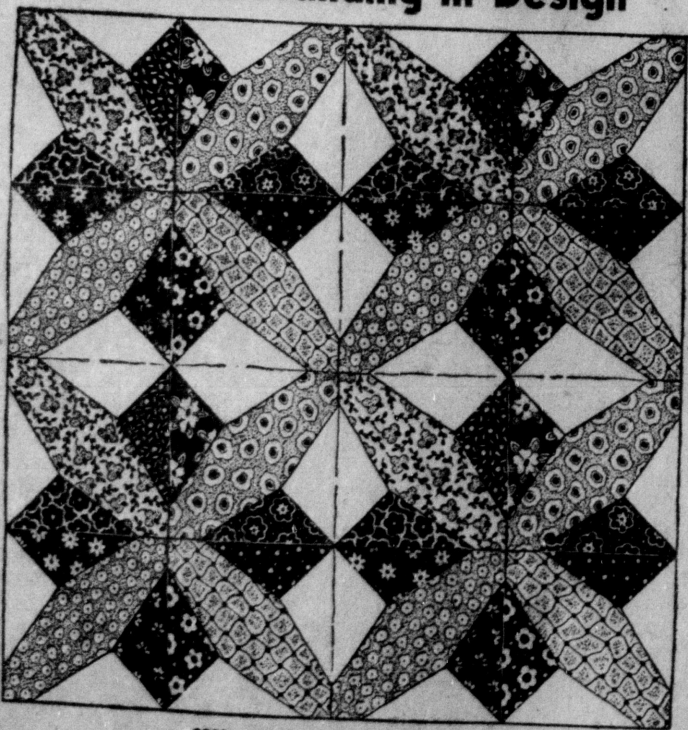

Other members include Mrs. Corlayne Meiklejohn, Miss Lula Walker and Miss Nettie Metcalf, by ballot, and Mesdames Rose Havely, Lowell Robbins, Bessie Nalle, Florence Alexander and Jane Warner by initiation.

State President Frances Smith had assistance of a group of local members acting as officers for the day. These were Mesdames ZeZella Thomson (GJ) as general secretary; Ray Phillips (DI) as corresponding secretary, and Betty Henderson (AB) as recording secretary.

A short musical program featured solos by Jeff Brisco (AB) with Katherine Neff (DI) as her accompanist. Her songs were "Love Never Fails" (Root), "Maying With You" (Spoon) and "I Wonder Why?" (Lieurance).

Three past state presidents were present for the day's events, Lucille Miller of Whittier; Leah Shirley of Long Beach, and Maude Wagner of Placentia. Other distinguished guests were the supreme corresponding secretary, Dorothy Weller of Glendale; and several state officers accompanying President Frances Smith and Organizer Ethel Desparois. They were Ruth White of San Diego, vice president; Mayla Sandbeck, Los Angeles, corresponding secretary, and Beryl Munkelt, San Diego, treasurer.

Anna Robbins, executive secretary of the P. E. O. Home at Alhambra, and Maude Post, chairman of the board of trustees, were among special guests, relating things of interest about the pleasantly located home where there are now 42 residents. It was brought out in the afternoon session that there are more than 8000 active P. E. O. members in California alone. The national organization has an educational fund of $800,000, and is aiding 6500 young women secure education, in addition to other worthy enterprises.

Golden State R. N. A.
Has Unusual Program

Golden State camp R.N.A. held its first meeting since installation of officers Wednesday evening in M.W.A. hall, with the new oracle, Mrs. Robert Browning presiding. Potted plants in valentine mats were at each officer's station.

Fred Anderson provided an unusual program during which recordings were played of the explosion and other happenings connected with the destruction of the German dirigible, Hindenburg. Later in the evening, tables were set up for card play. Winning prizes in hearts were Bert Fletcher and Miss Katherine Serger, who scored high and low.

Heart centerpieces adorned tables at which salad and coffee were served. On the committee were the oracle, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Maxine Wilson and Miss Nadene Pennington.

Washington's birthday will be celebrated at the next meeting, February 22.

Day at Palm Springs

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Turton, 1325 Martha Lane and their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Price of Gering, Nebr., formerly of this city spent Tuesday in Palm Springs with Mrs. William Nielsen of this city.

Mrs. Nielsen, who has been at the resort for the past few weeks, expects to return home March 1 greatly improved in health. Mr. Nielsen, Santa Ana police officer, was at the desert Tuesday when the guests arrived. Mrs. Turton provided a decorated cake in celebration of the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stroutman of who often observe their anniversaries together.

Mr. and Mrs. Price and their little daughter Phyllis are spending a month in the Southland, dividing the stay between the homes of Mrs. Price's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Stoutman of Long Beach, formerly of this city, and Santa Ana friends.

Relief Corps Meets

Injecting a sad note into Wednesday afternoon's meeting of Sedgwick W. R. C. in M. W. A. hall was the draping of the charter in memory of Mrs. Anna Scott. Mrs. Alice Milligan, president, was in charge.

It was reported that 55 calls had been made, and bouquets to the amount of $2.50, distributed. Department-general orders read included announcement that a membership drive will start soon. Department convention will be held April 30 to May 5 in Berkeley.

The group received invitation to take part in a flag pageant February 16 at Los Angeles Angelus temple.

Mrs. W. A. Jordan of Boston, Mass. was a guest at the meeting. Plans were made to hold a covered-dish luncheon preceding the next meeting, February 22. February birthday celebrants will be honored.

Mrs. Cameron's Club

Mrs. George Miles and Mrs. Charles Givens were guests sharing a bridge club party with ten members Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Lawrence Cameron was hostess at Danigers. Flowers and other decorations were in valentine motif.

Served with the last course of luncheon was cherry pie, in furtherance of the vivid color scheme. Mrs. Don Jerome and Mrs. R. D. Crenshaw won prizes for their high scores in bridge. Mrs. Crenshaw will entertain the club in March.

Second Household Group
Gives Benefit Card Party

Ebells clubhouse peacock room radiated the charm of early spring Wednesday afternoon for a very successful benefit bridge. Flowering quince in graceful sprays decked the stage, forming play which progressed at 45 a pleasing background for bridge tables.

Receiving guests were the leader, Mrs. R. C. Holles and members of the hostess committee, Mesdames R. P. Yeagle, C. M. Deakins, Susan Rutherford and Clyde Walker. Lending their assistance were the section's program committee, Mrs. C. W. Harrison, Mrs. Hal McCullough and Mrs. Rutherford.

Dessert was served at tables flaunting gay valentine frills. Two centered with small potted ferns larger plants served as door prizes.

Woman's Club Sections
Plan Activities

Woman's club section activities for next week will open Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock with a meeting of Poetry section in the home of Mrs. Frank G. Jones, 1139 South Barton street.

Each member of the section is requested to bring an original poem, as well as a favorite poem by some other author. Guests are welcome, and need not feel obligated to take part in the program, it was announced.

Philanthropy section will have a benefit card party Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. William Kenny, 829 South Sycamore street, where dessert will be served in advance of card play.

Homecraft section members are requested to reserve Wednesday afternoon for a meeting, details of which will be announced later.

Saturday Party Plans

Episcopal St. Elizabeth's Guild has plans all in readiness for a benefit dessert bridge party to be held Saturday afternoon at one o'clock in the home of Mrs. Emil Wagner, 2402 Bonnie Brae. Mrs. Frederic Dunston is general chairman of the event.

Party arrangements were discussed Wednesday evening when members met in the home of Mrs. A. J. McKierley, 730 South Broadway. Miss Janet Humphrey, leader of the Guild is aiding in general plans, while Mrs. Frank Windle, telephone 9093R, is in charge of tickets.

Mrs. McKierley and Mrs. Preston Turner were co-hostesses at Wednesday night's meeting. They served tea and wafers at the close of a session of missionary sewing.

Modern Trends Section

T. E. Stephenson, president of Orange County Historical society, gave a fascinating talk on "Orange County History" Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of Ebells Modern Trends section in the home of Mrs. Harold Dale, 516 West Nineteenth street.

Mrs. Dale and her co-hostess, Mrs. George Walker served tea at the close of the program. Next meeting will be held March 8 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Charles McDaniel Jr., 2446 North Park boulevard, with Mrs. Jack Hanna as co-hostess.

Dessert Bridge Club

Members of Mrs. Fleetwood Bell's Tuesday afternoon bridge club were her guests this week in her home, 2015 North Broadway. Mrs. C. F. Skirvin and Mrs. F. E. Earel held the two high scores of the day.

Mrs. Bell began her hospitality with the serving of dessert. Mrs. E. D. Froeschle was a guest spending the afternoon with 11 members.

In Coulson Home

Bridge play in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Coulson, 1327 North Flower street, was shared Wednesday night by club members who have been enjoying such get-togethers for the past few years.

Three tables of cards were in play during the evening, with high scores held by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAdoo. Refreshments were served by the hosts.

Past Presidents Club
Has Enjoyable Event

Suggesting the approach of St. Valentine's day were decorative features of a meeting of Sarah A. Rounds ten D.U.V. Past Presidents club yesterday afternoon at Cleveland's Cottage, 510 South Main street.

Hostesses were Mrs. Carrie Smith and Mrs. Lucilla Hill. They had chosen valentine placecards and other colorful appointments for the tables at which individual cherry pies were served with coffee. Mrs. Fannie Nau, president of the tent, was a guest sharing the event with 16 past presidents.

Members chatted and sewed during the afternoon. Mrs. Addie Gardner, president, conducted a meeting during which members planned to send flowers to Mrs. Anna Derr, the tent's press chairman, who is in St. Joseph hospital recuperating from injuries received late last week in an automobile accident.

Hostesses at the next meeting, March 9 will be Miss Bertha Belt and Mrs. Jessie Overton.

St. Joseph Altar Society
Greets New Members

Four new members were welcomed Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of St. Joseph Altar society in the home of Mrs. Frank Curran, 2003 Victoria Drive. Mesdames Edward Lembke, Thomas Welch, Andrew Kramer and Elizabeth Jeffries are the additions to the society.

The Rev. Father Francis O'Brien was present for the event. Plans were made to hold the next meeting in the home of Mrs. R. G. Tut-hill, 2035 Victoria Drive, with the date to be announced later.

Sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served by Mrs. Curran and her daughter, Miss Frances Curran, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Taylor and Mrs. Mae Dierker of the hostess committee. Bridge play brought prizes for Mrs. Robert Sandon and Mrs. George Raven-kamp.

Mrs. Curran's daughter-in-law and grandson, Mrs. Frank Curran, Jr. (Nan Mead) and Master William Dwight Curran, Jr. were guests at the meeting.

Guest at Club Affair

Sharing a pleasant afternoon with bridge club members assembled Wednesday in the home of Mrs. A. E. Wallace, 501 East Washington avenue was the hostess' houseguest, Mrs. F. W. Crawford of Niles, Mich.

Mrs. Crawford assisted in carrying out the various party plans. Sweet peas centered the table at which guests were seated for a pleasant luncheon interval. Scoring high in bridge were Mrs. W. W. Hyde and Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis.

Comus Club Dance

Comus club members are anticipating their February dance as an event of next Thursday evening at 9:30 o'clock at Santa Ana Country club. Hosts will be Messrs. and Mesdames John Cannon, Bruce Monroe, Lyle Anderson, Wendell Finley and Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Quill Pen club members were notified today of a change in plan for next Monday night's meeting. Instead of convening in the home of Miss Verne Wells, the group will be entertained at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. U. Viau, 325 South Orange street, Orange.

Fifth Household Economics section of Ebells society will meet for noon-day luncheon Tuesday in the Doris Kathryn, with a hostess group composed of Mesdames Howard Stone, J. H. Pankey, Margaret Bodgmeier and Severin Schulte. Section members are asked to telephone their reservations to some one member of the group.

A Flower Arrangement lecture by J. Gregory Conway will be featured Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in Willard auditorium. This will be under auspices of adult education department, and will be open to anyone interested in the lecture subject, "Flower Arrangements Around the World."

Legion Mothers club will have a special meeting, quilting Monday in Veterans hall. Covered-dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Antique Section Reviews
Days Of Spanish Romance

It was like stepping back through the decades to the Southland's most glamorous era when Ebells Antique section members visited the little Mission Village of San Juan Capistrano Wednesday, and were taken on a tour of ancient adobe houses under guidance of Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Bowers Memorial Museum curator.

The village is famous as the last of the state's old Spanish pueblos, and section members were privileged to enter homes that seem to breathe the very spirit of the Days of the Don. The party of fifteen met Mrs. Coulter at the gates to Mission San Juan Capistrano and she took them to the delightful home of Mrs. George VanderLeck, herself a lineal descendant of the Sepulvedas.

Mrs. VanderLeck's cousin, Mrs. Zoila Smythe, who belongs to the Yorba family although she and Mrs. VanderLeck had the same great-grandfather, acted as guide in taking the group over the home. Its handsome furnishings remain the same as in the days of the Spanish rule in the Southland, and its treasures of silver, china and priceless Bohemian glass were open to the awed inspection of the Ebells group.

No less interesting were the vistas of arbors, terraces and archways of the garden, once the scene of much lavish hospitality, and all commanded by windows of the home.

All the romance of Juan Flores, famous hand of the early days, and his sweetheart, Chola Marti-no, was recalled when a visit was made to the little adobe home where Chola Marti-na lived to a ripe old age, and where her home is changed little by the passing years. In addition, Mrs. Coulter related domestic tales of the country's old Spanish families, many of whom played prominent parts in the affairs of the Mission. Included were the Avilas, the Piccos, the Aguilars, Sepulvedas and Yorbas. Their extensive holdings were land grants from the Spanish crown, and their lives were filled with romance.

As climax to the tour, the group sought the El Padre cafe there to enjoy a luncheon of Spanish fare in keeping with the days events.

Surprise Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Endres' attractive new home, 1341 West Ninth street, was scene of a housewarming Tuesday night when a friendly group arrived for a surprise party. The self-invited guests presented the honored couple with a picture to go over the mantel.

More than 20 guests took part in the affair, spending the evening playing Chinese checkers and cards. Mrs. E. A. Daniels had planned the hospitality, concluded with the serving of cake and coffee.

Election of Officers

Delta Gamma Chi members elected officers Tuesday night when they met in the home of Miss Phyllis White, 611 West Fifth street. On the staff are the Misses Jeanne Thwaite, president, Betty Johnson, vice-president; Phyllis White, treasurer, and Sadie Mason, reporter.

The hostess served chocolate pie to her guests. They discussed plans for a rush party to be held February 16 at 7 p. m. in the home of Miss Johnson, 405 East Washington avenue.

Newly-Wedded Couple
To Reside in Los Angeles

Following their wedding January 28 in Pasadena Church of the Angels, Bruce Glenn Gardner of this city and his bride, the former Miss Lillian Simpson Gregg of La Habra Heights are now establishing their home in Los Angeles.

Two hundred guests attended the rites, read at 3 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. Edwin Moss. The bride wore a white satin gown en train, with a veil held in place by a crown of pearls. Her bouquet of roses and orchids was especially lovely. Miss Betty Jeffries of Los Angeles, as maid of honor, wore satin and carried Transvaal daisies. Similar bouquets were carried by the other attendants, Mrs. Virginia McClure of Beverly Hills, Miss Mary Virginia Fisher of La Habra Heights, Miss Meredith Lanterman of Beverly Hills and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Ann Gregg. Their frocks were of blue satin.

William Hudspeth Jr. of Santa Ana was best man. Ushers were Burton Gregg of La Habra Heights; Gary Ehmann, Long Beach; Robert Roth, Los Angeles and Wayne Baker, Beverly Hills. Robert Dozier of Garden Grove was vocal soloist for the rites.

Following the ceremony was a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Gregg of La Habra Heights. Decorations were flowers and candles in white, furthering a motif in evidence at the church.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Gardner have been honeymooning at Laguna Beach. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Harry G. Gardner of West First street and Newhope road, is a graduate of Occidental college. He had his early schooling in this city. His bride attended Beverly Hills High school. Occidental college and Chouinard Art school.

Birthday Observance
Marks X. N. O. Meeting

Mrs. R. A. McPhee was birthday honoree Wednesday afternoon when X. N. O. club members met in the home of Mrs. E. E. Edwards, 1635 West Fifth street. There were gifts for the celebrant, and a pretty cake with decorations in valentine red and white.

Mrs. J. T. Cherry, mother of Mrs. H. R. Trott of the club group, was welcomed as a new member. At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Edwards served a frozen dessert with the candle-lit birthday cake and other dainties.

Mrs. Edwards' sister-in-law, Mrs. Ada Roberts was a guest sharing the afternoon with 12 members. Next meeting will be held February 22 in the home of Mrs. W. R. Edwards, 2072 South Birch street.

Afternoon Tea Trimmings
Cut a lemon in paper-thin slices, add 2 drops of mint extract and cover dish tightly. Store for an hour or longer to ripen flavor. Arrange slices on small plate with edges overlapping. Slice lemon thin, stick a clove in center of each slice and pour a little rum over the slices half an hour before tea is to be served.

What goes up, must come down. That's a natural law applicable to everything but weight. Weight goes up easily, but sometimes the coming down is terribly hard. Let us help you reduce excess weight by sending a copy of our new diet sheet with its choice of three fine diets. Please enclose stamped, addressed envelope when writing for the diet sheet.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Spumoni
1 pint any flavor ice cream
1 cup slightly sweetened whipped cream, flavored as desired
¼ cup finely chopped nuts
Nutmeg
Paper muffin cups fitted into sherbet glasses.
A pint of ice cream will serve six. Divide the ice cream between the six paper-lined sherbet glasses, put a spoonful of whipped cream over ice cream, sprinkle with chopped nuts and dust with a mere suspicion of nutmeg.

Hot Crab Salad Serving Eight
1 pound flaked crab meat, washed and drained
1 large green pepper,
1 small onion and 1 bunch of celery, put through food chopper
1 cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper
¼ teaspoon celery seed
Dash of garlic salt
1 teaspoon steak sauce
¼ cup sherry (optional)
1 cup toasted buttered crumbs.
Combine ingredients in order listed. Mix lightly but thoroughly. Arrange in buttered shells or a large flat dish, generously buttered. Cover top with buttered crumbs and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Garnish baked portions with lemon slices dusted with paprika and chopped parsley.

When the meat for a meal is a trifle scant, use extra care in preparation of vegetables, particularly potatoes. A fine way to prepare potatoes for such emergencies is—
Potatoes Maitre d'Hotel
Parboil 1 quart sliced potatoes. Mix together:
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
Good dash of salt and pepper
¼ teaspoon, each, paprika and nutmeg.
Add juice of ½ lemon and heat with drained potatoes in double boiler, finishing the cooking of potatoes in this manner.
Just before serving add ½ cup hot cream.

School Principal Discusses Child Hobbies

Welcomed by four cordial hostesses, Ebell Child Study section members Wednesday night were received in the Harold Moomaw home, 2219 North Flower street, for an interesting program featuring Walter Egger, principal of Spurgeon school. Mrs. Moomaw, Mrs. Milo Tedstrom, Mrs. Kenneth Ranney and Mrs. Aubrey Glines formed the hostess group.

Mrs. Kenneth Conner, section leader, presided during the business session, after which the hostesses served a dessert course to the accompaniment of the lovely flower arrangement used by Mrs. Moomaw. Ranunculus blossoms in jewel tones, sweet peas and other flowers of the early spring were used.

"Children's Hobbies" was the theme developed by the guest speaker, whose school work gives him opportunity to acquaint himself with the subject. He read several compositions by school children describing their hobbies, which added to the interest of his talk.

Co-Hostesses Entertain At Layette Shower

When Mrs. Clyde Cave and Mrs. J. C. Johnson joined as hostesses at a pretty affair Tuesday evening in Mrs. Cave's home, 2107 North Ross street, they complimented Mrs. Roy W. Siden.

Twenty-four guests took part in the event, showering the honoree with layette gifts. The prettily-wrapped packages filled a bathinet which several of the guests joined in presenting Mrs. Siden.

Baby pictures on the wall and other appointments suggested the nature of the occasion. Games were played and prize awards were in the prevailing motif. Pink and white sweet peas surrounding a stork figure added to the charm of the candle-lit table in the dining room, while pink carnations and white stocks formed other bouquets. The hostesses served pink Bavarian cream, dainty cookies and coffee.

Layette Shower Given By Hostess Trio

Mrs. Walter Garrett was inspiration for a layette shower Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Erroll H. Barnes, 629 North Van Ness avenue. Hostesses with Mrs. Barnes were Mrs. Neff Morrison and Mrs. M. P. Cumberworth.

Pink and white sweet peas and stocks provided a background for events of the afternoon. Prizes in games were won by Mrs. D. P. Leonard, Mrs. Charles Olsen and Miss Irene Hunter. Accompanying each of the shower packages received by Mrs. Garrett was a clever verse.

Tiny pink baby carriages appointed small tables at which refreshments were served to 16 guests.

Send your order to Register Pattern Department, Santa Ana.

Valentine Party Comes As Birthday Observance

Mrs. Helenruth Travers' birthday was observed Wednesday night with a pretty affair which Miss Gertrude Link gave in her home, 1214 North Broadway, where all decorations suggested the approach of St. Valentine's day.

Two tables of bridge were in play with the result that Mrs. George Charlton and Mrs. Robert Burson, both of Brea, held the two highest scores. Birthday gifts were presented to the honoree.

Red roses and matching tapers centered the dining room table at which salad in red and white was served with decorated birthday cake and coffee.

Piano Students Present Successive Recitals

Among musical events of the past week, commanding the interest of two large guests groups, were two successive recitals at which Joseph Ogle presented groups of piano students in his spacious new studio, 410 West Camille street.

The first of these was an evening program featuring pupils from intermediate and advanced classes. Solos and four-hand compositions were included on the program. Prominent among the numbers were a Chopin Valse group played by Phyllis Brockbank, Merle Mae Weimer and Doris Gibson Cooper; "Kammenoi Ostrow" (Rubenstein) by Phyllis Brockbank, who also joined with Merle Mae Weimer in four-hand numbers by Moussorgsky and Schubert. Others on the program were Herbert Baird. Constance Block, Stuart Gibson, Betty Ogle, Charles Jester Jr., and Mary Anne Woodward.

Much interest was expressed in Mary Anne Woodward's playing of her own composition, "Lullaby." This melody was played recently by T. H. Warne, United Presbyterian church organist, and evoked much favorable comment and praise for the composer.

Quite as large an audience greeted the afternoon recital presenting Glenn Bassett, Kenneth Briggs, Jack Brockbank, Gordon Deckert, Dolores Elder, Jane McIntosh, Roger King, Shirley Ann Kipp, Kenneth Loughton Jr., Connie Murane, James McKeon, Richard Peterson, Norma Putnam, Natalie Putnam and Donna Reed.

An outstanding feature was the work done by young Roger King, just six years old, and a piano student for only the past five months. His work was so fine in four solos and a duet number played with his teacher, that the audience felt that Mr. Ogle's predictions of a brilliant future for him, were justified.

Tri-Quad Club Meets

Mrs. Virgil Reed was hostess Wednesday night to members of Tri-Quad Bridge club in her home, 521 South Broadway, entertaining with the assistance of her sister, Miss Grace Wurster.

Of the 12 members present, Mrs. Joseph May received a special welcome, since she was with the group for the first time following an operation which she underwent recently. Bridge play brought prizes for Miss Blanche Seigel and Mrs. May, who held the two highest scores. Mrs. Robert Lufbery was consoled.

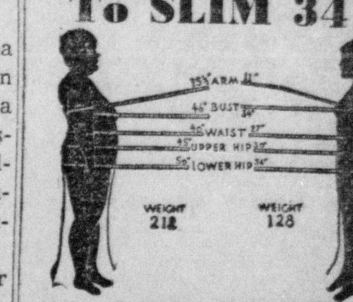

Mrs. Reed and her sister served creamed chicken at the close of the evening. Next meeting will be held in two weeks' time in the home of Miss Seigel in Costa Mesa.

Deputy Grand Guardian Visits Job's Daughters

Deputy Grand Guardian Edna Gastrich of Garden Grove paid an inspection visit to Santa Ana Bethel Job's Daughters Wednesday night in Masonic temple following a dinner attended by members, their parents and the council.

Miss Adelaide Johnson, junior queen, was in charge of the meeting in charge of the covered-dish dinner and valentine decorations. Mrs. Gastrich gave a talk at the table, and later in the evening at a regular meeting of the Bethel. She received a gift from the girls.

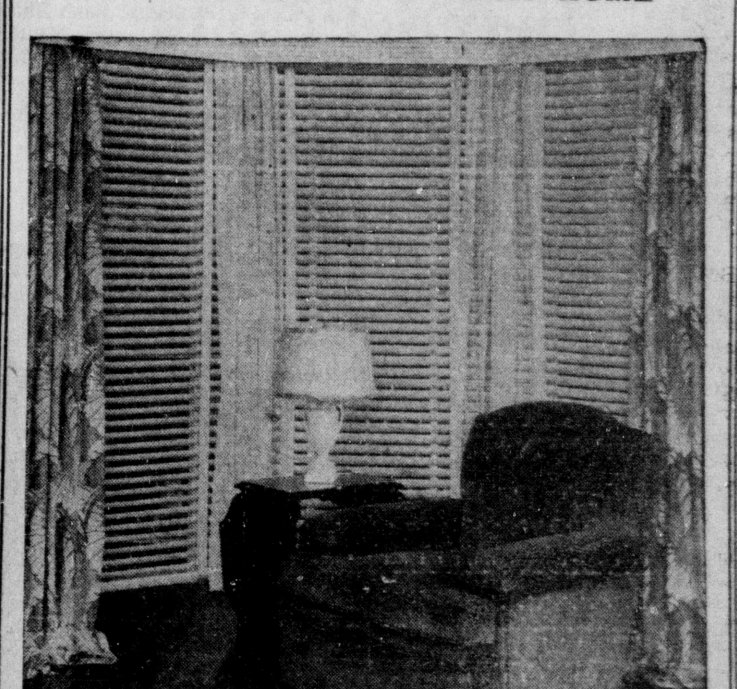

Miss Josephine Butler, honored queen, (was in charge of the meeting. The Misses Betty Lee Mills, Dorette Scott and Norma Lane were initiated. Plans were made to hold a snow party February 19 at Forest Home, with De Molays as guests. Announcement was made that the Daughters will be honored at a valentine party Saturday night at the Thomas-Dear-dorff barn, with Mothers' Circle members as hostesses.

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

SUPERVISOR GETS FARMERS' BACKING

VILLA PARK, Feb. 10.—Foot-hill Farm Center members went in record last night at a regular meeting held at Villa Park hall, in supporting Willard Smith, supervisor of the fourth district in his stand that this district should not be included in a county plumbing and electrical ordinance which is in effect in other districts of the county.

Women of the center had charge of the meeting last night under the direction of Mrs. R. J. Mueller, chairman of the Foot-hill Home department. Mrs. J. A. Porter presented the director's report and presided while other reports were given. Mrs. D. J. Linnartz gave the report of the Sunkist 4-H club; Henry Campbell the citrus report; Mrs. J. W. Crawford the avocado report; Mrs. Thomas Hight progress on dress forms; Mrs. Harry Riehl, membership; Mrs. August Heinemann, poultry; Mrs. H. H. Gardner, officers training school and convention.

Mrs. R. J. Mankosky acted as secretary and Mrs. Frank Collins and Mrs. Thomas Hight were in the hospitality committee. Men of the center served the dinner under the direction of R. J. Mueller. Assisting him were John Maag, Roy Kuechel, E. B. Workman, August Heinemann, C. W. Armstrong, Fred Heitsch, Louis Morner, Royal J. Mueller, and Kenneth Mueller.

Julia Ann Hyde of Santa Ana showed interesting colored motion pictures of the Yukon Circle trip telling of incidents of trips she has taken. W. M. Cory stated that airplane pictures of the county are available at the farm bureau office. H. H. Gardner gave the county director's report. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hayes and Miss Frances Liles were special guests.

WOMEN HEAR TUCKER ON LAW

Points in California law with which every woman should be familiar, were discussed last night by Attorney James B. Tucker for the benefit of Altrusa club members when they dined at Danigers with him as their guest speaker.

Among matters clarified for the clubwomen were those pertaining to property ownership, with separate, community and joint tenancy property classified and explained. Possible unification of laws of the different states also was discussed, and innumerable things pertaining to legal usage, all salted with dramatic or humorous stories of actual court cases and happenings.

To Attend Dinner
Miss Irene McPaul presided over the business meeting, and read an invitation from Santa Barbara Altrusa to a dinner honoring the district governor, Abbie Crabb Keith of Phoenix, on Saturday night, February 18 in Hotel Samarkand.

Several Santa Ana members plan to be present. She also appointed a committee to prepare this coming issue of the district publication, "The Round-Up," with Mrs. Cora Prather, Miss Opal Davis, Mrs. Bess Mathis and Mrs. Emmett Elliott in charge.

'Leopard of Air' To Be Shown Soon

Capt. C. W. R. Knight, described as one of the best lecturers in the country, will show his new motion picture, "The Leopard of the Air," at Bridges auditorium, Claremont, Monday at 8:15 p. m. in connection with the Claremont Colleges Lecture series, it was announced today. "The Leopard of the Air" is a pictorial record of Captain Knight's South African expedition sponsored by the National Geographic society. Besides the filming of eagles, the leopards of the air, he has recorded moving pictures at close quarters, of animals and natives of the jungles during his 20,000-mile journey.

Fire Chief Gives Annual Report

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 10.—Annual report prepared by Fire Chief Frank Crocker of Newport Beach shows a chargeable fire loss in 1938 for the city of Newport Beach of $1,087. Chargeable fire loss was classified as that occurring in permanent buildings of the community.

Her Fuselage Was Built In 2½ Hours

It took only two hours and 35 minutes to build the 120-pound fuselage for the above five-passenger plane. Reason: a new "plastic" process developed at Hagerstown, Md., which allows an entire section of the fuselage or wings to be molded at one time. "Duramold," a waterproof material consisting of strips of long grain wood, impregnated with bakelite synthetics, was used.

A letter from B. R. Paschall, president of Townsend club No. 4 of Lakeland, Fla., announced that they are out of song books and want another shipment at once.

In a recent issue of this paper we announced that L. E. Margason of Riverside would go to San Jacinto to perfect the organization of a new Townsend club, and now comes a letter from Mrs. Long of that thriving city announcing that they had secured their 30 required members to give them a charter and all were paid up. Their organization of the new club was perfected under the new set-up as advised by Dr. Townsend, and they elected their full advisory board and the board in turn selected for the president of the club Charles Long. All the other officers were selected, and Mrs. Long said the club "is getting off to a good start."

Tonight will be a gala time at the Townsend Auxiliary headquarters at 402 East Fourth street, when a fish dinner will be served to the Townsend club members of Orange county, and also to the public. The highlight of the evening's program will be an address by Senator Harry C. Westover, who will discuss the legislative work. Following his address, the meeting will go into a round table session for a discussion of this much talked-of question. Townsend people are greatly interested that many changes be made in the present law and especially as to the law governing the activities of the welfare employees. J. H. Walsh will be master of ceremonies and the public is invited.

'Humane Bits'

By FLORENCE A. ROBINSON

Continuing from last week, Frieda Anderson's John the Second (the spoiled cat) is a very particular eater, preferring a balanced diet of steak with vegetables and he believes in licking the hand that feeds him, not biting as history shows John the Second of France did. The latter robbed the treasury, oppressed his tax-paying subjects and gave himself to riotous living.

Our young friend of the Anderson clan was saved from an early demise when he lost his mother at the tender age of three days, by the love and sympathy of Mrs. Anderson, aided and abetted by a cheering family, not to mention a medicine dropper and swaddling clothes of warm cotton. Exactly like John the Second of Portugal, who never seemed to outgrow his premature birth and delicate childhood, and who, although called John the Perfect, died without issue. Our feline

John, too, will die without issue as any genetical instincts he may have had have long since been eradicated.

We find a John the Second in the records of Castile, and 'tis said of him that he was amiable and independent though weak, and with no taste for ornaments. Friend John the Second (Anderson) is most pleasing in disposition, greeting all comers from atop Anderson's office desk, and he too is just a little weak, in that he hankers after the feminine members of the household and refuses to sleep on the foot of anyone's bed than that of his beloved mistress. And he abhors Christmas neckbows and cat collars.

Topsy, a plump little blonde in spite of her name, has come to live with the "Pop" Elderson of Garden Grove. Topsy is a cunning little Cocker spaniel and we are happy to say our Wag's winning ways, while vacationing at Big Bear last summer, made young Master Danny and Miss Ruth simply "Cocker hungry." So Topsy has come to live in that happy home. Twelve new members at one meeting was the record set at the last meeting of the Orange County Humane society, last Tuesday evening.

Internal Strife In U. S. Hit In Resolution Before Nation's Y. M.

A resolution adopted by the national board of the Y. M. C. A. and which warns that internal and civic indifference are greater menaces to American democracy than attacks from other countries will be presented to the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. board next Monday for approval. It was announced today by H. G. Nelson, president.

Associations throughout the country are urged by the national board to make their programs "veritable schools of democracy" and to provide their members and participants with opportunities for study and experience in the application of democracy.

Primary Concern
The resolution, in part, follows: "The preservation and enhancement of democracy should be of primary concern to all citizens in the present hour. Challenges which cannot be ignored have arisen in recent years to shock all of us out of complacent acceptance of the heritage won with such difficulty by our forefathers. The more audacious and articulate attacks come from fascism, communism, and national socialism; those which are more subtle and possibly more dangerous arise out of internal divisiveness, civic indifference, and confusion over our unsolved economic and social problems. To preserve democracy in America we must make it work; and by so doing the dangers of both fascism and communism can best be avoided."

Is Crowning Glory
"The crowning glory of the American Constitution is the Bill of Rights. The most important privileges we enjoy under our form of government are freedom of worship, and freedom of speech and assembly as stipulated in Article I. The possession of these basic rights is the best guarantee that democracy will remain flexible, responsive to changing conditions, and contributory to the highest spiritual values."

"Any resolving of the present crisis, or any methods looking toward a solution, which involve restriction of these rights, can be put down at once as unsound. We should continue to rely upon peaceful change as the American way toward a higher standard of living and of culture. Force, violence and repression are not consistent with either the democratic or the Christian viewpoint. "The struggle to realize democracy should be carried on along sane lines in keeping with American ideals. The best method will be by an unselfish and intelligent approach to national and international problems. A major need is leadership. Among youth are many who should be aided in recapturing an enthusiasm for true Americanism, repudiating false prophets and faiths, and giving themselves to a broad-gauged service in the national interest."

Book Reviews Tea Held In Tustin

TUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Approximately 40 women attended the recent benefit book review tea given by Tustin Union High school P. T. A. at the school cafeteria. Mrs. J. Tucker Murray, of San Clemente, reviewed two adventure books, "Listen, the Wind," by Ann Lindbergh and "Enchanted Vagabonds," by Dana Lamb.

Refreshments of home-made cookies, candied walnuts and tea were served at a lace-spread tea table, centered with an immense bouquet of pink sweet peas. Mrs. J. L. Marshall and Miss Clara Macomber presided at the tea. Proceeds of the affair will go to the Tustin library.

In charge of arrangements were Mesdames Earl Casey, Porter Luther, Carl Becker, Guy Christian, Gilbert Martien and George Vech.

Jeffers. Having recently arrived from their home in Minnesota to spend some time at their orange ranch east of town, Mr. and Mrs. A.

ADVISOR TELLS IMPORTANCE OF COUNTY FARM COST STUDIES

The purpose and results of farm cost studies in Orange county were explained to the Lemon Men's club at the California Fruit Growers' Exchange recently by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, who has been directing the long time study on citrus fruits for over 12 years in Orange county.

"Production cost records are to the farmer what the compass is to the sailor," Wahlberg said. "The several cost studies conducted by the Agricultural Extension service in Orange county, covering all the principal crops of the county, are becoming increasingly valuable as a standard or yardstick by which the grower may compare the efficiency of his own field operations with the trends of costs and returns experienced by other growers in the same enterprise."

Irrigation Methods
"Efficiency of various orchard practices has been analyzed in these studies as exemplified in the comparison of irrigation methods and windbreak protection. Heavy, moderate and light irrigated orchards were segregated for a period of five years to not their response in yields and returns. The heavily irrigated orchards averaged 31 acre inches application during each year, showed average yields of 222 packed boxes per acre. The moderately irrigated orchards averaged 18 acre inches of water applied annually and reported an average yield of 241 packed boxes per acre. The lightly irrigated orchards averaging 11 acre inches annual application reported an average of only 171 packed boxes per acre. The highest net income per acre was secured by the moderately irrigated group, while the least income came to the heavily irrigated orchards."

Windbreaks Studied
"Windbreak protection was also evaluated. Thirteen orchards protected with windbreaks were compared with 13 unprotected orchards. The orchards were similar in age, soils and management, and differing only in protection facilities. The protected orchards reported an average yield of 268 packed boxes per acre, 81 per cent first grade fruit and an average income of $229 per acre. The unprotected orchards showed an average yield of 202 packed boxes per acre, 60 per cent first grade fruit and $137 returns per acre."

"These economic studies reveal that better than average yields per acre will be necessary to meet cost of production, furnish a living and meet indebtedness obligations. Among the factors making for better yields are fertility of soil and fertilizer practice; judicious irrigation practice; windbreak protection in exposed districts; proper pest control and replacement of diseased trees."

Lenke and three children, in company with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dungan and daughter, Miss Juanita Dungan, have been visiting various points of interest in Southern California during the past week.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 10.—Miss Mary Eastwood and Miss Virginia Ferguson, U.C.L.A. students are spending the two weeks of mid-year vacation at home and were in Los Angeles recently attending a party.

ELABORATES ON TALK ABOUT TAX

His remarks to Orange county legislators at a taxpayers meeting here Tuesday evening, urging against "education of more farm advisors," were not meant as a reflection upon the state university extension service, C. W. Musser, Anaheim rancher, explained in a statement today.

"The gist of my purpose," he said, "was to emphasize that although public service is rendered, it is not free, and the taxpayers should realize that they have to pay for it."

"Providing Jobs"
"I sometimes think that we are provided with various services partly for the purpose of providing jobs for young men being tained by the state, and that we get more service than we really need or can afford."

"But I want to be fair to the university extension service. It has done and is doing service of value, in the way of surveys and the like, when requested by farm groups. I intended no disparagement of the service."

Santa Ana-Tustin Group Re-Elects

Officers of the Santa Ana-Tustin Mutual Citrus association were re-elected at the annual meeting this week. A. J. Theis was reappointed manager.

Officers are Wyckoff Hoxie, president; G. W. Rockefeller, vice president; J. L. Bascom, secretary; R. P. Mitchell, assistant secretary; C. M. Deardorff, director. This announced today that his association would start work on navels next week.

YOU AND YOUR Nation's Affairs Never Too Many Producers

By WALTER E. SPAHR
Professor of Economics, New York University

All people are consumers, but not all are producers. Of our 130 million consumers, perhaps 50 million are producers — the exact figure is not known. But if we may assume, as a basis for our argument, that this crude estimate of the number of producers is reasonably accurate, then certain important facts and principles should stand out clearly.

The welfare of all people depends upon what these producers accomplish. The more the producers produce, the more there is to consume, and the higher the plane of living. That ought to be clear, but too many people still doubt the accuracy of that statement.

The doubters have developed a peculiar state of mind about this matter, and have, as a consequence, advocated or supported social programs that fly in the face of this simple principle as to how the plane of living for the great mass of people is raised. For example, there are all those programs, which involve a restriction of supply. There are programs to increase the costs of production, which means that less will be produced. There are programs to take people out of production so that there will be more consumers and fewer producers — for instance, the Townsend plan to remove older people from production so that there will be a place for more young people; or those programs to remove marriage from productive activity to make room for others. There are still other programs, such as the various spending, currency inflation, and "increased consumer purchasing power" programs which rest upon the assumption that relatively more consumption and relatively less production provide the clue to business recovery and prosperity.

There are some simple aspects of these questions that we should not overlook. Having more consumers does not mean that the plane of living is raised. Just the reverse is true; the more producers there are, the greater the possibilities of a higher level of living. Then we should not forget the fact that it is not a question of one producer keeping another producer out of a job; instead, we should realize that producers create a demand for the services of others. Many a man, by working overtime, has created a demand for the services of hundreds or thousands of his fellowmen. If every human self could produce enough for himself and a surplus besides, we would all be cared for. Every person who can meet his needs and create a demand for the services of other people is working in this direction. Every person taken out of production eats into the wealth of society while reducing the amount produced.

Therefore, every married woman who wishes to work and can find a job should be permitted and encouraged to work. Every person who will work overtime should be permitted to do so — assuming that his health is not impaired. Every increase in productive activity is good provided it is profitable — and the buying and selling by people in a free market will determine whether it is profitable.

Finally, let it not be forgotten that all consumer purchasing power is dependent in the long run upon the amount we produce. This fact is as certain as the force of gravity. The machinery of production and consumption may become stalled or get out of adjustment for many reasons, but these reasons should be investigated and separated from the many current notions, now sweeping this country, to the effect that there are too many producers. There cannot be too many producers! When anyone finds himself making any such assumptions, he should stop, and see just where he got off the track.

CLUB MEETS

CORONA DEL MAR, Feb. 10.—Corona del Mar Bridge club members were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Siegel at their home, 718 Jasmine avenue. Refreshments were served following card play. The D. S. Lloyd home at the state highway and Orihid avenue will be the setting for the February 21 meeting.

A mild, open winter free from heavy falls of snow usually means an increase of automobile travel throughout the country.

'Bill of Rights' Month Set Aside By Toastmasters

Toastmasters clubs of the United States will observe March as "Bill of Rights" month, with the various clubs planning programs and talks on the chosen theme, it was announced today by Ralph C. Smedley of Santa Ana, founder and secretary of Toastmasters' International.

Toastmasters clubs of Canada will set aside March for a study of their own constitution. There are 125 clubs of the organization in the United States.

Patriotism and good citizenship will be stressed in the programs being arranged by Toastmasters for March, Smedley said.

Delegates Named To Regatta Body

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 10.—Councilman E. B. Whitson and Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce have been named to represent the city of Newport Beach on the board of the Newport Harbor Regatta association. Soliland is one of the founders of the Newport Harbor Yacht club.

J. Sarpy Cabanne of Balboa Island is a new member of the firm of the Balboa Realty Exchange.

An interclass tract meet on Davidson Field Friday will open the track season for Newport Harbor Union high school students. Harbor high and Laguna Beach teams will meet February 21 on Davidson Field. Ralph Reed is coach of the local track team.

ASSOCIATION HOST

BUENA PARK, Feb. 10.—On February 14 the Lindbergh school will entertain the Orange County Association for Childhood Education at the schoolhouse. Tea will be served in the afternoon and the guest speaker will be Rolland Case Ross of Los Angeles, professor of science at U. C. L. A. His subject will be, "Enrichment of Your School Program." The public is cordially invited.

CONSIDER TAX FOR SALARIES

Should salaries of municipal employees, and municipal bonds, now tax-free, be taxed?

That is the question now being considered throughout the country, according to Paul V. Betters, executive director of the United States Conference of Mayors in a communication directed to the Santa Ana city council today.

Asks for Co's

"A special Senate committee is giving attention now to the proposal of the government to tax salaries of municipal employees and municipal bonds," Betters wrote. "In this connection we are most anxious to have copies of every resolution adopted by city councils on the subject." To date, council has not acted on the subject.

jimmie fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10.—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer—in spite of any reports you may hear to the contrary—has definitely decided to shelve for keeps the Spencer Tracy-Hedy Lamarr picture, "I Take This Woman." For some reason, the story wouldn't jell and Louis B. Mayer et al. after seeing the nearly completed production, decided that it would be wiser to take a million dollar loss than to risk the popularity of two very valuable stars. I want to doff my bonnet to both their business judgment and their sense of fair play.

Metro could have finished and released that picture, secure in the knowledge that the great Lamarr publicity campaign would have brought enough people into the theaters to pay back production cost. The average producer, confronted with such a problem, would have said without a minute's hesitation, "Let's get back the dough—to heck with the stars' reputations." And because that's the time-honored system in Hollywood, no one would have blamed him.

Metro differs from most studios because its powers-that-be have a habit of planning for the future. They know that a top-flight star—such a star as Hedy Lamarr promises to be—is worth millions in cold cash. And they know that a bad picture, at this stage of her career, can damage her irreparably. That million lost today can be recouped ten times over if her smashing success in "Algiers" is followed by other hits as good. That's logic—but even so, I think Mr. Mayer deserves a bouquet. A decision like that is easier to praise than to make.

CUFF NOTES: Loretta Young, having refused to re-sign with Twentieth Century-Fox, is packing for that long-planned European jaunt—her first stop to be Rome where she will be granted an audience by the Pope. . . . Don't discount that Hedy Lamarr-Gene Markey romance—they've reached the ultra-serious stage. . . . Bob Hope will be guest of honor on the American Legion's annual broadcast, come March 15. . . . Paulette Goddard and Sir Adrian Bailey, recently arrived from London, are a constant twosome—and Hollywood's buzzing. . . . It's Palm Springs on doctor's orders for Freddie Bartholomew—the cough that sent him to the desert some months ago is back again. . . . Spencer Tracy gets the last laugh in that feud with his studio anent polo-playing—he's just rented his ponies to Metro for plenty. . . . Sounds hopeless but they're trying to make a he-boy of Bobby Breen—first step in the campaign is the straightening of those cunning curls. . . . Ann Southern and Roger Pryor arrived in Youngstown last night, but they aren't speaking—Ann has laryngitis. . . . It's foils and sabres for Gilbert Roland—he's planning a try-out for the Olympic. . . . The latest romantic combo is Cesar Romero and Ann Sheridan—and it looks like the real thing this time. . . . Warner Brothers are bidding plenty for Gary Cooper and Henry Fonda to co-star in "The Story of the Wright Brothers," another aviation epic. . . . Betty Grable nixed all offers to appear with Jackie Coogan at the San Francisco fair—but agreed to do a solo for $2500 a week. . . . Results of a recent poll show Nelson Eddy's Australia's favorite film star, with Robert Taylor and Clark Gable rating show and place positions. . . .

An odd delay yesterday on the "Hell's Kitchen" set at Warner Brothers. The camera was set up and the Dead End Kids were in their places but the assistant cameraman, squinting through his finder, twice stopped the scene. "Can't figure it out," he muttered, "unless one of those Pests is gagging us with a pencil flashlight." Director Lew Seiler took over the eye-piece—and swarmed down on Dead-Ender Gabriel Dell with an order to "take off that ring!" Gabriel, dressed in the rags and tatters of the slums, was wearing a new five-carat diamond!

BOOS AND BOUQUETS: Best picture of the week is "Stage Coach"—a sure-fire entry for every "must-see" list. . . . and special bouquets to: John Ford for superb direction—Bert Glennon for inspiring photography—and Thomas Mitchell for one of the great performances of all time. . . . A chiding tch! tch! to Joan Blondell, who should have out-grown such childish tactics, for throwing temperamental tantrums at Universal and attempting to rule her set without consideration for fellow workers. . . . And a derisive snicker to Josef Von Sternberg for ordering his assistant to call the Chamber of Commerce when a plane flew high over his Metro set. . . .

Spencer Tracy took time off to tell me about the mid-winter hunting trip one of our biggest producers is taking in the wilds of Baja California. According to Spence, the mighty one is really roughing it this time—he took only two Yes-men.

ALL-COUNTY SCOUT MEETING SATURDAY

PLACENTIA, Feb. 10.—Tomorrow is the day of the big all-county Boy Scouts pow-wow at Valencia Union High school athletic field in Placentia in observation of National Boy Scout week. Five hundred Boy Scouts are expected to be there. The public is invited to attend the pow-wow and see the Scouts perform. Until noon on Saturday various scouting events will take place, including flapjack cooking, knot-tying, first aid, signaling, fire by friction, by flint and by steel, and water boiling. There will be four awards for each event. In the afternoon under the direction of Stewart N. White of Orange and Coach Dick Ryan of Anaheim, track and field meets will be held. Also during the afternoon various troops will play challenge basketball game. An archery exhibition will be given by William Carithers of Santa Ana and a model camp will be on display which is being presented by the Placentia troop 100. Heading the committee for the arrangements of the pow-wow are Earl Denney, chairman of troop 100, Placentia; Charles B. Reed, Scoutmaster troop 100, Placentia; Joe Severous, Scoutmaster troop 96, La Habra; C. A. Kirk, Scoutmaster troop 53, Orange; and members of the district executive committee which include Dr. Samuel Cortez, chairman of district 5; Earl Williams, vice-chairman; R. M. Seamans, commissioner of Scouting in district 5.

400 To Attend Seal Beach Lions Club Charter Night

MEETING WILL BE ON FEBRUARY 15

Stars In Play

FOURTH BURGLARY
BELIEVED SOLVED

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL NURSE

Meet the "Count"

By RAY THOMPSON and CHARLES COLL

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 10.—More than 400 guests from at least 12 Southern California cities are expected to meet here in gala celebration of the new Seal Beach Lions club charter night, next Wednesday evening, February 15. The affair will be held in the largest hall in the city, the Jewel building, at 208 Main street, with the banquet served at 7:30 o'clock. Presentation of the charter will be made by Ulrich Schmidt of Ontario, district governor of International Lions clubs, with President J. C. Felts receiving it on behalf of the local group. Entertainment, which will include solos by James McGarrigle, noted baritone of Long Beach, will be arranged by Cap Sheue of Huntington Beach, program chairman of the sponsoring club.

Assurance of the success of the affair was guaranteed here this week by the pledge of the Huntington Beach club to attend in a body, the action of Long Beach Lions club to dispense with their regular meeting in order to attend the banquet here, the promise of the county council of Lions clubs to forego their regular monthly meeting in order to attend, and the promise of many other clubs to send large delegations. Reports from the neighboring clubs have been brought in by President Felts, Paul Flagler, secretary, and F. H. Essert who have visited them in the past week.

Cities which will be represented by Lions club delegations are Huntington Beach, Long Beach, Laguna, Newport, Balboa, Pomona, Ontario, Brea, Orange, Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Anaheim and Seal Beach.

Fill Pulpit

COSTA MESA, Feb. 10.—Dr. James Dunning of Santa Ana, superintendent of the San Diego Episcopal district of the Methodist Episcopal church will be guest minister at the morning services of the Costa Mesa Community church, "I Am the Way," will be his sermon topic. Music will include quartet numbers by Miss Helen Davis, Miss Doris McMurry, Miss Avanel Nelson and Miss Betty Dodge. "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes to Thee," (Von Berge) will be the choir anthem with a selected number by the junior choir also scheduled.

The Rev. A. C. Abbe, Costa Mesa Community church minister, will preach on "Art Thou Also His Disciple?" at the evening service. Quartet numbers will be "Keep Me True," (Von Bruch) and "Make Me a Blessing," (Schuler). The young people's choir will sing "Wonderful Grace of Jesus," (Lil-Janes).

Both Boy Scout and Girl Scout officials of the community are to attend morning services in a body.

M. O. A. Club Is Entertained

COSTA MESA, Feb. 10.—M. O. A. club members were Tuesday guests at the home of Mrs. A. J. Lupton, 543 Victoria street for a late afternoon luncheon and period of hand work. Mrs. Lucille Paul was named as hostess for the February 21 meeting.

Present were Mrs. Frank Vile, Mrs. Warren Cook, Mrs. Ira Hartshorn, Mrs. Gordon Almond, Mrs. Bertram Smith, Mrs. Jennie Emerick, Mrs. Espe Williams, Mrs. Lucille Paul, Mrs. Ralph Vile and Mrs. Walter Marchbank.

Miss Jane Crawford, teacher of fifth grade at Oceanview school, takes the feminine lead in the three act, comedy farce entitled "Here Comes Charlie," which Oceanview Parent-Teacher association presents as a benefit at the school auditorium on the evening of Friday, February 24.

Sewing Club At Dinner Party

COSTA MESA, Feb. 10.—Arts and crafts section members of the Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club were Tuesday luncheon guests of the club president, Mrs. Ernest K. Kirby who entertained the group at her home, 273 Monte Vista avenue. Knitting and crocheting occupied the remainder of the afternoon.

Present were Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. N. O. Mellott, Mrs. W. B. Mellott, Mrs. L. C. Bixler, Mrs. S. A. Meyer, Mrs. Emily Jumer, Miss Alice Plumer, Miss Addie F. Yeaton, Mrs. Emma Estabrook, Mrs. Bertha Y. Davis, Mrs. Glenn Cheeseman, Mrs. George Bissett, Mrs. W. G. Walker, Mrs. J. O. Tallman, Mrs. J. C. Payne and Mrs. Merwin J. Fickas.

LIFE GUARDS MEETING. SEAL BEACH, Feb. 10.—Life guards from cities along the Southern California coast will meet here for an all day session on Tuesday, February 14, in the monthly meeting of the Public Beach Coordinating committee, according to Earl Whittington, Seal Beach life guard, who will be host for the day. Funds for a luncheon were provided by the city council. The meeting will be held in the auditorium at the city hall, Central avenue and Eighth street.

A fourth Orange county burglary, one committed on Christmas eve in 1936, was cleared up today, following the arrest of Delbert Davidson, 20, of Long Beach, and several companions, according to Davidson's purported confession.

Davidson assertedly confessed he entered the home of A. E. Arnold, of Cypress, December 24, 1936, stole $61 cash, then stole the Arnold car and abandoned it in El Centro. Davidson, reported leader of a gang of youths who committed 15 burglaries in Los Angeles and Orange county also assertedly declared he and others entered a Cypress cafe and Cypress market, and a Buena Park liquor store recently, obtaining several hundred dollars worth of loot.

Davidson, John B. Mayolette, 21, and Lawrence E. McCleary, 23, all of Long Beach, were brought here by Sheriff L. Elliott's men yesterday for prosecution on burglary charges. Other youths arrested in Long Beach will be prosecuted there, it was said. It is not likely that Davidson will be prosecuted for the alleged grand theft of the Arnold car, officials declared.

A man who represented himself as Elmer J. Stephenson and opened an account at a local store here on December 19, was sought today by Santa Ana police. After opening the account, the man obtained $27.61 worth of merchandise and disappeared.

The man sought was able to open the account after he gave Stephenson's credit references and a checkup on the references showed Stephenson's credit standing to be excellent. The alleged fraud was discovered when Stephenson received a bill for the money owing and contacted store officials to learn why he had been billed since he had no account at the store.

New Naval Film
Starts Tomorrow

Coming to the Broadway tomorrow is Warner Brothers' latest film dealing with the United States navy, "Wings of the Navy." The title of this thrilling drama of the air, which was directed by Lloyd Bacon, who will be remembered for his successful direction of "Submarine D-1," "Here Comes the Navy" and "Devil Dogs of the Air" George Brent, Olivia de Havilland and John Payne form the romantic triangle of the picture with the comedy sequences being handled to perfection by Frank McHugh. Much territory was covered by the company in filming the picture, first it was a trip to the naval air training station at Pensacola, Fla., then to the naval air base at San Diego and ending up at the Sawtelle soldiers' home.

The second feature, which also has its initial screening tomorrow is Paramount's dramatic story, "Disbarred," an exciting story of a super-clever "mouthpiece" who tries to transfer his technique to a young girl when he himself is barred from practicing law. Gail Patrick plays the part of a brilliant young Portia, while Otto Krueger is that of a shyster attorney. Robert Preston, a newcomer to the screen who is a graduate of the famous Pasadena Playhouse, plays opposite Miss Patrick.

Ending tonight is that entertaining story of the French music halls, "Zaza," co-starring Claudette Colbert and Herbert Marshall, along with George O'Brien's latest western, "Lawless Valley."

Police Officers
To Meet Tonight

Members of the Southern California Association of Fingerprint officers, who met here last month as guests of Police Chief Floyd W. Howard, will meet tonight at the Ontario hotel as guests of C. J. Shipp, head of the Ontario police identification bureau.

Officers Hunter Leach, Richard M. Bradley and Herman Stahl of Santa Ana police and Deputy Sheriff Jay C. Decker will attend from Santa Ana. Sheriff Emmett Shay of San Bernardino county will be principal speaker. The organization has a membership among officers from Ventura to San Diego and vicinity.

CRUELTY CHARGED. Mrs. Marie L. Lacade, of San Clemente, charged her husband, Frederick Lacade, with cruelty, in a petition for divorce, filed today in superior court. The Lacades wed in Bayonne, France, March 2, 1919, and separated last November 25.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE. Her musician husband treated her cruelly, Mrs. Gertrude H. Monan alleged today in filing suit in superior court for a divorce from Jack C. Monan. They married at Visalia in 1934 and separated last December 28.

MECHANIC GIVEN
90-DAY SENTENCE

W. R. Roberts, 39-year-old mechanic, of 2000 Cypress street, charged with whipping his wife with a belt and beating her, and threatening to break her neck and the necks of his four small children, was booked at county jail yesterday on an assault and battery conviction, to serve a 90-day term.

Police were called to the Roberts home twice on complaints of Mrs. Roberts, who alleged her husband had placed two hatchets in the house as a warning. On a drunk charge, Roberts was given a 30-day suspended term by City Judge Mitchell. On the assault and battery charge, Judge Mitchell gave him one year in county jail, suspending all but 90 days on condition that, after he is released, he will "treat your family as a father should."

Pan American
Gets New Clipper

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—(UP)—Pan American Airways' 74 passenger Atlantic Clipper, one of the world's largest transports, roared away at 10 a. m. today on the first leg of a flight to Baltimore, Md.

The giant, four motored flying boat headed for Astoria, Ore., where a landing will be made in the Columbia river and the plane formally delivered by the Boeing Aircraft Co. to Pan American.

Boeing's chief test pilot, Earl Ferguson, was at the controls on the Seattle-Astoria hop. Pan American's chief Atlantic division pilot, C.T.P. Harold Gray, will fly the clipper from Astoria south along the Pacific coast to San Francisco and then east to Baltimore.

Twenty men were aboard the plane, which is the second of six to be delivered by the Boeing plant to Pan American Airways.

Couple Married
In Las Vegas

BUENA PARK, Feb. 10.—Miss Irene Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lucas of Buena Park and James A. Wolford, son of Mrs. Molly Wolford of Burham avenue, were married at Las Vegas Saturday, February 4, by the Rev. J. Melton. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Mayfield of Fullerton. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stevens of Buena Park also attended the wedding. The bride wore a black tailored suit with white accessories.

The bride and groom are both well-known and popular young people of Orange county, both having graduated from Fullerton high school, the groom also having graduated from Fullerton Junior college.

The groom is employed by the H. Paulas Incorporated Molding company at Los Angeles. The young couple will make their home in Buena Park for the present.

GROSS TO GO HOME. Officer Chet Gross of Santa Ana police, who was injured January 9 while on his motorcycle en route to the scene of a minor accident, probably will be able to go home Sunday, according to reports. He is at St. Joseph hospital, recovering from badly fractured arm and cuts. He was injured on West Fourth street when his motorcycle and a truck collided.

JOURNEY HALTED. Two 15-year-old Santa Ana boys who wanted to be farmers in Kansas, had their journey to the Sunflower state interrupted in Anaheim at 6 a. m. today. "We planned to work on a farm belonging to relatives," one of them said. "We were running away because we thought we might be punished for playing hooky from school and we were going by freight train because we thought we wouldn't get picked up."

WOMAN APPREHENDED. A 43-year-old Santa Ana woman who was running along the street at Sixth and Main streets yesterday afternoon and shouting "at the top of her voice," was booked at county jail by Santa Ana police on a drunk charge.

SEEK SHOPLIFTER. A shoplifter who obtained a woman's suit and black coat, valued at $25.80, at the Nell Jane shop, 1107 West Fourth street, was sought today.

Legion Auxiliary
Asks Donations

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 10.—An appeal has been issued by Mrs. Mary Foster, president of the American Legion Auxiliary for donations of discarded articles as old silk or rayon stockings, glass ash-trays, cellophane, worn out tires and tubes, tooth brushes to be forwarded to Sawtelle Veterans' hospital, where convalescing soldiers convert the apparently valueless material into articles of use and ornament, proceeds from the sale of which go to providing small luxuries for the soldiers.

Such donations, in any quantity may be left at Fred Warman's Key Shop, on First street.

Berger Talks To Brotherhood

FULLERTON, Feb. 10.—Lewis E. Berger, associate of Clifford E. Clinton on the Los Angeles civic committee, and who was active in the recall election in that city which placed Judge Fletcher Bowron in office as mayor, spoke at the Fullerton Christian Men's Brotherhood banquet at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the church banquet hall.

Berger told of the work of the civic committee and commented on underworld political maneuvers in both Los Angeles and Orange counties.

SEAL BEACH PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENT

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 10.—Adopting a four-fold program for city improvement, members of the board of directors of the new Seal Beach chamber of commerce laid plans which will be launched officially at the next regular meeting of the body, February 17, when they met in special session at the city hall early this week. Beach improvement, with the construction of large brick ovens and the installation of picnic facilities for an estimated 800 persons at Tenth street and the beach front, with smaller ovens and equipment at other strategic locations, is to be the first project pushed by the booster club, Lee Benno, publicity chairman announced.

City beautification, advertising, and the placing of boundary line signs are other objectives to be accomplished immediately, in preparation for the pier dedication celebration to be held May 27.

Membership in the new organization is being solicited this week by members of the board of directors, assisted by Harry Adams and Postmaster Mike Collins. Chairmen of standing committees appointed by the board are advertising and publicity, Lee Benno; entertainment and sports, Neil Franklin; finance, Frank D. Moran; membership, all directors; civic affairs, J. C. Putnam; city beautification, F. D. Moran; building, housing and real estate, F. W. Hickman; industry, Fred P. Miller; merchant's division, J. C. Felts; petroleum, Fred P. Miller; beaches and parks, Lee Benno; Fred Meissen and Claude F. Miller; health and sanitation, J. C. Putnam; highways and traffic safety, Harold Hautlaire.

Fingerprinting Club Topic

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 10.—A talk on "Fingerprinting in the interests of the civilian identification project of the organization is scheduled for the Monday evening dinner session of the Newport Harbor 20-30 club. Local members are beginning to work here by fingerprinting the Scout troops. Ed Spicer and Lee Johnson are to visit the Newport Beach troop and Andy Wilson and Dick Torrence the Balboa Island troops this evening.

Committee chairmen appointments of the Newport group as confirmed at an executive board meeting this week are attendance, George Beddome; membership, Bill Neff; program and entertainment, Charles Fischle; finance, Frank Rowell; publicity, Dick Torrence; fellowship, Roy Lewis; house, Lee Johnson; historian, Andy Wilson, and sick, Judd Sutherland. Each chairman will select his own assistants. A number of new officers, also elected at the board meeting were Charles Fischle, vice-president; Judd Sutherland, sergeant-at-arms and Babe Charle, assistant.

C. E. Society In Annual Election

MIDWAY CITY, Feb. 10.—In the annual election of officers of the Christian Endeavor society of Midway City Community church Dick Miller was made president; Patricia Heath, vice president; Thelma Steen, secretary-treasurer. Chairmen as named included, program, Fern Meyer; membership, Lois Braybrook and Donald Hall; missionary, Mary Ellen Morgan; social, Doris Foley and Bob Enoch; pianist, Bob Pritchard; assistant pianist, Patricia Heath. Mrs. Fred Foley is the young people's counselor.

Plans have been made for the installation to be held next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock with W. O. Mendenhall of Santa Ana as installing officer. Special music will be on the program by a guitar trio composed of Ted Hazard, Dorothy Sork and Gordon Sork. Families and friends of the Christian Endeavorers are cordially invited to attend the service.

PATIENT IN HOSPITAL.

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 10.—Elaine Hazard, the eight months old daughter of Kenneth Hazard, is a patient at St. Joseph hospital where a mastoid operation was performed Wednesday morning. The babe came through the operation well, it is stated. She had been ill with an ear infection for some days prior to the culmination of the mastoid trouble.

ORANGE COUNTY POULTRY NEWS

HOBBY SHARED AT BERRY FARM

Diners at Knott's Berry place find much interest there besides the delicious chicken and ham dinners with real country gravy and delectable hot biscuits and jam.

Mr. and Mrs. Knott have developed a most interesting hobby and, instead of keeping the pleasures of it selfishly to themselves, they are sharing them with the visitors.

Attractive Setting.

Anyone who has visited Knott's Berry Place knows about the antique music boxes that tinkle their tunes in the pine-paneled waiting room. They have also seen the remarkable rock garden beyond the waiting room.

But they probably have not yet seen the new addition—a semi-enclosed room in antique finish in which is reproduced an exact duplicate of the fireplace in the kitchen of George Washington's Mt. Vernon home. Nor have they seen the oldest millstone in Los Angeles that came from England around the Horn more than a hundred years ago. After grinding grain for the early inhabitants of Los Angeles in an old mill only a few blocks from the present new Los Angeles Union Station, it now is proudly displayed in this new room at Knott's Berry Place.

Effective Display

To make the display more effective, Mr. Knott has built a small water wheel in one corner of the room and rigged up an accurate miniature grinding mill of the same type as that in which the old grinding stone was used.

Southern Californians will one day be astonished to know that they have among them a man who, like Henry Ford, is collecting interesting items of historical interest and making them available to all who will come to look.

AROUND THE YARDS

with "Chick"

Frank Jones, the chairman of the Poultry section of the Orange County Farm Bureau has informed me that he is trying to get Mrs. Anderson, the California State Chairman of the Poultry Department to talk at the next Poultry meeting in this county. This meeting should have the poultry people turn out in full force as Mrs. Anderson really has a fine lot of information to give that is up to the minute. These meetings are growing in attendance each month and much effort is being made by Mr. Jones to get fine talkers and fine programs arranged so the poultrymen will get the most worth while for the time spent at the meet. No matter how long one has been in the poultry business he or she can learn something more about the business. These programs are worth your while to attend.

One of the best per cent hatchability of eggs I have heard of this spring is that of Mr. T. Yamanouchi. The last two hatches have turned out over 90 per cent of good Single Comb White Leghorn chicks. For this early in the season this is a very good and shows that good care and feeding will give the results if one will spend the effort on his flock.

Mr. Albert Brown who lives one-half mile east of Cypress on Lincoln has started a complete new set of buildings on his newly acquired poultry ranch. Mr. Brown handles a flock of around 4000 birds and has one of the most up-to-date ranches in Orange county.

Mr. Sam Kobayashi who handles around 7000 White Leghorns in his flock has some of the best Leghorn-Minorcas crosses I have seen in the county. Good egg production and size is acquired in this cross.

Orange county has a very large production of broilers and fryers. Why could not the local Chamber of Commerce get busy and put on a show as told about in the following story from Arkansas, the week of January broiler and fryer plants on the Pacific coast are located in Orange County and any help by the local chamber would help this county.

Arkansas Broiler Show
Arkansas proposes to have a Live Broiler Show at Rogers, Arkansas, the week of January 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. It is claimed to be the first Live Broiler Poultry Show ever held.

The Knott Berry Place is one of the largest users of quality poultry in Orange county. Mr. Knott was telling me the first of this week that his eating place uses around 1800 fryers each month. These fryers are 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 pounds in weight. These are picked up at the poultry ranch by the Knott truck. It is the regular business of this department to select only quality poultry and the ranchers are under contract at a set price of this year to sell the fryers at 20 cents per pound. This way the rancher has something to count on and does not have to watch the market all the time to see if the price is going up or down. It is a regular business and the poultrymen who are in the business know of their market and build to that end with quality poultry. The chickens used are mostly reds but rocks and crosses are also used. The main point is the quality must be there and these ranchers are producing the poultry wanted. High quality of chicks are shown in hatchability and along this line I was talking to August Heinemann last week and he told me that so far this year he had been getting over 90 per cent hatch. Of course the care and feeding has a lot to do with this and all in all the things shows up in the demand and raising of these chicks. This hatchery has demands from other countries beside the U. S.

National Turkey Day has been celebrated the past two years on February 22, which is considered an appropriate date since this is the birthday of George Washington. It will again be celebrated this year and many organizations are planning to take part and push the expansion of the day.

The World's Poultry Congress spotlight of the month is on Robert S. Davis, a southern Indiana hatcheryman, who has purchased 300 Congress memberships. He feels strongly that all hatcherymen and breeders as well as hatchery flock owners should plan to attend this great poultry event.

In March 1921 the following item in Farm Journal indicates that flavor in eggs was a subject of discussion 18 years ago: "Feeding flavor into eggs," says the item, "may seem a foolish thing to talk about, but nothing is more sure than that eggs may be spoiled or made delicious by quality of food given." This just reminds us that feed making firms have for years been stressing quality in eggs as being directly proportional to the quality of good feeds given.

Farm Bureau Favors Program

At the recent American Farm Bureau Federation convention in New Orleans, a session was held of special interest and devoted to poultry problems.

This was attended by Prof. J. E. Rice and by O. M. Kile, Washington Representative of the I. B. C. A.

Resolutions were passed by this group asking an excise tax on imported egg products and also for research work on utilization of poultry by-products in connection with the new agricultural experimental laboratories.

It is good news to hear that the American Farm Bureau Federation will co-operate in helping secure these two needed legislative acts.

Rittenhouse Hatchery Opens New Up-To-Date Plant At Buena Park

The opening of the new Rittenhouse Hatchery, one of the largest and most modern hatcheries in California, takes place tomorrow. The owners Mr. William Rittenhouse, Mr. Clarence Rittenhouse and Mr. James Kennedy are well known in this part of the state as leading hatcherymen.

The new building is located at the corner of Manchester avenue and Western avenue in Buena Park. The beautiful new hatchery is one story and 80 feet by 105 feet with 9600 square feet of floor space. Modern in every respect with the latest modern equipment. The heating is done by automatic air conditioning equipment.

Install Incubators

Seven Robbins incubators have been installed with a capacity of 135,000 eggs. These modern hatching incubators are the latest thing in incubation and the heating is automatic controlled. The thermostats are so regulated that the temperature is controlled to a very small part of one degree. Both chicken and turkey eggs are hatched in these incubators.

The Rittenhouse Hatchery organization was started in Orange county in 1920 by Mr. William Rittenhouse at Costa Mesa. The business was increased to the present capacity by putting out of fine quality chicks and poulters and giving good service to the buyers both in the hatchery and on the poultry ranches. Several breeds of chickens are hatched including the Rhode Island Reds, Barred Plymouth Rock, Single Comb White Leghorn, crosses of the Rocks and Reds and crosses of the Rocks and Reds with the Cornish and the turkey poulters are the Bronze breed.

Perfect Condition

Starting in this small way a little over 18 years ago Rittenhouse Hatchery has grown into this modern plant which is now capable of hatching 135,000 eggs every three weeks.

More than 9000 head of breeding stock are used in getting these eggs and are under the direct control and management of the three men that own the hatchery. The proper mating, grading, culling and selection of foundation stock keeps the breeding flocks in perfect condition at all times. It is the pride of the hatchery that every personal attention is given the buyer of chicks and the efforts of years of experience is given gladly to all customers.

KNOTT'S BERRY PLACE

is very pleased over the fine growth of Rittenhouse Hatchery, which has made their great expansion necessary.

Many of the poultrymen who grow our friers get their chicks from this well known hatchery.

Congratulations

Quality Poultry for Home Fetes

The above picture is typical family scene in many homes of Orange county any time for the evening dinner. With quality poultry being produced here in this poultry area, more and more chicken and turkeys are being eaten than ever before. It used to be that chicken and turkey were reserved for Thanksgiving and Christmas but people now are enjoying them the year around. Fryers, broilers, roasters, hen turkeys and tom turkeys are being put on the market in a steady line to your table the year around. With such quality one can afford the poultry meat along with other types of meat in their weekly meals. The poultry producers of Orange county are producing this quality produce for you.

PULLET HAILED AS 'HEN OF CENTURY'

Hen No. 35-6, a Kauder bred and owned White Leghorn, and entered as a pullet in the 1933-1934 Storrs, Connecticut Laying Test and for the next four years in the Vineland Hen Laying Test where she is now in her sixth consecutive years of production, has an official lifetime record up to September 30, 1938 of 1119 eggs which have scored 1170.75 points to become the "Hen of the Century."

Facts To Consider

Here are some facts to consider about this remarkable hen that will emphasize the greatness of the Kauder bird: The 1119 eggs were produced over a period of 60 months which would be 1818 days. This is an official world lifetime record in itself, but consider her remarkable five year record of 223 eggs average for 234.25 points and her fifth year production of 200 eggs and 212.45 points—there is a record that has never been equaled, and thanks to the Vineland Test, this station has made

"THE EGG BOWL"

Eat Eggs for Vitality

Eggs furnish protein in a very efficient form. This protein is readily utilized in the body for growth or repair. The egg yolk contains the important vitamins A, B and G, and is an outstanding source of vitamin D. The very important minerals, iron, calcium, and phosphorus are found in the egg yolk in such form as to be readily assimilated. The egg yolk being one third fat is capable of digestion in the stomach.

This week's recipe:

Coddled or Steamed Eggs

1. Butter ramekins, cups, or a baking dish. Break each egg carefully into a saucer and slip the egg into the dish for cooking. Season with salt and paprika, and dot with butter.

2. Place the ramekins or baking dish in a pan of boiling water and cook, on top of the stove, until the whites are jellied, keeping the water below the boiling point. Have the water come two-thirds of the way up on the cups.

Note: Garnish baked eggs with parsley and paprika.

Baked or Shirred Eggs

1. Prepare the eggs as for coddled eggs.

2. Bake in a slow oven, 300 to 350 F., the baking dish set in a pan of hot water.

Eggs Baked in Cream

Prepare the eggs for baking. Add a few tablespoons of cream and sprinkle over the top a mixture of grated cheese and fine, dry bread crumbs. Bake.

Eggs Baked with Bacon or Link Sausages

1. Broil a trip of bacon to a golden brown over a slow heat and form it into a ring within the ramekin.

2. Break an egg into it, add 1 tablespoon of cream to the egg, season with salt and paprika, and bake.

3. Broiled link sausages may be used in place of the bacon, in ramekins or in a larger baking dish.

Eggs Baked in Milk
1. In a buttered baking dish, arrange dry bread crumbs or cubes of bread, in the form of little nests.

2. Into each nest, slip an egg. Almost cover with rich milk, season, and bake in a moderate oven 350 F., until the egg white is jellied, about 15 minutes. If more flavor is liked, add pieces of bacon on top.

Eggs Baked with Crumbs

1. Line ramekins with fine crumbs, seasoned and buttered. Use 2 tablespoons of butter or bacon fat to 1/2 c crumbs.

2. Slip an egg into each ramekin and cover with the crumbs. Bake.

There are, as of Oct. 1, 1938, 10,197 persons holding private pilot's certificates, and 159 glider pilots in the United States.

CITIES AS REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Not only the federal government, states and counties have found themselves in possession of large amounts of land as the result of tax foreclosures. Cities, too, have had to face this problem.

Every bit of land taken over by the city for taxes is a double loss. First, the city loses the direct tax revenue from the property. But it also loses indirectly because large amounts of tax-foreclosed land depress all property values.

Thus many cities have established real estate departments. Portland, Ore.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Sacramento, Calif.; Boston, Mass.; Buffalo, N. Y. and Des Moines, Iowa are among the leaders.

What they have accomplished has been summed up by the Municipal Officers' Association. Portland has sold 4150 lots and parcels of land for $2,100,000 and collected $400,000 in back taxes. Sacramento has sold 800 pieces of property for $500,000. Vero Beach, Calif., sells lots at especially low prices to those who will build houses on them. And so on.

The original foreclosures were a calamity. Those cities that have the wit to make the best of it and turn back land to productive use are showing brains and initiative.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

MARKS OF CONCEIT—HALITOSIS

Probably there never was a time in America when there were so many conceited persons as there are at present. If this be true, then it might be well to look into the matter as to what constitutes conceit. Conceit is like halitosis (bad breath) those who have it do not know it.

It seems to me that one of the ways of judging whether you are conceited or not, is whether you insist on dominating the lives of others—whether you are willing to try to coerce and force others—to do your will. Especially is this true when you, yourself are not willing to demonstrate, or attempt to demonstrate, the things which you are insisting upon other people doing.

Certain beliefs, confidence, faith and will power are necessary in any man, if he is to accomplish anything. And if he is willing to put his own time and energy in trying to do something in a different way than others and he does not try to force other people to do it, he can hardly be regarded as conceited, even if he has a very strong will in trying to do as he believes. But, on the other hand, the individual who insists on his will becoming the law of the land, who insists in coercing other people to do his will, to guide the lives of other people, to control their acts and to protect them from what he regards as mistakes, when he is not willing to demonstrate and when he invariably does this by getting into a position where he cannot be questioned and interrogated, then it is a pretty safe rule to put it down that this man is conceited.

One of the most common traits of a conceited person is his talking, not to inform or to entertain others, but to try to show how important and smart he is. And when his inconsistencies are pointed out he will not change his position, but invariably tries to change the subject or gets mad and indignant.

Invariably he is the kind of a person who refuses to discuss his holier-than-thou panaceas before any consistent thinker. He is always too busy. But he likes to talk to an unthinking group that will not question his fallacies, because that makes him appear important in comparison.

If he is in the common working class he invariably believes he is better than others and thinks he should not be obliged to compete with those who seek to do the same kind of work he is doing, but has the right to advance by competing with those doing more lucrative work than he is doing.

And where do we mostly find these people? We usually find them in the colleges, schools, churches, Sunday schools and in political offices, or those who hope for political office and labor union groups. These are the men who are invariably doing little themselves to better the condition of mankind, but insisting that they be given more and more power and be listened to and obeyed more and more. Anyone who dares to question them in their sheltered position is regarded as a problem and as an undesirable citizen.

In contrast to these men, probably the least conceited man who ever lived was Jesus Christ. He did not want to coerce or force his ideas on others. He realized that each individual must have the opportunity to make decisions as free as possible from coercion. But not so with these men who get themselves in positions that they can lecture and talk and cannot be interrogated. They are so well satisfied with their own wisdom that they do not even believe they are obliged to explain how they would carry out what they advocate.

Our worst problem is our conceited people who would be leaders by the force of the majority vote and will not teach by precept, by example, and by doing, but insist on others doing things that they themselves will not attempt to do.

It might be well for us all to do as Socrates admonished, "Know thyself" by analyzing our motives and see if we have "halitosis" of the brain.

COMMONPLACE COURAGE

Spectacular acts of high courage in the face of death have been much in the news of the last few weeks. Headlines told of seamen transferring men and women from a sinking ship by taking a hundred-to-one chance in launching a lifeboat in mountain high, hurricane-whipped seas; of another disaster in which men and women clung to wreckage, singing to cheer one another, while three of them were devoured by sharks, before rescue came.

Now we learn of another episode in courage—not on the high seas nor in raging tempest, but in the quiet confines of Stanford University campus. The news is simply that three young scientists have perfected a radio instrument that is immensely better and more dependable than any previous equipment for ultra short-wave transmission. The device will serve faultlessly, fellow scientists say, in providing aviation with a "spotting" beam for unerring navigation in fog and storm, and steamships with a new safeguard against blind-running ashore.

The life saving benefits of such a research triumph are limitless. Limitless too, the courage and faith that made the invention possible. Those scientists—Sigurd Varian, who gave up his job as trans-Pacific flier to help; his brother Russell Varian, Stanford researcher, and William W. Hansen, physics professor—told so endlessly and enthusiastically on their dream that Sigurd Varian was forced to bed with tuberculosis—to rise undaunted, six months later, and renew the struggle.

There is the courage of the spectacular and the dramatic. And there is the equally fine courage of such men as these young California scientists—the courage of the commonplace, the fight behind the scenes against disheartening odds. Because of those men, fewer heroic sacrifices of life in air and water transportation disasters will be necessary. All honor to them.

LET'S GO FARTHER

William Allen White, the sage of Emporia, Kansas, hadn't been in California many hours before he complained that he had a difficult time buying a drink of orange juice in this state.

White might have gone even farther than that and repeat what thousands of visitors to California have said time and again: "Why can't we buy just as good oranges here as we do back East?"

It's a question that the average layman can't answer. The grower, the packer or the shipper might answer it, but we haven't heard it to date.

It would seem that the state of California, famous over the entire world for its oranges would stress citrus fruit on the mind of the visitor to such an extent that he would be orange conscious forever more. It seems strange that wherever you see oranges, navels or valencias, exhibited in California, they are not the best grade. Thousands of oranges can be seen on the stands. Thousands are purchased, but they are far from those we know back East.

Christmas back East was not Christmas unless the toe of your stocking bulged with a huge orange. Did you ever try to buy one like it in California? Were you successful? Chances are you were disappointed time and time again. Back East oranges sell for as high as 60 cents or more a dozen. Visitors in California would gladly pay the same price here for the same kind of an orange. But he can't find them.

As William Allen White intimated, California is missing a good bet and a fine chance to advertise its greatest asset. True it's a revelation to the visitor to see acre after acre of golden oranges growing on the trees. But there's a far cry from the orange on the tree and the kind you buy at your grocer and the roadside stand.

The Nation's Press

A SCANDALOUS NOMINATION
(N. Y. Herald-Tribune)

The more the record of Thomas R. Amle is studied the more incredible his nomination by President Roosevelt becomes. Testimony before the Senate Interstate Commerce sub-committee showed that he had for long been an ardent advocate of the socialization of the railroads. So he himself admitted on the stand. Since neither the nation nor Congress has accepted the principle of public ownership and operation of these vital utilities, and the I. C. C., with the roads, is still struggling to save private ownership, the value of Mr. Amle's services would seem to be considerably less than nothing.

On the front page of this morning's Herald Tribune appears further evidence of Mr. Amle's extreme radicalism that makes his nomination a public scandal. In recent years Mr. Amle has taken a position within the scope of constitutional action. He has urged the piecemeal achievement of socialism by the ballot and the enactment of laws in execution of the voters' will. But in 1933 and 1934 he took a far more extreme view. In the article appearing in the magazine "Common Sense" he

EDITORIAL ON EDITORIALS

(From the South Dakota Rural Press & Print Shop)

Now and then we hear that newspapers have lost prestige in the matter of swaying public opinion. We hear that editors of today lack the color, the logic or leadership which attracted the people to them in yesteryears.

Editors of today do not need to cringe before these accusations. They do not fill their editorial columns with unbridled attacks on the appearance, family life and personal history of their business competitors nor of their political opponents. Editorial writers of today have more useful tasks to perform in their editorial columns than administering printed tongue-lashings to people and things not in agreement with their own beliefs.

Every editor should consider it his responsibility to present to his readers all the facts he can muster on any particular controversial problem, and, provided he can become sufficiently informed to manage an intelligent appraisal of the subject, attempt to point out to the best of his ability, a sound and sane procedure of action.

But when a publisher or editor refuses to face such issues, to inform himself thereon, and attempt to set before his readers an intelligent interpretation of those facts because of the fear of hurting his business, or for any other reason, he is placing himself in a questionable position.

In the main, newspapers of today are run as business institutions, beholden to no political creed nor any type of program. It is the duty of every newspaper to stand up and defend the rights of its readers and of its community. If every newspaper would or could do this, it would put an end to the idle talk about the loss of prestige by the press.

Wouldn't This Be More Practical?

Fair Enough

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—It isn't too late for all fair-minded, right-thinking Americans to wire James Farley a protest against his decision to honor baseball as the American national game in another of his gala issues of postage stamps. This is a gross misrepresentation and a brutal injustice to the true national game of the country and the preference of the vast majority. The true American national game is not played with any sort of ball, whether stuffed with kangaroo fuzz or wind, not with any bat, either, although in some versions, under formal conditions, a sort of rake is used which is called a stick.

The name game of the U. S. A. is played with two small cubes, each bearing on its sides from one to six dots. It is played by Americans of both sexes and all races, and it is no exaggeration to say that its devotees outnumber the ball players and baseball spectators by at least 100 to 1. Indeed, it may be assumed that because they are Americans all ball players and spectators also play occasionally the game of craps, which was so far the favorite of the American Expeditionary force that baseball, football and boxing were looked upon as mere peculiarities of a few eccentrics.

This is a sport which requires neither youth, acreage, plant nor large teams, but may be and is played on army blankets, on little bare patches of ground in alleys, on tables and on the floors of mansions and penthouses. It has been played in the very White House itself, and under the dome of the national capitol, repository of the sacred if slightly moth-eaten heritage of our liberties. It is a great institution, the only perfect American equalizer except death, the only game at which southern white boys forget sometimes their aloofness toward colored Americans and join them down on their knees in the spell of sport.

It is a game which Americans can and do play with their mothers and grandmothers; it is instinctive sometimes breaking into action at the mere suggestion of a pair of dice rolled out on a table in stag or mixed company. Its rules, terms, protocol and probabilities are familiar to more persons than their constitutional rights, and it contains no infield fly rule.

No less than baseball, whose famous finesse has not been overstated, the game of craps presents marvels of subtlety and skill when played by experts, wherein the hand is quicker than the eye and the sand-lot sucker has no more chance than a second string high-school pitcher against the New York Yankees. It has been carried around the world in the tourist quarters and forecastles of ships, and it may be played by the sick and lame as well as by the athlete. One never retires from the game of craps. One always comes back, some time.

Necessarily, of course—for the true national game of the United States is, ironically, illegal—the great stars of this sport have been denied their due fame, but if Mr. Farley will agree to do the right thing I will poll the historians of Atlantic City, Saratoga and other half-dozen of the best. From these he might select one for the honor of being pictured on the stamp which he proposes, although it would seem more fitting to adopt a poetic design, such as two fives, a combination as 10 the hard way, suggesting the American's will to do big things, or

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Editor Register: In your issue of Feb. 7, E. Beamer takes you to task for your editorial "Socialism in Nebraska." And after defending collectivism in power generation and distribution ends the article with this sentence: "The little country of Sweden might give us some valuable points along this line."

So it does. I have recently read a book on the subject, written by Prof. Marquis W. Childs, "Sweden the Middle Way." We may rest assured that the professor like most academicians leaves nothing out favorable to socialism and much out unfavorable to it. On page 80 he says, after telling of rural cooperatives who buy from the government and distribute to their members, "under this rate (industrial) the average cost of a kilowatt hour of energy to the society in 1932 was approximately one and three-fourths cents." Not long since I was studying the financial statement of the Southern California Edison Co. The average price charged by the company to municipalities who wish to distribute power to their citizens was only one third the Swedish governmental price to cooperatives.

I happen to be president of several mutual water companies. The price we pay for energy to this section of economic royalty is just over one half as much as the Swedish price.

The individual farmer in Edison territory if he wishes power for his pump can buy it far cheaper than Sweden charges as a wholesale rate to cooperatives.

In addition it might be well to remember that water power is abundant in Sweden and scarce in California, that labor to construct and operate hydro-electric plants costs only one-third as much there as here and finally (a thing the professor was at pains to conceal) the government owned business makes no contribution in the form of taxes. Sweden indeed!

I should dearly love to meet an advocate of socialism who would "tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth." I would wireless Diogenes.

THIRD PRIZE ESSAY

Editor's Note: The following is the third prize article in the Senior group as to "What Is A Reasonable Profit?"

What is a Reasonable Profit?

The profit that the enterpriser or capitalist should get for his services to society is a broad, vital, and complicated question. The breadth of the question is limited only by the bounds of human industry. It is a vital question because on its right solution hinges the success or failure of the nation.

It is a complicated question because of the vast variety of services that people are willing to pay for, or would be willing to pay for if the value or desirability of the service were made known. The answer is further complicated when we consider the fickleness of society's desires along certain lines due to the fact that modern society is a slave to rapidly changing styles and conventions.

The three most important factors to be considered in the correct solution of this question are Capital, Labor, and Government.

Capital is entirely of a material nature. It may be classified under three headings: money, land, and equipment. It may be either owned by the enterpriser or rented, borrowed or hired, for his project.

Government here refers to the great army of agents hired by the voters of the country, or appointed by those so elected, to perform some necessary and some unnecessary public duties. In this particular case the only necessary duty of Government is to see that good faith and fair-play prevail in the conduct of Capital and Labor.

Democratic Government such as we are supposed to have, should not be bought, hired or owned by any individual, or organization of individuals, short of the entire body politic.

The very fact that Government has and does, with sometimes big and sometimes little persuasion, sell out to both Capital and Labor makes it impossible for honest competition and the natural law of supply and demand to function normally, throwing industry into chaos; and making honest profits very uncertain if not impossible.

Society as a whole is still willing to pay for desired services, especially if there is no other fairly safe means of obtaining them. Although there is a growing feeling that the few who work and save the most should freely help provide for the many who work and save the least. Naturally society buys its services from the lowest bidders. Keep honorable, but otherwise unrestricted competition tends to reduce the costs of commodities and give society better service for less money. It is this wholesome natural competition that has developed and made obtainable to modern society all the comforts and services that it enjoys today. And it is this same competition that will improve these we now enjoy and develop new and better services.

It is only just that the winning competitors should be well rewarded. It is not only just but it is essential to further improvement and advancement. If some enterprisers apply more intelligence and

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Behind the scenes the inner White House circle still is hopefully trying to get AFL and CIO moguls together for a peace conference. Latest plan is for the President to invite the warring laborites to renew negotiations.

To prepare the ground for such a move Secretary Frances Perkins, with Harry Hopkins and Frank Murphy, who are liked in both camps, have been sounding out the rival leaders. The response so far has been wary but not discouraging.

Real inside is that with a few exceptions most of the leaders privately would like to bury the hatchet and make up. This is particularly true of state and local leaders. Both organizations are in serious financial straits, and the rank-and-file is fed up with the costly fighting.

The problem is how to get the big shots together. They have called one another every printable epithet, so that face-saving is a very important matter. An invitation from the President might turn the trick, and Roosevelt has told Miss Perkins he will issue one if she can get assurances in advance from the feudists that they will accept it.

Barcelona's Fall

Gradually the real facts regarding the fall of Barcelona are trickling out. It was always known that the Loyalists were outnumbered and out-equipped, but how severe were the handicaps against them has just been realized in Washington.

Here is a tabulation of Franco's armament compared with the Loyalists:

	Francisco Loyalists
Field guns	1,500 500
Planes	800 86
Tanks	320 86

Furthermore, whenever Franco lost equipment it was replaced almost immediately, being delivered by German warships which entered Spanish ports without any international restriction.

Meanwhile the Loyalists were receiving absolutely nothing from France. Since June the border has been shut tight in compliance with the French pledge of non-intervention. Only medical supplies arrived from France.

Loyalists Fight

Compared man-for-man, American observers report the Loyalists as having the better army. Originally the Spanish government had no army, most of the regular army having been taken over by Franco when the officers deserted to him.

Gradually, however, the Loyalists built up a new fighting force. The troops were self-trained, but in encounters where they had any real equipment, they made Franco's Italians look like repetition of the Battle of Caporetto.

During the advance on Barcelona, one Loyalist brigade performed the miracle of holding off Franco for 35 days without fresh ammunition, food or supplies of any kind. Living on "iron rations," they retreated inch by inch, using as little ammunition as possible, until they were fighting with their bare hands.

Finally they crumpled. It was shortly after this that Barcelona fell.

Under the Dome

When Vice President Jack Garner wants to talk "off the record" he says, "This is strictly official."

Representative J. Thorkelson of Montana is rapidly attaining the unenviable distinction of being the clown of this year's batch of rookies. In the five weeks he has delivered four long speeches, lecturing the House on the Constitution, the gold standard and silver.... Although the Bankhead brothers came from the same town in Alabama and both profess to be administration supporters, they went entirely different ways on the relief issue. William, Speaker of the House, voted for the President's $875,000,000 budget; John, the Senator, against it.

Dies Secrecy

The President may be against the Dies Committee, but here is how he recently rewarded a lady who conspired with the Dies Committee.

The lady is Mrs. Ellen Woodward, once glamorous Mississippi widow, until recently in charge of WPA's art projects—Federal Theater, Federal Writers, Federal Art, Federal Music.

In charge of the Federal Writers' project under Mrs. Woodward was Henry Alsberg, one of the most conscientious of WPA executives. In one of his jobs, putting unemployed newspapermen to work writing the State Guides for WPA, he dealt with all types of men, some Communists, some the opposite, some pitiful derelicts of humanity.

In view of this, Alsberg had to be alert for improper copy. But Mrs. Woodward, apparently not trusting him, took the amazing course of sending a stooge, Mrs. Louise Lazelle, to testify before the Dies Committee in executive session against the WPA project which she, herself, was directing.

Mrs. Lazelle, who had been editing copy for the State Guides, told the Dies Committee that in her opinion Alsberg had shaped the material for propaganda purposes against business and industry, and against the Government itself.

Alsberg had no knowledge of this testimony when the secret session was held. Some time later, he was given a chance in rebuttal. But his statement was not printed in the committee report, whereas Mrs. Lazelle's statement was quoted in full.

Shortly after this Mrs. Woodward, who had not dared make a face-to-face complaint to her own subordinate, was promoted by Roosevelt to the Social Security Board.

When The New York World-Telegram broke the story, three independent investigations of the activities of Federal Judge Martin T. Manton were going on, one conducted by the newspaper, one by District Attorney Dewey, and one by the Justice Department.

The confidential file on Manton in the Justice Department for a year back contained all the amazing information made public. But nothing was done about it. The year dragged by and no one in the Justice Department moved a finger.

Just after Christmas, however, Frank Murphy was made Attorney General. One day later he called for a report on all unfinished cases before district attorneys throughout the country. In this report he found the confidential file on Judge Manton.

Murphy got busy immediately. First, he conferred with Justice Stone, the Supreme Court member who is in charge of the New York Circuit Court. Then he went up to New York and called Judge Manton to see him.

"Judge," he said, "I've been hearing all sorts of rumors about you. Everyone else has been discussing them, so I see no reason why the Attorney General shouldn't discuss them with you."

Judge Manton flushed, maintained there was nothing in the rumors, resisted any suggestion that he resign. Murphy insisted, however, and before he left, he had Judge Manton's resignation in his pocket, though not effective until several days later when the grand jury investigation was over.

Newspaper Exposure

This was on Wednesday. Murphy's conference with Manton caused great speculation in New York legal circles. By Friday The New York World-Telegram broke the story on the basis of information it had been gathering for more than a year. Three days later Manton's resignation was announced.

Note—The new Attorney General does not plan to let Manton slide out with a mere resignation. Propped up in bed with a case of flu, Murphy has been on the telephone directing the investigation into Manton's affairs with a view of prosecution.

Recreational activities are also included in occupational treatment.

Industrial projects are used to help re-establish the patient as a productive, responsible member of society by utilizing the industrial resources within the hospital itself for occupations suited to his working ability.

Let us see how occupational therapy can be helpful to an injured workman. Here is a man whose hand was badly cut. The wound may be healed, but the fingers are still stiff and the tendons which move the fingers may be bound down as the result of infection and lack of use. He might get a great deal of benefit from weaving, using a small hand loom and shuttle of a proper size to fit his grip.

Every patient must be studied, however, to pick out for him a job that is suitable to his particular disability. This is where the training of the therapist shows its worth.

Here's How Occupational Therapy May Be Helpful to the Injured

The occupational therapist uses creative arts and crafts which can readily be adapted to the needs of the bedridden and convalescent alike. These stimulate a patient's interest in something other than himself. Because of the physical motion involved, they can be made to provide scientifically planned exercise for impaired muscles or joints.

Educational programs are planned from the most elementary, which are used for children, to lectures, organized reading, extension courses in school and college work and training along pre-vocational lines to stimulate healthy mental processes. Such programs make time spent in convalescence profitable not only physically, but culturally.

They are especially valuable in tuberculosis sanatoriums and to a growing extent also in homes for the aged.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Forlornly, Susie recalls her only date with Dick, the kiss in the dark. Had he not been so kind she might not have loved him.

CHAPTER V

SUSIE, crouching in the dark, with the sweet, earthy smell of Dick's violets filling the room, resolutely went on, remembering the black day after the Delta Phi party. Not often had she allowed her mind to reconstruct the hated details. At first she had only been aware of pain and an overwhelming shame, later she had tried not to remember. Tonight, in a vague way, she was burying her dead, with Dick's flowers to ease the sad rites.

On that day after the party, thrilled with the thought of Dick's kiss, with her first taste of living like other girls, she had gone on duty at the waffle shop shortly before noon. Busily she whipped up her batter and baked an endless number of golden brown cakes. From head to foot she throbbed with weariness, a pulsing, nervous weariness.

The waitresses had greeted her with a volley of questions. How was the party? Had she enjoyed it? Was Dick a good dancer? Who was there? Glowingly, Susie related the details, embellishing them a bit as she went along. Proudly she displayed the compact, minutely she described the food. Their interest and awe served to push her elation to a new high. While convincing them she had reassured herself.

She went about her work in pleased retrospection. Perhaps her hair hadn't looked so bad. Perhaps Dick had not noticed her fumbling dancing. Had he not danced with her constantly, even urging her to stay? Did not that constitute what the college girls called a whirl? Susie's thin line of lips softened, almost smiled.

At two o'clock, when the noon crowd had thinned, Susie took two waffles, a jug of syrup and one of honey, four bacon curls and a cup of coffee to a corner booth. She sat with her back to the shop. Eating slowly to prolong the restful interval she scarcely noticed that two girls entered the booth behind her. Deep in dreams she was startled by her own name.

"Where's Susie?" one of the girls asked.

"Probably sleeping off her wild debauch," the other remarked, a thread of laughter running through the words. Did you ever see anything so screamingly funny as Susie was last night?"

"Positively never. She bulged out of her dress at every conceivable point, if you can find a point about Susie. She was a riot if I ever saw a riot."

During this conversation Susie's brows had drawn even more darkly over her eyes, the pleased uplift of her lips straightened. Little cats. Let them talk. She hadn't gone to the party to please them. No doubt they were jealous. Dick was the best-looking and most popular freshman on the campus. So ran her sinking thoughts.

The voices went on. "Poor old Dick. I'll bet my next month's allowance that he never put in such an evening."

"Well, that's what he gets for being a pledge. Bill, a senior you know, thought up the idea of making Dick date Susie for the party. He said Dick argued himself hoarse before giving in. Imagine—Dick Tremaine and Susie, the waffle queen!" The young voice dwindled to a musical tinkle.

"And he had to take every dance," the other voice added, quite hilarious. "Did you see her clumping around, walking on his feet, falling all over him?"

Susie was no longer eating her waffles. With heart pounding, with shamed, furious tears choking her, she sat rigid, listening. She felt bruised and cut as her pathetic dream castle tumbled around her bowed head. But there was still more.

"Did you hear what Dick did when Bill commanded him to kiss Susie on the way home?"

"Kiss Susie!" It was an astounded hoot. "What did Dick do?"

"He absolutely refused, tore off his pledge pin and said the Delta Phi could go to the devil. Bill backed down since he was taking no chances on losing the most eligible pledge of the season."

THE two girls giggled and talked on while Susie sat on the other side of the thin partition, sick with shame, angry with a beaten inferiority. She made no move, no sound, until the girls had gone. She sat still, suffering, crying out at the fates, hating the fates, hating herself for a witless fool. And above all she hated the Delta Phi for having forced this humiliation on Dick and on herself.

Susie had never been happy, she had come to expect little of life. Until Dick Tremaine grinned at her and made his polite little bow she had been mildly content. She had had pride in her work, a certain enjoyment in small daily happenings.

Now all that was changed. For a brief interval she had known joy. Now her loneliness and mental position had been used by a group of more fortunate individuals to carry out a horrible joke. For the first time in her life Susie faced deliberate, hideous unkindness. With little confidence to go on she shivered under the blow. She was scorched with bitterness, sullen anger chilled her blood, cruel disillusionment blurred what little color there had been.

At last Susie arose from the booth. Piling her dishes she carried them to the kitchen. She walked slowly, heavily. Stunned, numb with pain, ashamed, she broke eggs, measured flour and sugar and milk. Of Dick she thought with a frantic helplessness. Even then she felt no blame for Dick.

When he came in that afternoon he stopped short before swinging to his accustomed stool. At once he knew that somehow Susie had learned the truth.

"Hello, Susie," he said gently, sorry for her.

"Hello, Dick." He had kissed her last night, she had made him kiss her. The humiliation of it now hurt like a searing flame.

Dick only ate two bites of his waffle that day. He lingered, drinking coffee. At last he stood up uneasily and she picked up his dishes.

"Susie," he said, "will you go to the movie with me tonight?"

"No," she answered in a small, strangled voice. But she smiled at him and the hurt was a little easier and the bud of love in her heart blossomed into a full-blown flower.

All that had been almost four years ago. And now Dick had gone away, never to return. Before going he had said he was sorry, he had sent violets. Rousing, Susie touched the violets. Her face was wet with tears. Through all the years Dick's smile, his small, casual attentions had kept the flower of love alive. It would have been far better for Susie if he had blasted the bloom with indifference, but she would not have had it so. Not for worlds would she have exchanged the misery of loving Dick for the old contentment.

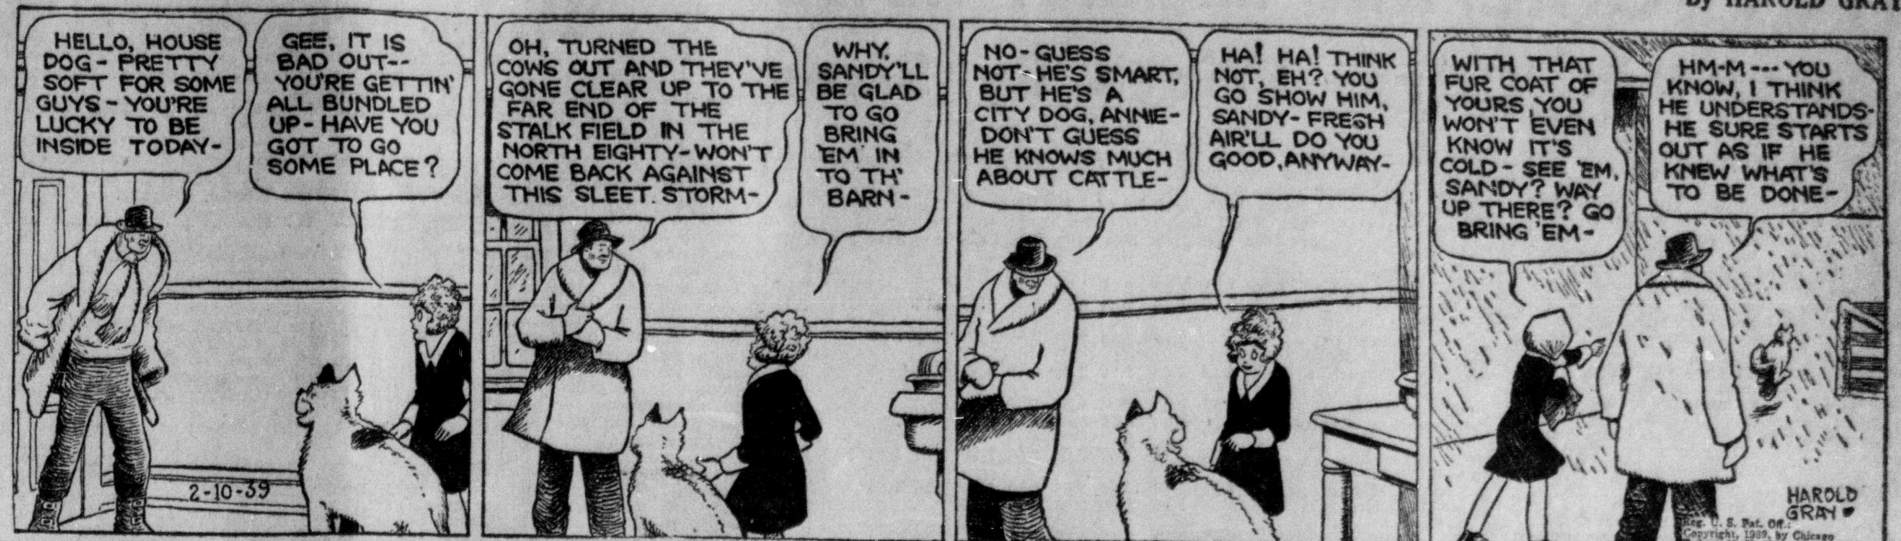

In a mad desire to reach him she had read books on personality and charm, had dieted for ten days and gained two pounds, had tried her hair different ways and taken exceptional care of her hands. Singing for an indifferent professor she had thought of Dick, the dream of him enriching her voice. And it had led her where? To this night when she must pick up the threads of a beaten life. It was in this mood that Susie wept over Dick's violets, that she moaned again, "I'd give my hope of heaven, I'd give my life to be beautiful."

New York Stocks | Citrus Prices By Sizes

New York, Feb. 10.—(U.)—Prohibitory influences restrained trading on the stock market today and prices moved irregularly despite many favorable business news items.

Bondist ruffed down although U. S. government bonds were generally advanced. Grains and cotton were about steady while other commodities eased.

Retail and wholesale trade reports featured favorable news development.

Retail was 1 to 7 per cent over a year ago. Wholesale trade gained 3 to 5 percent as compared with the 1935 week.

The U. S. Steel corporation reported January shipments at $89,305 tons, the best for a January since 1931, with the exception of 1929.

Automobile production this week at $4,500 cars and trucks, against $4,400 last week and $7,410 in 1935.

February 10, 1939

Citrus prices realized in the Eastern auction markets today furnished through courtesy of the Orange County Fruit Exchange.

Market is about steady.

"Sunset" brands of NAVEL oranges were reported to the California Fruit Growers Exchange, as follows:

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(UP)—Wheat prices turned downward on the Chicago board today after a day of early firmness based on a severe cold wave in the grain belt and good cash wheat demand.

Scattered covering in the final hour steadied prices around previous closing levels, and at the close wheat was unchanged to up % cent, corn unchanged to off % cent, and oats off % to % cent.

CONTRALTO TO GIVE CONCERT

The Orange County Concert Series has announced as its next attraction a song recital by Kathryn Meisle, distinguished American contralto of the Metropolitan Opera company this evening at Santa Ana High school auditorium.

Miss Meisle can sing equally well such widely different types of music as Wagner and Bach, as Brahms and Verdi, it was stated. She has been called "America's own contralto." A Philadelphian by birth and education, she received all of her musical training in this country. She has been engaged time and again as soloist by the Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Detroit, Cleveland, New York and other Philharmonic symphony orchestras. The National Federation of Music Clubs voted her an honorary life member in recognition of her "outstanding work and brilliant career as an American artist." Two years ago the University of Southern California honored her with the degree of doctor of music.

OVER THE TRANSOM

Purely a woman's affair will be the entry of the Laguna Beach Community Players in the one-act play tournament scheduled for April in Santa Ana. "The Devil on Stilts" won out in the Laguna elimination contest over "Her Majesty, the King," and "Poky," all directed by Miss Marjorie Williamson. Members of the cast of the winning production are Barbara Forst, Dorothy Pilling and Katherine Johnson.

Long may it continue to wave the flag-keepsake of John Gill of Costa Mesa. Approximately two by three, the flag, made in 1904, and containing stars significant of the 45 states then in the Union, was his companion in France during the World war, and heralded the departure by train of the division of which Gill was a member, and their travels over the Atlantic. Gill displays a number of interesting photographs of the flag depicting its uses since its manufacture.

Novel Meal Is Easy To Prepare

Sausage jumbles are a new and tasty combination. Fresh pork sausage is formed into patties 1 inch thick and browned in hot skillet. Then each patty is topped by a thin slice of onion and a slice of tomato. Two strips of bacon are crossed and wrapped about each, the ends being fastened with toothpicks. These are baked uncovered in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. They are served with creamed potatoes.

WHEN MOTHER TAKES HOLIDAY, DAD OR CHILDREN TURN CHEF

BY EMILY CONKLIN

When mother takes a holiday, she sometimes leaves behind a rather bewildered family to eat a hasty cold or badly prepared meal.

The thought of their discomfort, things easy and interesting for them.

For Substitute Cook One good way to do this is for mother to arrange an entire meal and do some of the preliminary work.

A delicious and substantial meal which anyone would be proud to serve and which even a very young substitute cook can manage is pictured here. Sausage jumbles and creamed potatoes form the main dish. The sausage jumbles can be fixed ahead of time and left in the refrigerator, ready to be put into the oven. The cream sauce for the potatoes can be cooked, to be reheated in a double boiler.

For dessert, cooked fruit and cookies are at hand. A lettuce salad with French dressing will complete the feast.

Various casseroles fit neatly into these menus for dinners which mother can leave to be heated and served by her young "understudy." Potatoes can be put in the oven to be baked while the meat and vegetables are cooking in the casserole.

Stew Reheated
A stew may be prepared early in the day and left to be reheated. This will only enhance its good flavor.

Sausage jumbles are a novel dish which may be made ready for baking and stored in the refrigerator until the appointed time for baking.

Sausage Jumbles
1½ lbs. fresh pork sausage
2 large onions
3 tomatoes
12 bacon slices.
Form the meat into patties one inch thick. Brown and place a thin slice of onion and a slice of tomato ¾ inch thick on each meat patty. Cross two strips of bacon and wrap around each pile of tomato, onion and sausage. Fasten bacon strips with toothpick. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes.

Recently observed was the eleventh anniversary of the air express service in the United States.

Student's Petition

Very appropos at this time, since rumors of the hidden talent of Willard pedagogues are rampant following the recent faculty party, is the petition being circulated by Holly Blee and Joy Harris, eighth graders, to institute an annual assembly composed of, organized, and directed by members of the school faculty, and to be presented to all three grades of Willard.

"The petition now has 104 signatures and we are working towards 250. If it is accepted by the faculty, and the assemblies presented, I think it will be well worth our time and efforts," Holly declared.

School Purchases

This semester the craft classes will make articles with a new electric saw which the school has just purchased, affording many new projects for the pupils. Miss Helen Glancy, instructor, disclosed today. Among the many new projects that Miss Glancy plans to give the groups are sand blasters, when the pupils will make trays, salad plates, and glasses, and plaques of white sail boats on a blue linen background.

Varsityes Selected

The volley-ball varsities have been chosen, and only those girls who have turned out for every practice and are outstanding in this sport are eligible. Those included on the ninth grade varsity are Janet Coffing, Patricia Paul, Marilyn Bear, Betty Watts, Frances Nall, Janet McFadden, Kathleen Adams, Marjorie Garnett, Eloise Revell, Bernadine Curran, Barbara Brown, Ruby Shilston, Lucille Mendenhall, Eleanor Baesler, and Jo Hazel Stone.

The eighth grade members are Jacky Munson, Florence Fairbairn, Dorothy Brush, Maxine Bird, Helen Carpenter, Patsy Wright, Alpha Van Natta, Marjorie Burks, Verjean McCarthy, Holly Blee, and Betty Scheely. "These eighth and ninth graders are eligible for shields which are emblems of their good work," Miss Wyllis Anderson, girls' athletic instructor, remarked.

English Students

Personality notebooks, made as an outside creative writing project, by the 8x English class, under the direction of Miss Nellie Smith, who has followed the guide of the National English department, have just been completed.

Vivid pictures, original poems, stories, and photographs are put together in every book to tell the life story of each student, according to Mrs. Smith. These books are to be kept by the owners all their lives, as a remembrance of their childhood adventures and experiences.

Ninth Graders Learn

The ninth grade block five clothing class has been studying the art of dying and the girls have been practicing on some of their clothes. Miss Alberta Greene, clothing instructor, made known recently. The study includes what the dyes are made of, how to prepare them, how to make different colors with dye, and how to take dye out of garments. The girls have been dying dresses, bathing suits, blouses, and slacks different shades of blue, red, and green. According to Miss Greene, Mary Graupensberger, Beth Bryan, and Jessie Mae Miles are the three girls who have been doing the most in this line. Miss Green's other ninth grade clothing classes are starting this project this week.

Classes Enjoy Novel

The novel game of baseball, which takes about one hour for an inning, but otherwise is played on the same principle as outdoor baseball, has been enjoyed by the members of the L&W and L&E general science classes recently, according to Lowell K. Schmid, instructor. "This game, played like outdoor baseball, is used as a review for the students as well as making the work more interesting," he explained. These two groups have, in the past few days, handed in notebooks covering the quarter's work. Gertrude Roberts, Jean Louise Robinson, Trinidad Fernandez and Patsy Stearns' work was outstanding.

Halliburton Book

Richard Halliburton's "Second Book of Marvels," containing pictures, mostly photographs of the pyramids, sphinx, Taj Mahal, and the seven wonders of the world, is the newest addition to the Willard library, according to Mrs. Mabel Blee, librarian. There are many other pictures, with inscriptions explaining them, of the old world, and a story following the pictures about a Greek father who takes his son to see the seven wonders of the world. The library is already equipped with the "First Book of Marvels" and the Junior Library Guild books for the boys and the girls which arrive regularly.

In Providence, R. I., after reducing the absolute speed limit to 25 miles an hour, the city has the enviable record of having a highway death rate of 4.7 for the first six months of 1938; the average for cities of the same size is 14.9.

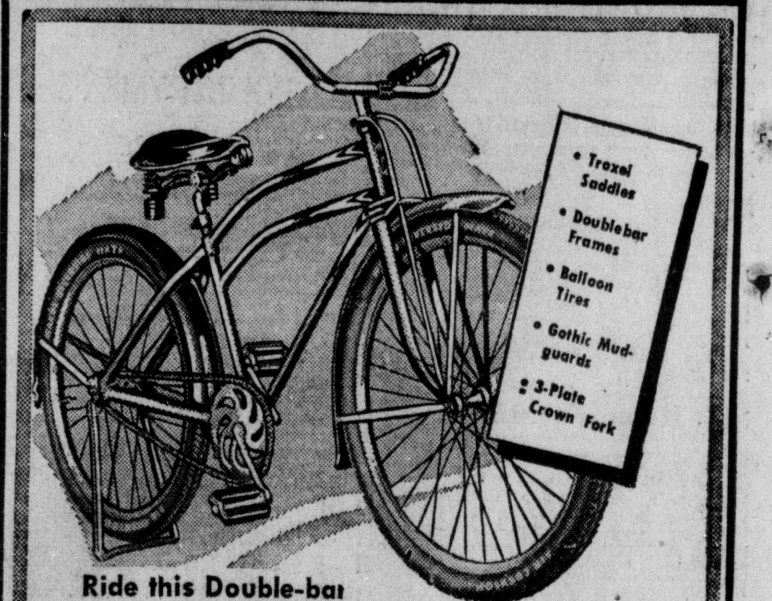

According to figures from 17 states, 58.9 per cent of all traffic is on main rural highways and connecting city streets, and less than 10 per cent of the total volume of traffic is on secondary and local roads.

When I say it's the FASTEST STARTING GAS I ever sold — I mean it!

I've been selling 76 for a good many years and my customers always say it's a swell gasoline for starting, but this winter they say it's better than ever.

And that's right in line with what the Company tells me. They've put more of the light, quick-vaporizing stuff in 76 that makes it "take hold" right now—makes it start as fast as a boy that's just seen six spooks in a haunted house.

So if your motor splutters on these cold mornings, come in and try Winter 76. Come in and try it anyway. I think you'll find it gets you going quicker.

And don't forget—76 is famous for mileage and anti-knock too.
